He was appointed a substitute call hoseman in 1916 and became a regular member of the fire department in 1918. He was promoted to Lieutenant in 1927. Schools Show Increase Over Last Year

Continue Lower Falls Kindergarten—Several Teachers Resign

The number of pupils attending Newton public schools has increased 134 over last year. This information was given to members of the Newton School Committee at their meeting on Monday night. Supt. of Schools Warren said that last year the attendance was 95 less than in 1934. He attributes the increase this year to a large number of new residents which have been erected in the Newtons the past 12 months.

Mr. Warren informed the committee that the kindergarten at the Hamilton School, Lower Falls, has been reopened. There are only 5 children attending this kindergarten and it was not opened at the beginning of the school year because of the inadequate expense of conducting a separate kindergarten for so few children. Alderman John Brocklesby of Ward 4 organized a protest meeting of Lower Falls residents at the Hamilton School a few weeks ago. Supt. Warren explained at that time that it would cost the city $300 extra for a teacher's salary if kindergarten sessions were held at the Hamilton School, whereas the few children could be transported to and from the kindergarten at Auburndale for $50 for the school year. It was subsequently learned that the transportation cost would be $250.

Hit-Run Driver Kills Cyclist

Samuel Kelly, 56, of 25 Milton st., West Newton, was fatally injured by a hit and run driver Saturday night at 7:10 on California st., Newtonville, near Woodrow ave. Mr. Kelly was taken to the Newton Hospital in the police ambulance and died at 1:17 Sunday morning. According to witnesses Kelly had a lighted lamp on his bicycle when he was hit. The hit and run driver of the car, after hitting Kelly, turned off the lights on the Ford sedan which struck the victim, and speeded away according to a witness, thus preventing anyone observing the registration numbers on the car. Police have pieces of a broken headlight which were gathered off the street at the scene of the killing.

Kelly was employed at the Wiggins Terminal, Charlestown. He was riding home on his bicycle when he was struck. He was thrown about 20 feet by the swiftly moving automobile, and the bicycle was demolished. Three months ago two boys riding on a bicycle were killed on California st. about a quarter of a mile from the scene of Saturday night's fatality. Kelly's death is the 11th so far this year in Newton caused by automobiles.

Mr. Kelly was born in Barre, Maine. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Hil-da (Osborn) Kelly; a daughter, Pauline Kelly; two brothers, and three sisters. His funeral service was held at his late home on Tuesday, Rev. Arnold of Beverly M. E. Church, a brother-in-law, officiated. Interment was in Mount Peake Cemetery, Waltham.

Refuse License To Italian Club

The Newton License Commission at its meeting this week refused the application of the Italian-American Political Club for a license to sell beer and wine at the dwelling house, 31 Jackson st., in the Thompsonville district of Newton Centre. The club has taken an appeal to the State Alcoholic Beverage Commission.

The first meeting of the newly organized Charles F. Hurley Club of Newton will be held at the Frank A. Day Junior High School on Crafts sts., Newtonville, on Friday, October 2, at 8 p. m.

Walter Slattery has been elected Chairman of the Club and Robert Allen, Secretary and Treasurer. Everyone interested in the candidacy of our State Treasurer is invited to attend the meeting. The meeting will be addressed by prominent local and State candidates, including the State Treasurer himself.

The first meeting will be devoted to organization and registration work. Plans are being made to establish headquarters of the club in the various sections of the city.

WPA Projects In Newton Held Up

Because of the failure of WPA officials to authorize a number of WPA projects in this city, for which applications were made several months ago, 133 men have had to be laid off of the WPA rolls in this city. This has resulted in many of these men and their dependents being returned to the relief rolls of the city welfare department. The sidewalk projects in Massachusetts are receiving prior consideration, apparently, over all other projects.

Appoint Election Officers

Mayor Childs has appointed Dudley P. Rhodes of 471 Woodward st., Waban, as a warden of Precinct 3, Ward 5, and Henry P. Bail of 1025 Walnut st., Newton Highlands, as Inspector at Precinct 2, Ward 5, to succeed Bradford Gove who declined an appointment. Both are Republicans and Bail was formerly an Alderman.

Newton M.E. Church Is Broken Into

Someone broke into the Newton Methodist Episcopal Church at Centre and Wesley sts., Newton, on Saturday and stole about $1 in pennies from a small bank in the Sunday School primary room. Greater damage was caused by the thief breaking several locks on doors while searching through the church structure.

Further Plans For Community Chest Campaign

Village Chairmen Announced; Banks To Audit Reports

The 1936 Campaign Organization of the Newton Community Chest, Inc., is rapidly building up, with greater number of personnel than ever before and far more elaborate plans, both for preliminary publicity and educational work and for solicitation during the period of the Campaign, Nov. 12th to 23rd.

Mr. Kenneth S. May, who made a fine record as Village Chairman in Newton Highlands in the 1935 Campaign and is an experienced campaigner, is the Chairman of the Residential Division, the largest Division of the Campaign. It handles the house-to-house solicitation and has a total enrollment of about 1,200 workers in all villages in Newton. Mr. John M. Bierer, of Waban, is his assistant.

Village Chairmen are as follows: Newton, Mr. George L. White; Nonantum, Mr. Charles Chasson; Newtonville, General Daniel Needham; West Newton, Mr. Robert A. Whidden; Auburndale, Mr. Winslow R. Howland; Newton Highlands, Mr. Theron B. Walker; Waban, Mr. H. J. Pettengill, Jr.; Oak Hill, Mr. Leslie Hawkridge; Newton Centre, Mr. A. Leslie Harwood, Jr. Village Chairmen for Lower and Upper Falls, Chestnut Hill and Waban Hill will be named very soon.

The various banks of the city have been most cooperative in the plans for the 1936 Campaign, stating unanimously that they believe it part of their service to the community. They have volunteered their offices or branches during the Campaign for Village Headquarters of the Residential Division and from the list of volunteers the following selections have been made: Newton and Nonantum, Newton National Bank; Newtonville, Newton Trust Company; West Newton and Newton Lower Falls, West Newton Savings Bank; Auburndale, Newton Highlands, Newton Upper Falls, and Waban the branches of the Newton Trust Company; Newton Centre, Oak Hill, Chestnut Hill and Waban Hill the Newton Centre Savings Bank.

All reports will be made to these various banks or branches each night of the Campaign. There all auditing work will be done and envelopes, cash, checks and pledges, with a report, sent to Campaign Headquarters the following morning. The Campaign leaders state that this will be of invaluable help in the work and have expressed their thanks and appreciation to all the banks who volunteered, but stating that it would not be possible to use every Newton bank and that they had made the foregoing selections as being the most feasible.

New Site For W. Newton School

At the last meeting of the Board of Aldermen on September 21 Alderman Guzzi of Ward 3 spoke on the alleged delay in selecting a site for the proposed new school at West Newton to replace the old Franklin School which is located on River st. Guzzi stated that there seemed to be a buck passing between the Mayor, Board of Aldermen and the School Committee on this matter. Subsequently, Mayor Childs stated that a site has been tentatively selected by the School Committee for the new school at West Newton and that City Solicitor Bartlett has been negotiating with the owner of the land relative to the price to be paid should the city purchase it. The Mayor said that if and when an agreement will be reached regarding the acquisition of this land, he will make a recommendation to the Board of Aldermen for its purchase, and that a public hearing will be held to enable West Newton residents to express their opinions on this site. Some residents of the district served by the present Franklin School desire the new school built on the same location. Others advocate a different site which would afford a larger area to provide proper playground facilities. It was proposed a few years ago that the new school be erected in the area North of River st., toward Cherry st., so that it would be conveniently located to the new residential sections in the vicinity of Farmer rd. and Taft ave.

Republican Hdqts. At West Newton

The Republican Ward and City Committee will open headquarters at 1278 Washington st., West Newton, early next week in the interest of Republican candidates on the National and State tickets. Literature will be distributed at these headquarters and information given regarding registration and other matters of interest to voters.

port, sent to Campaign Headquarters the following morning. The Campaign leaders state that this will be of invaluable help in the work and have expressed their thanks and appreciation to all the banks who volunteered, but stating that it would not be possible to use every Newton bank and that they had made the foregoing selections as being the most feasible.

THE FIRST STEP

The announcement that a site is being considered for the new school building to replace the present Franklin School is good news to the parents and children in that section of the city. While some desire the school placed in another location than at present we also understand that there is some feeling that the new school should be built on the site of the present building. The determination of the location of the new school is a matter for the school and city officials to determine after public hearings have been held to determine the sentiment of the residents affected. It is always best, however, to have alternate proposals available in order that the advantages and disadvantages of each may be thoroughly considered. The main issue, however, is that steps be taken promptly to remedy conditions now existing.

We have for some years advocated the replacement of old wooden school buildings with more modern structures and there is little room for doubt that the first step should be taken in the West Newton section now served by the Franklin School. The selection of a site and the completion of a new school there will hasten the day when the other sections of the city can look forward with greater assurance of improved school buildings. Looking at the situation from this angle prompt action in the case of the Franklin School is of great importance to the entire community.

IS THE GOVERNOR RIDING TWO HORSES?

Once again Governor Curley has expressed views which thinking people can readily characterize as designed to lure votes to his candidacy for the United States Senate. When called upon by Father Coughlin to subscribe to the sixteen principles of the National Union for Social Justice and to repudiate President Roosevelt the Governor calmly attempts to point out that there is nothing "new or novel or that I have failed to advocate many years before they were publicly espoused by Fr. Coughlin himself." Yet the Governor will not go the whole way with the popular Detroit preacher and repudiate the present administration. Thus, in his endeavors to attain a seat in the United States Senate it would seem that Mr. Curley is attempting to ride two horses. Such feats have been attempted many, many times and are rarely successful. Possibly in his bewilderment at which way to turn in the present campaign he has forgotten much of the political strategy which has been his greatest ally in times past.

Young Men's Republican Club Receives Charter

The Young Men's Republican Club of Newton have obtained their charter and have elected as officers, Edgar T. White, Jr., President; William Hills, 3rd, Vice President; Donald L. Gibbs, Secretary; Bertrand H. Thompson, Treasurer and Henry L. Pierce, Chairman of the Executive Committee.

A meeting will be held at the Newton Library, Centre street, Newton, on next Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock. Mayor Childs has been invited and there will be several guest speakers. At that time the charter will be presented by the Republican State Committee.

Notices of the meeting have been sent out to young men of Newton asking them to join the club.

Whiting To Speak At Central Club

Central Club, the men's organization of the Central Congregational Church of Newton, starts its season on Monday evening, Oct. 5th, with a "Reunion Night."

Due to the unusually high-type, varied, and interesting entertainment arranged for the evening, it is fully expected that the club's full membership will answer the "chow call" at 6 p. m.

The club will have as its guest Edward E. Whiting, noted political commentator, humorist, and author, who has an up-to-the-minute topic to discuss, "Who's Going to Be President?" It will be remembered that Mr. Whiting was the editor of Whiting's Column in the Boston Herald, and is at present writing weekly columns for the Worcester Sunday Telegram and Springfield Republican.

Something different in the way of entertainment will be the rollicking music, tap dancing, and other specialties given by the Burroughs News Boys' Foundation Band.

Central Club is unique, as far as men's clubs go, in having present at all their meetings its own Central Club Orchestra, under the directorship of George B. Rowlings.

Under the leadership of Dudley Hovey, President of the club, a most ambitious program has been arranged for the season. The other officers of the club are: Dr. Theodore Clark, Alan D. Duff, Vice-Presidents; Robert L. Monroe, Secretary; Fred R. Gleason, Treasurer, and Seth M. Kalberg, Auditor.

Osteopathic Auxiliaries Join in Association Dinner

All women, interested in the Massachusetts Osteopathic Hospital, are cordially invited to join the Association in its work for the benefit of the hospital.

Pease of 30 Fenwick rd.; Miss Doris Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin D. Edward Alley of 18 Groveland st., and Mary Elwell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clinton W. Elwell, of 398 Wolcott st., Auburndale.

Miss Smith, Miss Morrison, Miss Ellet, Miss Pease, Miss Miller, Miss Rosenfeld, Miss Alley and Miss Elwell have returned for their senior year.

Miss Ford, Miss Stowell and Miss Robinson are juniors. Miss Waterman and Miss Carter are enrolled as sophomores and will be graduated from the preparatory division of the college at the 19th anniversary commencement exercises next June.

Edward F. Hennessey was among the eight freshmen awarded scholarships in the Northeastern College of Business Administration. It was announced by Dr. Carl S. Ell, Dean of the University. Hennessey is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas M. Hennessey of 275 Tremont st., and graduated last year from Newton High School where he was a member of the National Honor Society and the Board of Publications. He was particularly active as business manager of the yearbook and was also on the high school Manual staff.

Many Newton residents are interested in the International Pageant and Ball which is to be held in the ballroom of the Hotel Statler, Friday, Oct. 23, from 8:30 until 1:00 o'clock under the auspices of the International Institute of Boston.

Mrs. Harold B. Cranshaw of West Newton is vice-president of the Institute, of which Mr. Herbert Purvis is president, and Mrs. Pluster Cowin is treasurer. This organization, formerly a branch of the Boston Y. W. C. A., is well known in Greater Boston for its hospitality to citizens of all nationalities, who are welcomed at the attractive and home-like center, 190 Beacon st., by a staff of foreign language speaking workers, who also go out in the different nationality communities to assist those in need, as well as to translate for other agencies and organizations.

At this unusual event, a colorful program of songs and folk dances, arranged by the chairman, Mrs. J. Philip Lane of Auburndale, will precede general dancing to Jack Marshall's orchestra.

The distinguished list of patrons includes representatives from the foreign consulates, as well as many well known citizens of Greater Boston.

Among the students on the Dean's Honor List at Northeastern University School of Law are four Newton residents: Joseph M. Kelly, 40 Glen ave., Newton Centre, and Louis Silverman, 16 Chandler st., Newton, of the second-year class, and Harold B. Busé, 4 Crehore drive, Newton, and Franklin K. Hoyt, 136 Woodland rd., Auburndale, of the junior class. Kelly is a graduate of the High School of Our Lady and Hoyt and Silverman are Newton High alumni. To attain a place on the Honor List a student must maintain an average of at least 80 per cent.

Rotary Club

The regular weekly meeting of the Rotary Club of Newton was held Monday at the Brae Park Country Club. President Walter Clegg presiding and singing being led by C. Hassler Capron and Dr. Cecil Clark.

Guests were present from the Needham and Braintree clubs. The meeting was well attended and was one of great interest as Governor Dr. G. Adelbert Enard of the 31st District made an official visit.

He met with the officers and chairmen of committees before the regular meeting and was the speaker of the day being introduced by the President.

He took for his subject, "The Four Objects of Rotary," stressing the great need of developing acquaintance as an opportunity for service; high standards in business and professions, doing our jobs decently and honorably in order to aid the world; service in the community making it a better place to live in; and the advancement of international understanding through personal contacts with students and others from other parts of the world.

He also spoke of the Rotary Foundation which is doing a wonderful work for crippled children and along educational lines.

Kiwanis Club

A casual observer of the activities of the Newton Kiwanis Club on Tuesday last might get the impression there had been a merger of the Salvation Army and the Kiwanis organization.

The speaker of the day, Brigadier-General Frederick T. Osmond of the Salvation Army, had with him several members of his society, each an accomplished musician. During the early part of the meeting, the brass quartet, so-called, rendered many selections to the enjoyment of those present.

The subject taken by Brigadier-General Osmond was "Behind the Drums," and in interesting fashion he traced the origin of the Salvation Army from 1865 to the present day, and interspersed his talk with references to the part played by music in the steady march of the organization. The speaker, himself a member of the Salvation Army for forty-six years, is a living example of the sacrificing type of person who has made this society such a force for good the world over.

The musicians were all sons of parents who had seen many years of service under the Salvation Army banner. One of them was the son of the speaker.

Those in attendance came away with a greater appreciation of what is really meant by giving primacy to spiritual things of life, not the material.

Parish Players Are Rehearsing for Play

The Parish Players of Newton Highlands are planning an early start of the coming dramatic season.

Rehearsals are now under way for a three-act play "Brief Candle" to be presented the last week in October. Under the direction of Caroline Alvingham a capable cast is at work to bring another interesting play to the subscription members.

Various committees are already at work on the production and it is announced that a cabaret will follow the performance on each evening.

Letters To The Editor

FOR DRIVERS ONLY!!

Fellow motorists, I believe you will agree with me, does anything worry you more than passing or driving near bicyclists? And won't you agree too that one of our worst road hazards is the heedless youngster of thirteen or fourteen who weaves in and out of traffic—who cuts around corners—who thinks he owns the road and acts accordingly.

In my humble opinion the rash bicyclist is the cause of all too many accidents involving innocent drivers. I believe bicycling to be an excellent sport and fine means of economical transportation. But, I believe it should be subject to the same rules and regulations of motoring.

A concerted effort should be made in our city to educate our children to the hazards of irresponsible bicycling, both to themselves and to the motorist.

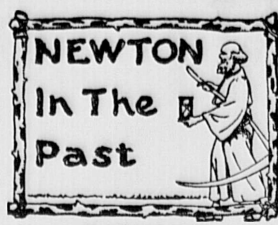

The schools offer an unexcelled opportunity for such work. I would suggest something of this nature in Civic and Social studies.

No one wants to injure a child!! Sometimes, however, the child hurts himself through heedlessness. I reiterate—the youth on the bicycle racing through traffic—whipping around corners—slipping up and down driveways is one of our major road hazards.

Folks, try and tell Johnny and Mary about this. Tell them that traffic regulations are made for mutual benefit and not for fun. Tell them to keep on their side of the road and not to carry someone else.

And fellow drivers, don't forget. A moment of carelessness may mean a lifetime of regret.

B. BURKHARD, a driver.

62 YEARS AGO

Newton Republican, October 3, 1874

A pleasant party of gentlemen from Ward 1 took a ride on E. D. Winslow's fine yacht "Atlanta" last Saturday on the Charles River. The excursion was delightful and the opportunities to witness the beauties of the Charles were excellent. There is plenty of fine scenery on the banks of this river, equalled by few places. Nothing in this vicinity can compare with it. Those who are incredulous should take a ride from Riverside to Waltham. Mr. Winslow's yacht is a splendid one and he often has a party of friends on the pleasure trips on this eastern "Hudson."

At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen next Monday the matter of the widening of the corner of Centre and Washington sts. at Newton will come up.

Samuel P. Whitman is making extensive additions to his livery stable at Centre st., Newton. A new front will be put upon it, the whole to be covered with corrugated iron, with metal gutters and composition roof.

The baptism announced to occur in the Baptist Church at Newton was not solemnized; the pastor stating that "a scarcity of water"—a thing not often found in Baptist churches—necessitated the postponement.

An adjourned meeting of the Board of Aldermen was held last Monday afternoon; Mayor Hyde presiding. The Mayor stated he had commenced the suit against former members of Cataract Engine Company at Lower Falls for the recovery of property which they had taken from the engine house. A petition was received from Captain Brown of the Cladfin Guards, Company C, 5th Regt., for the building of closets for uniforms in their armory; the cost not to exceed $400. F. G. Richardson and 37 other residents of Ward 2 petitioned to have the hay scales, which now so disgrace Newtonville Square, removed to some more convenient and less conspicuous place. Also to have the fire alarm box put on the flagpole or at the northeast corner of the drugstore, and to have the flagpole and town pump surrounded with curbstones, and the gas light placed within said curbstones. A petition was received from J. W. Stone and 22 others of Ward 2 asking that the Waltham & Newton Horse Railway be compelled to remove the T rail from their tracks, and to relay with flat rails with paving stones between them; reason—the present rails are dangerous to ordinary vehicles.

Newton Graphic, October 2, 1886

The annual 100-mile race of the Boston Bicycle Club comes off tomorrow (Saturday), and part of the course is through Newton.

John Magoley was seriously injured the other morning by being run into by a bicycle. He had just left his team to carry a can of milk into a house, and was thrown about five feet. His shoulder blade was fractured. The bicyclist escaped injury, aided in carrying Mr. Magoley home, and called a physician.

The large attendance at the hearing in City Hall on the petition for a permit to locate the street railways in this city showed the interest being taken on this matter. This city is now a delightful place for people who want their own teams, but it is not so pleasant for those whose means do not permit them to possess teams, and yet who have business at City Hall or want to visit the cemetery, or call on friends across the city. Besides, the rents within easy walking distances of the railroad stations are so high that persons of moderate means find it impossible to live in Newton. If this class of residents is desired, it looks as though street railways are necessary. Most of the smaller taxpayers would not object to a large increase in the number of citizens if that would make taxes lower.

Newton Graphic, Sept. 29, 1911

Passengers at the Newton railroad station about 10:30 Wednesday morning witnessed a peculiar accident when the Western express, Boston bound, ran into and smashed five trunks which had just been deposited upon the inbound track from an out-bound train. Fourteen trunks were taken from this train, most of them owned by Mount Ida School students. The baggage men did not have time to remove them all, or to flag the express. The tracks and platform were strewn with all sorts of articles, including shoes, corsets and parasols.

Box 245 was sounded Saturday night for a small fire in the home of Fannie Burns of Crescent st., caused by lace curtains catching fire from a lighted lamp. While watching the fire Ruth Olson of Beech st. fell over a fire ladder, struck her head on the street and fainted. She was attended by Dr. Lowe.

Powers' Paragraphs

Back in "the horse and buggy" days when Newton was in its early years as a city, the majority of its residents walked. Only the wealthy and some of the comparatively wealthy could afford horse-drawn vehicles to carry them to and from the railroad station, to stores and churches, or on social calls. There were no electric cars in those days, no automobiles, no busses. The principal streets had macadamized surfaces and side streets had gravel tops. Sidewalks on the principal streets were in large part surfaced with tar concrete. Pedestrians walked on the sidewalks because they were kept in better condition than the streets. For many years, however, since automobiles became common, the sidewalks of Newton, on the whole, have been in such poor condition, as compared with the streets, that a large percentage of pedestrians walk on the streets because they are afraid of falling on the uneven, stone-littered sidewalks. In avoiding the perils of a defective sidewalk, pedestrians risk the greater peril of being hit by an automobile as they walk on a street.

The ordinances of the City of Newton specify that the city pays half the cost and abutters the other half for the construction of concrete surfaces on sidewalks. There are many streets in this city which are used by large numbers of pedestrians daily, and some of the streets the sidewalks are for the most part of gravel and in poor condition. We refer to such streets as Pearl st. at Newton, Adams st. at Nonantum, River st. at West Newton. It is our belief that the taxpayers of the city who do not own automobiles, and must walk, are entitled to a better break than they have been getting for many years. We contend that the ordinances should be changed so that the city will assume the whole cost of laying improved surfaces on such streets as we mentioned; streets where many of the abutters cannot afford to pay for the cost of concrete sidewalks. If it is a public necessity and expedient to surface streets with cement, bituminous and other hard and smooth surfaces, it is also a public necessity to provide safe and somewhat comfortable surfaces for pedestrians to walk on. It is a hardship for the many afflicted with corns, bunions and fallen arches to plod over such sidewalks as comprise a large percentage of those along Newton's streets, than to ride over rough roadways in an automobile. The pedestrians, who have increased in number since the depression, should organize to demand a new deal. Under modern methods, hard surfaces for sidewalks can now be laid at much less expense than the hot tar mixtures formerly used in concrete sidewalks. This method is now being used on WPA projects in this city.

Both the Republican and Democratic parties have resorted to the intelligent, praiseworthy recourse of using athletes, including pugilists, wrestlers, sprinters and other agile young men as "spellbinders" in the present political campaign. We would suggest that the Republicans enlist Jean Harlow; the Democrats, Mae West, as individual attractions. That Mr. Hammon engage the alluring chorines of Earl Carroll's Vanities, and Mr. Farley the shapely girls of Ziegfeld's Follies. These young ladies would be bigger attractions than the muscular young men. And they are at least as well qualified to expound political theories. This is an intellectual country.

Another person killed in Newton by an automobile. The 11th fatality in this city by automobiles in nine months. How many more must be killed before additional action will be authorized for the Newton police department so that motorcycle policemen will make our streets safer at night and during daylight hours? Several years ago eight such officers patrolled our streets; four by day and four at night. Now, we have but two, both on day duty. It is up to the Mayor to recommend that provision be made for more motorcycle policemen, and it is the duty of the Aldermen to appropriate money for these men, if and when the Mayor makes the recommendation.

Governor Landon and William E. Hurley, former postmaster at Boston, are both denouncing the inefficiency of our postoffice department, and blame the Democrats for this condition. The United States postal system is far from being as efficient as it was 25 years ago. It started to deteriorate during the Wilson administration when the then Postmaster General, Mr. Burleson of Texas, tried to be economical at the expense of efficient service. But, the Democrats are not all to blame. Economies and curtailment in service in the postoffice department continued under the Harding and Coolidge administrations and the service certainly was not improved under Mr. Farley since Franklin D. Roosevelt appointed that gentleman to be Postmaster General. And the Democrats can't be accused of being solely responsible for the "spoils system" in the postoffice department. The writer was in the postal service for 17 years; 11 under Republican administrations and 6 under Democratic. And the "spoils system" was equally in evidence under both. We are not defending the Roosevelt regime. But, we like fair play.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

By L. D. G. BENTLEY

Looking Backward

Frequently we hear people boast of their great-grandparents or some distinguished forebears. As Aristotle, or was it Socrates, remarked, "It is a glorious thing to be well descended, but the glory belongs to our ancestors." Notwithstanding the great quarrel, I believe we should recognize the virtues of those of earlier generations and talk, or even brag, about them if we see fit.

I can enjoy discussions of genealogy and approve of them. Last week a keen young woman of my acquaintance told me of a recent visit to Scotland to view the home of her ancestors who had left there in 1690 to join the colony in America. She said "From all I could learn they were wonderful people, but I can't for the life of me see why they wanted to come over here."

Meet an Unusual Pet

On my vacation trip last week I cultivated the strange but pleasing friendship of a tame crow. Caw! caw! to you! Seems he was taken as a baby, or whatever the crows call their young, by some campers. When they left for the season they handed "Bimbo" over to the man who was my host. As a student, and maybe lately, too, I've read of pet crows usually companions of old ladies, sailors and others more or less eccentric. Probably that's why this crow and I became pals. We recognized each other's peculiarities. He insisted upon sitting on the arm of my chair and "talking" while I scratched his head. He follows people around the grounds and, if permitted, will ride on the seat of an automobile. Love a car journey. Likes to be fed almost anything and prefers above all a good cigarette. Doesn't smoke it, of course, but tears it to shreds and devours a little of the tobacco. Has lost all interest in birds, especially crows. Hates squirrels and chases them. Likes people a lot; some of them like him. Some don't including a little girl from whose head he snatched every hair ribbon he saw on her. Tore it right off. That's all I've learned about this crow so far.

Keeps the Feet Moving

Ordinarily I do a reasonable amount of walking. Sometimes it is an effort and in order that the average may be maintained I find not infrequently that I must drive myself on to the road. Put me on the veranda of a summer hotel or the deck of a large steamship and my heavy feet become nimble. Some magic or charm suddenly rises and starts me galloping. I cannot keep still. The spirit of a runaway horse seizes me and up and down, back and forth, I trot, canter, pace and run. Probably it is because many others are at it. The force of their example, no doubt—the natural tendency to imitate, mimic and copy-cat that we all struggle to down but never quite overcome.

I have just put in the last lap of the 'teenth mile at a hotel in the White Mountains. If the management does not add to my bill an item for wear and tear to his property I shall be surprised. I don't dare to look down at the veranda boards for fear my work of ruin may upset me. And in addition to the wear and tear on my shoes. Nevertheless, it is a novelty to me and that's something.

For the Looks of Things

If I hesitate because I do not own an automobile I don't know when this thought of mine will be placed before my readers, if ever. Therefore, I shall speak my mind if only as a pedestrian. And it is the people on foot who really are most concerned. We pedestrians have to look at automobiles to keep from being run over, and when we study a car we note the number plate and its condition. Too many lost, damaged or otherwise missing registration plates have been replaced by weirdly painted boards or cards. Some of these are almost illegible. I do not expect the state to prosecute a licensee of metal plates but I fail to see why the commonwealth cannot prepare for such emergencies heavy paper plates with the numbers printed thereon. The make-shift plates now used are in most instances obnoxious, or at least they are difficult to decipher. I don't blame owners as much as I do the system. As I said, we pedestrians suffer most because we gaze at these queer substitutes. Therefore, we have a right to kick.

More Praise for Screens

If I had any intention of organizing a "Leave-the-screens-in-all-winter" club I should feel most encouraged at the prospects. After there appeared in this column a paragraph about the man who found advantage in screens because they keep his safety razor from falling off the window ledge, more than one reader has stated approval of screens for that or similar purposes. One man says he leaves his pipe on the sill and his wife has put the O. K. on the idea, possibly because it's a strong pipe and the odor offends her. A lady who likes to sew and have her thread handy is assured, if the screens are in place, that no spools will roll off. There are other articles screens save from disappearing so that on the whole you may see more screens around this winter or at least until the snow flies.

Badly Injured When Car Hits Bridge

Robert A. Mashjoan, 22, whose residence was given as 412 Commonwealth ave., Newton Centre, was seriously injured early Tuesday morning when the car he was driving crashed into the centre girder of the Boston & Albany bridge at Beacon and Mountfort sts., Boston. Patrolmen Blood and Heffernan of Station 16, Boston, were in a cruising car two blocks distant when they heard the crash. Driving to the scene they found the car forced and Mashjoan in a critical condition. He was taken to the Boston City Hospital where it was found he had internal injuries and a possible skull fracture. The car Mashjoan was driving had New Hampshire number plates.

The next open meeting of the Young Republican Club of the Newtons will be held Wednesday evening, October fourteenth, in the auditorium of the Mason School in Newton Centre, at eight-fifteen. A committee is now at work on an interesting program for the meeting, details of which will be announced later. Plans for social and educational projects for the coming season are under consideration.

The meeting scheduled for Tuesday, October sixth, has been moved forward to the fourteenth by the Executive Board because it is anticipated that all Young Republicans will want to attend the big "Hails for Governor" Rally being held by a group of Newton Citizens on Monday evening, October fifth, at the Frank A. Day Junior High School in Newtonville.

The coming meetings of the Young Republican Club will be held in the auditoriums of the different schools, rotating among the Newtons so that people of all sections will have an opportunity to take part in and support this organization.

Mather Class Will Meet Again Sunday

The first meeting of the Mather Class will be held on Sunday, October 4, at 9:45 a. m. in the Newton Centre Library Building. This class is open to all who are interested and everyone is welcome.

VICTORY TOMORROW WILL EVEN SERIES

Tomorrow afternoon the Newton High School football eleven will open its 1936 home season at the Dickinson Stadium with its sixth game in the present series against Arlington. A Newton victory will even up the account as in previous battles Arlington has won three times and the orange and black twice. Both of Newton's wins were chalked up on the Arlington field and the Newton boys are primed to defeat an Arlington team on the Newton field for the first time.

Coach Ralph Sanborn and his assistants have spent many moments this past week ironing out the rough spots which showed up in the game against the Cantabs last Friday. With that one victory under their belts the local eleven is set to go places although Coach Sanborn looks for a closely fought contest. The locals came through the game with Cambridge Latin in good shape with only Jimmy Joyce relegated to the sidelines for tomorrow. Paul Forte's slight leg injury worked itself out early in the week and the Newton sprinter is ready to go against Arlington. Co-captain Al Thompson will call the plays with Guido Castoldi, Fitchett and Forte as his mates in the backfield.

Teams coached by Fred Ostergren at Arlington High have lost only five games in the last six years, and two of the losses have been inflicted by Newton teams at Arlington's field. This season Arlington opened with a hard-fought 7-0 victory over Winchester, and last Saturday dropped one to powerful Leominster High by 14-0. Arlington has an experienced backfield crew, led by Co-captains Arthur and William Oliverio, the latter No. 1 quarterback. Albert "Red" Lennon, a three-sport athlete is another back. Tom Prior, the best running back of the lot, also does the passing, and was on the starting end of the pass to Win Oliverio which beat Winchester.

At Leominster Arlington lined up with Bill Santo at center, John Blanchard and Linden O'Donnell at guards. Frank Alger and Roger Anderson at tackles, and Ed Raia and John Cashman on the ends. Two of the team's best tackle candidates were lost before the first game, so Ostergren has had considerable patching to do in bringing along his first line of defense. Cashman is a converted tackle, weighing 180, and may be back in his old place if the veteran Dave Kennedy is available at end. Carl Nigro and James Bullock are the only reserve backs who are considered dependable, while Howard Hunter is a veteran tackle replacement. Against Leominster, Arlington started off with a bang, driving down to their opponents three-yard line before a fumble stopped them. They played the Toy Town eleven on even terms until the end of the third period, when a march went to the five-yard line, then produced a Leominster score through the line. The other touchdown came on a twenty-yard end sweep after an Oliverio pass had been intercepted.

1931—Newton 27, Arlington 9.
 1932—Arlington 13, Newton 9.
 1933—Arlington 6, Newton 9.
 1934—Arlington 18, Newton 7.

NEWTON TOPS CANTABS IN GRID OPENER 20-7

Newton High's young and inexperienced football team got off on the right foot last Saturday at Russell Field by defeating Cambridge Latin 20-7. Paul Forte, soft-stepping half-back, carried the ball across twice in the first quarter on short runs, while Bill Johnston passed to Burt McMullin for the third touchdown in the second period. Breaks played their part, and Cambridge proved surprisingly weak, except for their letter-perfect passing combine of Boudreau to Glacken, which registered Latin's only points in the third period. Newton won the toss, Whelden kicked with the wind, and Latin fumbled on the first play from scrimmage. Seth Fitchett recovered for Newton at the 20-yard line, near the left sideline. Forte carried wide around right end on the first play, sprinting down the far sideline into the end zone for the first score of the season. Later in this period a series of thrusts through the indifferent line of the Cantabs brought the ball inside the ten-yard line. Al Thompson called a short side buck, Forte carrying, and Paul slithered past three defenders into pay territory. The Newton line showed unusually good charging and blocking for the first game.

The honor of scoring the third Newton touchdown went to Burt McMullin, who had never played varsity football before Saturday. A forward pass to an ineligible Cambridge player gave the ball to Newton at the 20-yard line. Bill Johnston shot a pass to McMullin two plays later for the score. Colantonio had place-kicked one extra point into the score, and Johnston added another after McMullin's touchdown.

EVERTS WINS BOYS' SINGLES TOURNEY AGAIN

Albert P. Everts, Jr. of Newtonville won the boys' singles in the George Wightman's fall tennis party at Longwood last Saturday. "Sonny" won his first tournament in this semi-annual series four years ago, and has been the winner ever since, except for the spring tournament this year, when an injury forced him to default. Everts is now fifteen and a sophomore at Newton high, and has played his last tennis in the boys' division. He was ranked No. 1 in New England rankings this year, and was sent out to the nationals.

Everts defeated Richard Bugbee 6-2 in the final match of the all-day affair, having lost only four games in four sets on the way to the finals. The finalists met in the mixed doubles final, held Sunday, and Everts paired with Kay Hubbell of Dedham to defeat Bugbee and Frances Keyes 6-2. Other promising youngsters who represented the Newtons in the tournament were Bob Kitchen of Newton Centre and Billy Betz of Newtonville, both of whom fell before the same opponent. Stockwell Everts of Brookline, Young Stuart Wilson of Newtonville got to the third round before he was defeated 6-2 by Dave Riley, a quarter-finalist. Sinclair Wiles, Jr. was edged out 6-5 in the first round, but made his mark in the consolation tournament, beating Talbot Dewey by the same count. In the mixed doubles, Bill Betz paired with Eleanor Haysman and got through three rounds very easily, while Bob Kitchen and his cousin, Priscilla Tapley of Winchester, reached the quarter-final.

More Pupils In Newton Schools

stated that he has received a few complaints from parents who dislike sending their children to afternoon sessions of kindergartens. Supt. Warren explained again that because of the large number of children attending kindergartens, it is necessary to have two sessions in some schools. Resignations were received from several school teachers, including Marie Lloyd, Eliot School; Stuart Dean, Ward School; Mrs. Winifred Wertz, Ward School. Resignations were also received from Alfred Guzzi, janitor at Warren School who has become reinstated as an employee of the Newton Street Department; John Magee, fireman at Hyde School; Helen Boyd, clerk at School department office; Helen Rohrbough, teacher at Newton High was granted a year's leave of absence. New teachers appointed were—Helen Dempsey of Fitchburg and Elma Wolli of Lebanon, New Hampshire, to Ward School; Thomas Hutton of Lowell to the Trade School. Miss Dempsey studied at Fitchburg Normal School and at Boston University, receiving a degree from the latter. She taught for one year at Fitchburg and three years at Lancaster. Miss Wolli graduated from Keene, New Hampshire, Normal School. She has taught at Concord, Mr. Hutton attended Lowell Institute and has taught at Lowell Trade School. School Committee Member Harry Bryant protested against the purchase of 1000 copies of "The Story of Newton" by Principal Paul Elicker of the High School without the School Committee having approved of this purchase, according to the rules. The book was written by John R. Prescott and Mr. Elicker was so favorably impressed by it that he bought the copies so that all first year students can read the book this year. Mr. Bryant said that undoubtedly the book will be of great value to the pupils, but he contended that the rule regarding the purchase of books should be adhered to. The committee agreed with him.

Women's Club Activities

Household School Offers Unusual Opportunities

The attention of clubwomen—and of all young women in the Newtons—is called to a project sponsored by one of the Newton clubs. The assistance of clubwomen by speaking of this project and by interesting young women in it will result in its success, and, indirectly, in benefit to themselves, as well as to many young women.

The Newton Centre Woman's Club has organized a committee to meet a two-fold need in their community: first, a work exchange, where homemakers who need a certain service can find women who have it to sell; and second, a vocational school for training household employees.

At the final Club Board Meeting in June Mrs. Harold C. Brown, heading a group of homemakers, presented a request for organized effort on the part of clubwomen to meet the crucial situation existing in homes through the lack of competent household employees. For a combination of reasons and circumstances, such as restricted immigration, dependence on relief funds, and the feeling among girls that they would rather work in a factory or in an office than in a home, the supply of workers for general housework is seriously curtailed. The inevitable effect of increase in wages has followed. Yet there are homes with young children and old people where the help of a resident worker is a necessity.

This appeal met with enthusiastic response from the Board, and a committee headed by the president, Mrs. Arthur Hitchcock, worked on the problem during the summer.

Under the Work Exchange two departments are proposed: listed foods for sale, and listed part-time work. Mrs. Howard O. Winslow (telephone Cen. New. 1645-M) will list the names and telephone numbers of all women willing to make their "specialty" on order. For example, Mrs. Jones may make delicious doughnuts, and may decide it would be a good way to earn the pin money she always is needing. She would register with Mrs. Winslow. The complete list of specialties and their makers will be posted on the Club Bulletin Board in the foyer of the Club House. Through this list women desiring these foods can make direct contact with the proper individuals who will supply them.

Mrs. Melville Liming (telephone Cen. New. 0364) will take charge of the listed part-time work. Women competent to do such part-time work as typing, mending, housework by the hour, care of children, or companion to old people, will register their names and telephone numbers with Mrs. Liming. This list also will appear on the Club Bulletin Board, so that women may make direct contact with each other as needed.

Mrs. Stritch, head of the Women's Division of the W.P.A., and Mrs. Winslow, State Supervisor of the Household Training Program, presented to the Board the report of existing Household Training Schools which have functioned since April in Boston (32 Mt. Vernon Street), Walpole, Plymouth, Longmeadow, East Lynn, and Worcester. Another School is proposed, and they agreed to start it in Newton if the number of girls interested in such training is sufficient. They pointed out that the household employee has a better living, when well placed, and saves more than the girl who has the usual office or factory job. Training is essential to lift this most agreeable occupation into its proper place of respect and dignity.

The training covers a period of eight weeks, five days a week, from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m. Each girl is allowed $1.00 a week for carfare, and receives her luncheon at the School. Girls between the ages of 18 and 30 may take advantage of this training if they agree to accept a household position when the training is completed. A Placement Supervisor visits the homes of the employer and employee, and makes the proper adjustments.

The School is held in a modern, furnished home, equipped to offer the environment the employee will find when employed. The instruction is practical; everything is taught by experience and by student demonstration, under two trained Home Economics instructors.

The class is divided into two groups, the Food Group and the Home Management Group, with one instructor supervising each group. The Food group includes instruction in marketing, meal planning and preparation, correct table-setting and serving. The Home Management Group covers laundering, care and cleaning of the home, and child care. Both groups assemble for class discussion of personal appearance, personal qualities an employee should possess, and home etiquette.

The Newton Centre Woman's Club proposes to sponsor such a School in Newton, to start as early as possible in October. Twenty-five girls are necessary to assure a class. Girls wishing to train for this profitable vocation may telephone Mrs. Harold C. Brown, chairman of the Advisory committee, Cen. New. 2789.

More Plans For Community Chest Campaign

Will Be Most Comprehensive Of Any Here

The Newton Community Chest, Inc., plans for the 1936 Campaign are the broadest and most comprehensive in scope of any campaign the Chest has yet had in Newton.

There are seven Divisions, of which three are new:
The Special Gifts Division, of which Mr. Maynard Hutchinson is the Chairman, is enrolling many outstanding people for actual work of solicitation of the larger givers.

The Women's Division, of which Mrs. John F. Capron is the chairman, has enrolled about 100 women to solicit all the retail establishments in the city, giving to many people who have not been approached before the opportunity to become members of the Chest.

The Business Division of the Campaign, of which Mr. Glade Perrin, the Chairman, covering corporations who have branches in the city, with central or home offices elsewhere. Mr. Philip S. Jamieson, of Newton heads up this work; this Division also includes a

Auto Victim Number Twelve

The twelfth person to die in Newton since the beginning of this year, as a result of injuries caused by automobiles, passed away at the Newton Hospital on Saturday afternoon, Oct. 3, Miss Mary Curley, 64, of 91 Wyman st., Waban, was struck as she was crossing Beacon st. near Montclair rd., Waban, while on her way to church by an automobile driven by Royce W. Godsoe, Jr., 24, of 51 Craigie ter., Newtonville. Godsoe reported that he was driving westerly toward Waban when he saw Miss Curley crossing the street; he applied his brakes and swerved the car to the right and she ran in the same direction. She had reached the right gutter on Beacon st. when the car hit her. She received a fractured skull and internal injuries.

Miss Curley was born in Ireland and came to this country when a young girl. She was formerly in the employ of the late Miss Amy Lowell of Brookline. She entered the employ of Mrs. Rodney Parker of Wyman st. only three weeks before her death. Miss Curley is survived by a brother who resides in New Rochelle, N. Y., and a cousin, Mrs. Celia Hosford of Summer st., Newton Upper Falls. Her funeral was held on Monday at Milford.

No Beano at Newtonville

Early this week the vacant store at 825 Washington st., Newtonville square, formerly the location of an A. & P. market, was occupied by a Woburn man who started to equip the place as a Beano parlor. One of the large windows and the door were painted black and in large letters thereon "Beano" was printed. The other large window had a high wooden screen built at the rear and in the window was placed a large sign which stated that Beano would be conducted at the place each night under the auspices of the Drum and Bugle Corps of the Sons of Veterans of Foreign Wars. It was announced that the Beano parlor would open Thursday night. Protests against the Beano parlor began to come to Ward 2 Aldermen; citizens being of the impression that the permit for the place had been granted by the Board of Aldermen. Such permits are granted by the Mayor, and it is understood that those interested in the opening of the Beano parlor had conferred with the Mayor before starting to equip the place.

Thursday afternoon, after a number of tables had been constructed at the location, for the playing of the game, and a large number of chairs had been brought to the store, the man who was to operate the place was ordered by the police to remove the signs from the windows as no permit had been granted.

Mrs. Fulton Sues Pike and City

Mrs. Marcia Fulton of 13 Chesley ave., Newtonville, widow of Graham Fulton, has brought suit against William E. Pike of Islington rd., Auburndale, for $20,000. On February 21st of this year Fulton was electrocuted while on an electric light pole near the skating rink at Crystal Lake, Newton Highlands. Fulton, a lineman for the Edison Company, was working on his off-time for Pike who is an electrical contractor and does work for the city. Mrs. Fulton charges that her husband was not informed that the pole carried high tension wires. Several months ago she filed a claim against the City of Newton and at a recent meeting of the Board of Aldermen, on recommendation of the Claims and Rules Committee, her claim was given leave to withdraw on the ground that the city is not liable.

In addition to the suit against Pike, Mrs. Fulton has started similar legal proceedings against the City of Newton, alleging that the city is responsible because of negligence through its agents.

Young Democrats Meet October 14

The Newton Chapter of Young Democrats of Massachusetts has applied for a charter and at its organization meeting Bernard D. Farrell of Cherry place, West Newton, was chosen temporary chairman. A meeting will be held at Mague Hall, West Newton, on Oct. 14 at 8 o'clock to elect officers. All Democrats of Newton between the ages of 21 and 45 are invited.

Newton Community Forum Nov. 8

The Newton Community Forum will start its 1936-1937 program on Sunday, Nov. 8, at Newton High School auditorium. It will present eight meetings at which the speakers will be men of prominence in science, education and business. The list of speakers includes Congressman Hamilton Fish, Jr., E. R. Bowen, Courtney R. Cooper, Sir Arthur Willert, Norman Thomas, Dean William F. Russell, Hans V. Kaltenborn. The meetings will be held every second Sunday afternoon at 3:30. Tickets admitting holders to reserved seats are being sold by members of the Forum and at branches of the Newton Free Library throughout the city.

To Clean Waban Hill Reservoir

At the meeting of the Aldermen on Monday night an appropriation of $7500 was made to clean two sections of the Newton reservoir on Waban Hill. The reservoir has not been cleaned for 12 years and the appearance of bacteria in Newton water caused Dr. Choate, Health Officer of Newton to suggest that the reservoir be cleaned and sterilized. An appropriation of $1350 to clean filtration bowls at the water reservation in Needham was opposed by Alderman Temperley. He argued that these bowls have not been practical, continually fill with silt, and supply little water. He advocated scientific boring for more wells at the reservation, instead of wasting more money on the bowls in question.

City Accepts Gift of Spear Estate

Land Will Be Used as Memorial Park and Garden Spot

The former Spear homestead at the corner of Washington st. and Walnut Park, Newton, which was bequeathed to the city by the late Miss Elizabeth Spear, to be used as a small park or green spot, was accepted by the Board of Aldermen at their meeting on Monday night. The property includes about 14,000 feet of land and an old residence, erected over a century ago by the father of the Misses Spear who for many years conducted a private school at Newton. Elizabeth Spear for nearly a half a century was active in charitable work in Newton. A survey made by the Building Department some months ago reported that the old residence is unsuited for any city activity.

In recommending the acceptance of the property, Alderman Bowen said that it was favored by 5 of the 7 members of the Public Works Committee and all the members of the Finance Committee. He explained that Miss Spear had bequeathed $1000 for developing the land, and $500 for a drinking fountain, the latter to be installed either on the property or any place in the city which might be selected. He said that all property owners in the neighborhood favor the acceptance of the property, and that the $1000 will probably suffice for the grading of the lot and the building of a fence around it.

Alderman McCabe favored the placing of the drinking fountain in the small park at the Spear estate. He said that Alderman Atkins favors the

SEND LUCE BACK TO CONGRESS

In another column is an appeal to Newton voters to send former Congressman Robert Luce back to the National House of Representatives. As our readers know Mr. Luce was defeated by Mayor Richard M. Russell of Cambridge two years ago in the Democratic landslide which literally swept the state of Massachusetts. Mr. Luce is again opposing Mr. Russell. We realize that two years ago Mr. Luce was defeated largely because many Republicans refused to support the veteran legislator again. An analysis of the vote two years ago indicates that some two thousand voters in Newton deserted Mr. Luce. We trust that these voters will support the Republican nominee this year in the coming election. Not only is it desirable to return Mr. Luce to Congress because of his personal ability but because of the necessity to obtain, as soon as possible, a Republican majority or at least a strong minority in that body. With at least an even chance of electing a Republican President in Governor Landon it is clear that Congressmen of Mr. Luce's type and ability would be a valuable asset in restoring sound and economical government. On the other hand should President Roosevelt be re-elected it is equally clear that the restraining influence which Mr. Luce exemplifies would assist in checking the waste and extravagance which has characterized the course of the past four years. Furthermore the re-election of Mr. Russell might indicate the support of the New Deal in this Congressional district, whereas we are convinced that such is not the case. The election of Mr. Luce is the only way to register this fact.

It is difficult to believe that in the face of these circumstances the voters of Newton will deprive Mr. Luce of their support simply because they may not agree with him on one or two issues which are now out of the picture or because they might have some personal dissatisfaction. Mr. Luce's ability, his unquestioned influence, and his desire for sound government should be more than sufficient to enable these formerly dissatisfied voters to again put their faith in him. Republican harmony should and, we feel, will prevail.

TIME IS GROWING SHORT

With but four more days in which to register as a voter for the Presidential and State election on November third, those citizens who have not yet taken this step should do so without further delay. Much has been said and columns have been written upon the duty of the citizen to exercise his right of franchise to select the candidates of his choice by whom he shall be governed. There are still many persons who have yet to realize this responsibility. The privilege of voting transcends the importance of the citizen to the community. It is more than a privilege. It is fully as much of a patriotic duty as anything could be for the democracy which our forefathers fought to establish in this land can be maintained only through the independence and liberty of every citizen and his right to select his government. If you are not a registered voter become one before October 14th.

ITS SECOND YEAR

The Newton Community Forum has announced its list of speakers for its second year. Inaugurated last season the Forum proved of great interest to the people of Newton. This coming season should be equally if not more stimulating to the minds of the community. Beginning a few days after election and continuing at two week intervals into the early Spring, the Forum officials plan to bring here such speakers as Congressman Hamilton Fish, Socialist Norman Thomas, Radio Commentator Hans Kaltenborn, Author Courtney Ryley Cooper and other well-known personalities. To accomplish this aim a limited number of reserved seats are sold on a season ticket basis. There should be no necessity to urge the residents of Newton to support this worthwhile affair. We are confident the response will be spontaneous and gratifying.

RED CROSS PREPARES NOW FOR CHRISTMAS

The Newton Chapter, American Red Cross, shipped last week 108 Christmas Bags which will be sent by the National Red Cross to Marines in the Far East in the Hawaiian Islands, or in the Panama Zone, to reach the men on Christmas Day. Each gay little canvas bag contains articles which were wrapped in red tissue with Christmas seals this summer by the Girl Scouts at Camp Mary Day—a box of stationery and some pencils; a tooth brush and tooth paste; a "man's size" knife; a note book which also contains much useful information; a sewing kit fitted out with thread, buttons, and safety pins; a pack of cards. As these bags are often the only remembrance the men receive from home, each year the Newton Chapter gets back many of the "Christmas addressed" postal cards which, with a card of the season's greetings, are enclosed in the bag. They say how grateful the men are for the very useful gifts.

Eighteen Newton youths at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology are on the Dean's list for the second term of last year, it was announced this week. Three of this group have attained first honor rankings, three second honor rankings and twelve third honor rankings. Half of the group were juniors last spring with seven of the others sophomores and the remaining two freshmen. Howard C. Ness, now a junior, Karl P. Goodwin and Leo S. Wasserman, now seniors, were the three students among the first honor group. Wasserman is a graduate of the Boston Public Latin School and the others of Newton High.

The three in the second honor group are Philip C. Jacobs, Jr., and Harry Udin, now seniors, and Benjamin W. Badenoch a freshman last year. All are graduates of the Newton High School. Badenoch held a freshman competitive scholarship. Charles W. Doten, winner of the George H. May Scholarship at Newton High two years ago, was the only Newton student to make the third honor group as a freshman. Six Newton sophomores made this same grade last spring. They are Alfred P. Heintz, Julius Kovitz, Carl E. Megquier, Jonathan R. Roehrig, Richard M. Samuel, and John A. Wilson. Heintz graduated from Somerville High, Megquier from Oxford (Maine) High, Samuel from Boston Latin and the others from Newton High.

The five juniors who are on the Dean's list in the third honor rank were Frederick R. Claffee, John M. Gallagher, Jr.; Theodore R. Timbie, Fred Wasserman, and Gordon B. Wilkes. All are graduates of Newton High.

Following the Amherst-Harvard game last Saturday Mr. and Mrs. Donald D. McKay entertained a large group of Mr. McKay's classmates and their wives. A barbecue supper was served in their garden. During the evening they were serenaded by thirty Amherst and Smith College students who had come down for the football game. Mr. McKay is president of the Class of 1909 and a past president of the Amherst Alumni Association of Boston.

Students at Monticello College at Godfrey, Illinois, recently enjoyed an all-day excursion on a Mississippi river steamboat. Among the girls on the trip were Constance Brickett of North st. and Esther Weight of Upland rd., Newtonville.

Arthur Foote, well-known composer-pianist and a resident of Ridge rd., Newton Centre, will be presented in a brief recital from radio station WCOP next Wednesday afternoon. Mr. Foote is internationally recognized as the dean of American composer-pianists for his charming songs, piano and orchestral music.

The program of the radio recital is under the direction of Mrs. Florence Wood Russell and will be presented by the Musical Guild of Boston. The Guild is the leading organization of professional and amateur musicians in New England which has been sponsoring brief radio programs during the summer months.

Appointment of five vice-chairmen of Greater Boston's 1937 Community Fund Campaign was announced recently by Robert Cutler of Brookline, general chairman.

They are John J. Robinson of Newton, president of the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company; Joseph E. O'Connell of Newton, Mrs. Edward L. Bigelow of Chestnut Hill, Louis E. Kirstein of Boston, and Ripley L. Dana of Newton.

"Every year Greater Boston's Community Fund agencies serve 250,000 people in Greater Boston," Mr. Cutler pointed out in connection with the announcement of his vice-chairmen. "A third of these people live in Newton and 49 other cities and towns outside Boston proper."

He called attention to the last one-day census taken in Community Fund health and social agencies. On that day 55 persons from Newton were patients in Boston hospitals. The cost of their care was $139.02. They paid $69.14, leaving a deficit of $69.88, borne by the Community Fund agencies.

On the same day 61 children from Newton were cared for by Community Fund child-caring agencies. Enrolled in Community Fund youth agencies were 894 boys and girls from Newton.

Mr. Cutler declared that these were merely highlights of the service rendered to Newton on census day. No attempt was made to make a complete record.

"When we of this vast metropolitan area fully realize how great and complex are the human needs about us, and how bravely and capably our agencies are striving to meet these needs, we shall not allow these organizations to be crippled in their good work," Mr. Cutler's statement concluded.

The ashes of Norman Plinkens, who was fatally injured in an automobile accident at West Newton last New Year's eve, were scattered over Boston Harbor last Friday from an airplane. The ashes were spilled from the urn in which they had reposed since last January by Paul Wentworth, a Waltham funeral director. The youth, who was in his 18th year, had been taking instructions in aviation, and had expressed the wish to be cremated and have his ashes thus disposed of.

Kiwanis Club

The Newton Kiwanis Club hearkened back to bygone days on Tuesday last as its weekly meeting got under way with the Past President Charlie Mahoney in charge. Charlie was president during depression's darkest year, 1932, and among other things he recalled how the club came through such a trying period, indicating quality thrives on adversity.

There were several honorary members present, including W. Uriah Fogwill and George Johnson of the Graphic Press. The former joined in a spirited rendition of Auld Lang Syne assisted, or harassed, according to the sensitiveness of the listeners, by Clerk of Court Jim Gallagher, funeral basso Butch Rich, and President Ernest Gibson. Notwithstanding this exhilaration and/or annihilation, the meeting proceeded, and in more serious vein was addressed by the presiding officer, taking for his subject some of the phases of his daily duties as Street Commissioner. This department, which spends in excess of $1,000,000 a year, has many activities and ramifications. The function of a storm sewer compared with that of a sanitary sewer was explained to Mr. Mahoney's interested audience along with many other matters affecting the street department, including the type of construction of our new streets. Mr. Mahoney discussed the process by which the new streets are made, so smoothly, yet offering traction for vehicular traffic and destined to give long service. The problems of street lighting and the vexatious situations which arise during heavy snowstorms were told in the speaker's inimitable style.

Rotary Club

The regular meeting of the Newton Rotary Club was held Monday, October 5, 1936 at the Bred Burn Country Club and called to order by President Walter Grege at 12:15 P. M.

After luncheon Win Brainerd introduced as the speaker of the day Colonel Atkinson of the Salvation Army. Colonel Atkinson was accompanied by four Salvation Army Musicians who played some of their familiar pieces. An interesting talk by the Colonel gave the story of the Salvation Army since it was started in London by General Booth in 1865, since which time it has spread around the world. He spoke of the great work they are doing in religious as well as social service among people who need their help.

Stores Must Close On October 12th

The Newton Chamber of Commerce has sent out a warning to stores and business places in this city regarding the compulsory closing of stores on Columbus Day, October 12th, as a result of the law passed last March over Governor Curley's veto. The notice sent out by the Chamber of Commerce reads—

By an act of the Legislature of 1936 Columbus Day is governed by all the laws covering the observance of Sundays from 7 a. m. to 1 p. m.

In other words no place of business can open until 1 p. m. except such stores as can legally open on Sundays.

Return Luce To Congress

To the Voters of Newton:

Former Congressman Robert Luce, now a candidate for Congress in the Newton District, should reclaim the seat this year. First, he is opposed to the New Deal, its policies, and its waste. Again, he was elected in Congress by Democrats and Republicans as foremost authority on legislative procedure—his three books on that subject being considered the best extant.

Admittedly the Republican House leader on banking and financial legislation, he introduced the Home Loan Bank Bill, and shared in framing the Federal Reserve Act. The bill which has saved the homes of many thousands. Mr. Luce was influential in behalf of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation Bill, perhaps the most useful of the measures to meet the depression.

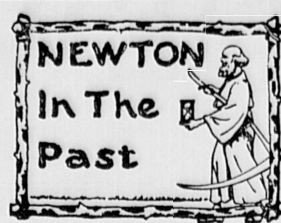

Believing the immediate need justified the experiment of guaranteeing bank deposits, he supported that measure, which more than any other has helped to restore confidence among the thrifty of small means who make up the great mass of depositors.

They and the shareholders in co-operative banks were his chief concern. Likewise, he materially helped the nation-wide development of Credit Unions, the establishment of which in Massachusetts, he had aided years ago.

It is well known that had the Democrats permitted President Hoover to assemble an International Monetary Conference in London, Mr. Luce would have been one of the delegates. He led in securing the creation of a National Arboretum. On the Committee on World War Veteran Legislation, he aided many measures, particularly those relating to hospitals.

Mr. Luce is not a great back slapper but is a thorough student with a record of strict attention to his duties as a Congressman, a forceful and brilliant speaker, thoroughly experienced in legislative matters, an ardent opponent of the extravagant and reckless policies of the present administration. He will be of great assistance to Governor Landon if he is elected, or, if the President is re-elected, will be a power in halting the acceptance of his recommendations for unconstitutional legislation. This great district cannot afford by its election of a Democrat to be classed as favorable to the New Deal, its leader and satellites.

Neat and convenient are the new horse sheds at the rear of Grace Church.

John Gill, an itinerant preacher, was preaching to a crowd of people at the corner of Washington and School sts., Newton, on Sunday night by which he was assailed by offensive language by some of the audience. So much disturbance was caused that Patrolman Chick asked Gill to desist. He refused and the officer locked him up. Monday evening he was discharged by Judge Slocum.

The highway committee has instructed the Street of Streets to collect ashes in Ward 1. By leaving them in appropriate vessels on the sidewalks Thursday mornings, the city teams will carry them away. See notice in another column.

The busiest place in Ward 1 is at Novantum Hall every evening where the fair in aid of the new Catholic Church at Adams and Washington sts. is in progress. The most important prizes are a $900 Mason & Hamlin organ and a lot of land in East Boston. Doubtless the proceeds will be handsome and warrant a liberal outlay on St. Brendan's Church the coming year.

Newton Graphic, Oct. 9, 1885

A contribution of $166.35 has been sent by Grace Church to Bishop Howe for rebuilding the churches in Charlestown destroyed by the earthquake.

Last Sunday just as the bell on Eliot Church was nearly through tolling for the evening meeting, the tongue fell out and fortunately lodged in the belfry. Had it fallen to the ground someone would probably have been injured as many people were entering the church.

The first drain with any reference to sewerage is now being laid on Eldredge st. to take the water at Hyde Brook. It is a brick arch 3 by 3 feet and about 700 feet long. It will require 75,000 brick at a cost of $3000 or $4000.

The members of the Board of the Wesleyan Orphanage will hold their first business meeting in the new home on Wednesday. The house is on Wesley st. at the rear of the Methodist Church.

The 100 mile road race of the Boston Bicycle Club last Saturday was not very successful; all the riders but Doane losing their way. The course was intricate and not well marked. Arthur Porter of this city acted as pacesetter for Doane part of the way.

Horace Crocker of Emerson st. returned this week from Roseville where he won one 1st prize and two 2nd prizes. He has had wonderful success as a workman, considering this is the first year he ever raced on a track. He won over $650 in cash prizes besides paying his expenses. He has a large offer from a prominent bicycle manufacturer to ride his machine next year.

A delegation of indignant "small boys" called at the Graphic Office this week to have the question asked—"What is the pond in Farlow Park for?" Their right to sail toy boats there has been interfered with and they wish to enter a firm, but respectful protest.

At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday a petition was read from the Newton Electric Light Company asking for a permit to build a brick and wood power house on Craft st. near Washington st., Newtonville. At 8 o'clock a hearing was held on the petition of this company to erect their poles on certain streets. No private citizens appeared to object to the petition. The only remonstrants were John B. Goodrich, counsel for the Newton & Watertown Gas Company, and Samuel Elder, counsel for David Flanders who petitioned several months ago for permission to inaugurate a system of electric lights in Newton. Mr. Goodrich said the gas company could furnish electric lights at less expense than a new, rival corporation, which will have salaried officials, an expensive plant, and a large force of employees for electric lights only.

An incognito barber reasons that the heat from gas lights makes people bald, and that when electric lights will have been used for a generation or two, bald heads will be scarce. We make no charge to the new Newton Electric Light Company for this argument in their favor.

Attention is called to Section 19 of the City Ordinances—"No bicycle or tricycle shall be propelled on a street unless it is provided with a bell to be struck when approaching any person and neither shall be propelled on a sidewalk."

Powers' Paragraphs

This old world is getting queerer and queerer (not much) and more queerer (if you prefer), so far as its human inhabitants are concerned. The civilized races have become more homicidal than the savage races. Last Sunday half a million Englishmen assembled in London and prevented a big demonstration which Fascists had announced they would conduct. In Paris 100,000 French Leftists gave real rough treatment to 20,000 French Fascists and Royalists. In Spain we see the radicals being defeated by the aristocrats and conservatives, largely with the assistance of Moorish troops brought over from Morocco for this purpose. Isn't it interesting that descendants of the invading race which once ruled Spain, and which was expelled about five centuries ago, are now struggling to get the factors in capturing Spain from its present government? In Italy Mussolini is glorifying war and deprecating peace. In Germany Hitler is baiting Russia. And these are all "Christian" countries. The "Golden Rule" has been professed in them for many centuries, but not practiced. Hence the turmoil.

Incidentally, it is interesting to observe that among the now more peaceful of the countries overseas is Ireland. A country inhabited by a race which, according to reputation, would rather fight than eat. And a country, which, when its people were fighting for self-government about 20 years ago, was characterized by the late Admiral Sims, an Anglophile, as unfitted for self-government because of the alleged turbulence of its inhabitants. Fortunately for Ireland, it is still largely agricultural. It hasn't "progressed" industrially as have the European countries where strife is now rampant and where greater bloodshed seems inevitable.

If young men and young women, particularly the latter, want to jeopardize their lives by indulging in the current craze for bicycle riding on highways infested by speeding automobiles, it is their privilege to do so. But, parents who permit young boys and girls to ride bicycles on streets are deliberately risking their children's lives. Anyone who drives an automobile can testify to the reckless way in which youngsters operate bicycles. A law should be passed forbidding more than one person riding on a bicycle. The police could at least co-operate by enforcing the law relative to lights on bicycles after dark. Possibly, after some scores of children on bicycles will have been killed by automobiles, measures will be taken to stop this latest form of suicide.

The action of the Board of Aldermen in accepting the bequest of the Spear estate at Washington st. and Walnut park will meet with the approval of most older residents of Newton. Miss Spear is entitled to a memorial for the many years of charitable service she gave to the poor of Newton. In future years the little park can well serve as a playground for the children.

Local Color

The red, yellow, green and yellow-red combined traffic lights were among the many urban annoyances from which I sought to flee—and did—on my brief trip to the mountains not many days ago. Eager to avoid a depressed mental state and "get away from it all," I thought of the city's daily routine and its many, many annoyances. None of these annoyed me more than the traffic signals I have mentioned. At every corner or street intersection I would find these lights, their colors always the same—red, yellow, green and yellow-red combined.

In the great open spaces of New Hampshire at last I was free from all such things. In joy and gladness I clambered the mountainside. With clamorous satisfaction I gazed at the majestic hills and their wealth of autumnal foliage. Birches, oaks, elms and whatnot, their leaves resplendent in the glorious sunlight. Profuse and imposing, brilliant and inspiring! And the colors—the same old colors—red, yellow, green and yellow-red combined.

Plain and Fancy Figuring

The man or woman who picks up a paper containing many figures and, by glancing casually at a column, determines correctly the total, fills me with awe. Admittedly a poor hand at arithmetic I cannot comprehend such mental power. Equally amazing, although by no means as impressive, are the totals arrived at by political candidates and other prognosticators. The wizard bookkeeper or accountant who excels at mathematics has something to go by, but the prophet who tells you he will beat his principal opponent by 200,000 or thereabouts relies solely on his imagination or something equally intangible. The same is true of committee chairmen who do not hesitate to give staggering estimates of the total vote their party will roll up. It may be they have a latent source of knowledge, although at present I am disposed to believe it is something like the children's game that has as its basis, "Think of a number." Possibly they pick figures off the highest number plates of passing automobiles, or take them from the serial number of a dollar bill. A few more can produce almost any kind of figures. Seems to me that estimates of pluralities like this are due to courage or recklessness but I can't tell which is which.

This May Explain

It isn't as if everybody has not seen for himself the attitude of many men provided temporary employment by Federal and State agencies. The work on the roads has been viewed by all who have had automobile rides. Returning last week from a recent journey in the car of a friend, I called his attention to the inactivity of scores of workers (?) we passed. Said he, "These men have been hit by an automobile while crossing a street in this city. Again we emphasize the need of more motorcycle policemen to safeguard lives of Newton residents, and put this responsibility up to the Mayor and Aldermen. How many more must be killed before it is realized that the paramount function of police today is to protect the lives of the public from constantly increasing highway hazards?"

Aren't Some Men Lucky?

At a home I visited in New Hampshire preparations were underway for a hunting trip into the woods to be undertaken by the head of the house. He was a man who believed in starting his plans early. That was all he did, however. It was not really planning, he merely expressed a wish to have this and that and the other thing to take with him. His good wife, one of those understanding women, did all the work of getting him ready. It was considerable of an undertaking, due largely and almost wholly to the fuss the husband made. You would have thought him headed for a year's tour of discovery. I watched the patient wife, mindful of every detail as she plodded and arranged and packed. Finally she had it done and sat back with a smile of satisfaction. "See what it takes to get a husband ready for a long journey," said she to a group of us. Then she sighed and added, "That's why I've always sympathized with Mrs. Christopher Columbus."

Remembering Newton

A suitable Christmas gift especially appropriate among people of our own city is "The Story of Newton," by John R. Prescott, which is available at a price no higher than an attractive greeting card. Mr. Prescott's civic pride and literary skill have produced for the bare cost of manufacture a book of 68 pages with 49 beautiful illustrations printed on heavy coated paper and enclosed in a suitable envelope ready for mailing. Here's a souvenir of one's home city that should have a strong appeal and save many the necessity of shopping about for a pleasing and acceptable Christmas remembrance.

Brookline Thanks Newton Firemen

The assistance rendered by Chief Randlett of the Newton Fire Department and the crew of Engine 3 at the high school fire in Brookline on Sept. 25 was recognized in a letter sent to Mayor Childs by Fire Commissioner Goode of Brookline. The letter read as follows:

Hon. Edwin O. Childs,
Mayor, City of Newton,
Newton, Mass.

Dear Sir:

I desire to express my sincere thanks for the very wonderful service rendered by the members of the Newton Fire Department at the fire in the Brookline High School on Sept. 25th.

The service they rendered went beyond the ordinary line of duty, and they many times jeopardized their own lives in rendering the service they did.

The report of Chief Allen of this Department states that the personal services of Chief Randlett was a vital factor in the saving of the building.

The saving of this building is a monument to the mutual aid system which exists in the fire departments of Greater Boston.

Refuse Gas Station At Auburndale

The petition of John A. Cole for a permit to establish a gasoline station at 2078-2086 Commonwealth ave., Auburndale, was refused by the Newton Board of Aldermen on Monday night. It was proposed to tear down the business block now on the locus at the corner of Lexington st. Alderman Colby, reporting for the License Committee, stated that among the reasons for giving the petition leave to withdraw were—that the locus is at the corner of two busy thoroughfares, there is a traffic signal at the intersection, and there are already several gasoline stations in the neighborhood. He mentioned that the oil company which proposes to take over the proposed station now has a station selling its products across the street, and the new station would mean that the lessee of the existent station would suffer financially. The Board unanimously adopted the committee's report.

Young Republicans To Hold Huge Meeting

The Executive Board of the Young Republican Club of the Newtons has just announced the highlights of the program which will take place at the open meeting being held at the Mason School, Newton Centre, on October fourteenth. The speakers will be Mrs. Endicott P. Saltonstall, a member of the State Committee and of the Advisory Board of the Young Republican Club of the Newtons; and Lawrence Tucker, president of the State Council of Young Republican Clubs. Frederick P. Walther, Jr., chairman of the Executive Committee, will outline the complete winter program and the organizing activities of the club.

At the executive meeting on Wednesday evening, members of the board received enthusiastic reports of rapidly increasing membership from all wards in Newton. Young men and women from all the Newtons are taking this opportunity to express their great interest in political affairs.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

By JACK MORRIS

NEWTON'S LATE GAME RALLY BRINGS VICTORY

Newton High defeated Arlington High last Saturday at Newtonville by 7-6 in an ordinary early-season game. It took a good measure of courage to keep Newton in the game, since Arlington scored in the first period, and the breaks of the game kept Newton from penetrating Arlington territory until the third quarter. A fumble on Newton's very first play from scrimmage led to Arlington's touchdown pass from Oliverio to Prior. Forte's 20-yard rally late in the fourth quarter put the ball literally in the shadow of Arlington's goal, and Newton's backs hammered across a touchdown to tie the score. Bill Johnston placekicked the extra point.

Each team forfeited a touchdown to a decision of the officials. Arlington's Win Oliverio put a scoring pass into Cashman's hands early in the game, but the play was called back. Paul Forte broke through the line and put on a thrilling 75-yard dash for an apparent score late in the second period, but holding was reported and the run went for nothing. Although the victory kept Newton's slate clean, there was enough under-par play in the game to keep Newton's coaches on their toes all week trying to get the team in shape to meet Everett's fast club in their next game.

Newton received the kickoff at the east end of the field. Brad Thompson taking Cashman's short kick in the center to the 40-yard line. Bill Johnston kicked on third down and the ball was downed on Arlington's 35-yard line. Win Oliverio and Tom Prior carried the ball in six plays for two first downs and a 25-yard advance. Prior found a wide chink between his left end and tackle and got down to the Newton 22 before he was bowled over by Johnston.

At this point Arlington's luck changed, and they retreated just thirty yards in four plays. Win Oliverio coasted out to the right and shot a touchdown pass to John Cashman, but Arlington took a 15-yard penalty on the play. They tried it again, and Oliverio was dropped by Muckian and Duffy before he could get his pass away. On still another attempt, Arlington's co-captain was dropped at the Arlington 48-yard line. For the moment, Newton seemed to have taken a new lease of life. Cashman booted to Newton's 35-yard line, a high-riding ball angled toward the sidelines, typical of his clever kicking. It was late in the game before a Cashman punt was run back more than five yards.

Bill Johnston started wide around right end on Newton's first play, but was hit hard and fumbled. Arlington recovering near the 20-yard line. A line buck was stopped by Al Thompson. Then Win Oliverio pulled his favorite pass, running to the right and throwing to the short man, Tom Prior, who cut back to elude three or four Newton players, and ran the remaining ten yards across the goal line untouched. Brad Thompson tore it to take the attempted placekick in the solar plexus, knocking him out for a moment, but it proved to be a valuable move.

For the rest of the half Newton was continually on the defensive. Late in the second period Paul Forte pivoted his way through a jam at left tackle and sprinted through the Arlington secondaries in a 75-yard jaunt to a touchdown, but the play was called back for a 15-yard penalty on Newton. McMullin got off a low spiral punt that Prior returned to the Arlington 43. The half ended on the next play.

Team Better in Second Half

Newton looked very much the part of an ineffectual green team easily discouraged by momentary setbacks, throughout the first half. When Forte shook himself loose for what looked like the touchdown run, the Newton morale was stepped up a few points at once. They returned to the field after the intermission very grim. Forte ran the kickoff back 15 yards to the Newton 30. The line pulled at Thompson through a first down, but Forte dropped a short pass and Arlington took the ball on downs. After three short gains in the line, an Arlington carrier bounced off Al Thompson's chest and fumbled, Newton recovering on their own 35-yard line.

At the start of the last quarter Arlington lined up in kick formation on third down, but the pass from center was a wild pitch that rolled almost to the Arlington goal. The referee gave Newton the ball, but reversed his decision, and Cashman kicked to midfield, where Bill Johnston bounced back fifteen yards with it, shaking off three tacklers. Paul Forte struck off the short left side with one interferer and raced 20 yards to Arlington's 18-yard line. Al Thompson and Bill Johnston went 15 yards in five plays for the touchdown that tied the score. Al Thompson carrying the ball in the last play that crossed the line. Then came the real high point of the game, with Al Thompson holding the ball for Bill Johnston's placekick with the line holding perfectly and with the crowd of 4500 holding its collective breath. The kick was only two or three feet above the crossbar, but through the uprights squarely in the middle, and Newton had won the 7-6 victory that duplicated the score of last year's victory at Arlington. A few plays later the game ended.

NEWTON UNDERDOG IN GAME WITH EVERETT

Newton's coaches Sanborn and Johnston have been drilling their charges on new passes and running plays all week in preparation for their game with Everett High tomorrow at Everett. In contrast to the set-up of the Arlington game, in which Newton was named the favorite, the orange and black will be the underdog in this contest. Everett is unscathed on this year, having beaten Keith Academy 19-0 and Salem High 6-0, while Newton has beaten Cambridge Latin 20-7 and Arlington 7-6.

Newton has by no means conceded defeat. Both players and coaches were disappointed with the showing made against Arlington, a team admittedly not as strong as Everett and all expect the Sanborn machine to roll when it finds itself. Bill Johnston, Newton quarterback who saw Everett conquer Keith Academy three weeks ago, thinks that Newton can win, and that Everett is not as good as last year. Coach Sanborn recalled the Columbus Day game of 1931, when Warren Huston threw nineteen passes, of which thirteen were completed. Newton lost the game 7-6 when Huston missed the placekick for the extra point. Everett started that game a 5-1 favorite. Captain Al Romboli, Everett High's gridiron Napoleon led his team to a 6-0 victory over a strong Salem eleven last Saturday at the Everett stadium. The stocky halfback almost single-handed brought the game home by a 55-yard runback through the whole Salem team in the second quarter. Romboli pulled in Eusko's punt on the Everett 45-yard line and sprinted diagonally to the goal line. It was the fifth consecutive year that Everett has beaten Salem, and gave some weight to Everett's bid for recognition as state champion. Newton plays Everett tomorrow afternoon on the latter's field in one of the biggest games of the holiday week-end. Both teams are undefeated to date.

Newton comes to this crucial game with Burt McMullin, Jim Joyce, Bill Johnston and Ernie Colantonio on the sick list, although any of them may be in the starting lineup.

Newton Highlights

Alex Kevorkian, 205-lb. junior, is the heaviest man in the new Harvard team that Coach Harlow has built this year. He played most of the Amherst game, and took his turn in the backfield to kick placement points after touchdowns. Last week he made good one in three—Which reminds us that Newton High has made three extra points in four attempts this season, a very good percentage—Gale Wisbach started at guard for Brown last week in the victory over R. I. State. Brad Dyer is on team B at North-eastern, and Howie Milner and Gerry DeNapoli are regulars on the Husky Freshman eleven. Johnny Frazier, Dunc Whitehill and Ewan Davis, all of Newtonville, are making the Wesleyan trip with the Bowdoin varsity. Ernie Savignano, versatile captain of Newton High football last fall, is at school in Morrilton, N. J.

Of Newton's opponents after Everett, Brockton and Waltham appear as the storm clouds on the schedule, while Rindge Tech is growing stronger. Brockton's Louis Montgomery and Waltham's John Krol pushed their veteran teams to victory over a pair of tough opponents by the identical score of 32-0 last Saturday while Newton required three quarters of its game to get a toe hold on the Dickinson Stadium turf and push over a touchdown. However, Newton has a young, strong, and occasionally brilliant team that may find itself tomorrow or a week from now, and when that happens, let the opposition beware.

Newton Highlights

The Newton Independents put the finishing touch on the local baseball season last Sunday at Cedar St. Field, Wellesley, outscoring Plymouth Town Team 4-3. Phil "Mucker" Greene, Newton High player, stole second and third in the eighth inning and scored the winning run on Phil Andres' hit. The Independents' first baseman, big Herb Berry of the Weeks Junior High faculty, hit a colossal home run in the first inning, which traveled over 300 feet. Joe Greene, winning pitcher, produced his top form of the long season to defeat the South Shore champions.

Jeff Jones, manager-coach of the Independents, who led the Newtonians to the Twin-County League pennant to the first season of the new league, presided as toastmaster at the league banquet Wednesday night in Boston. The Independents won 46 games and lost only 13, playing mostly in the Twin-County and Newton Two leagues.

Albert Everts, Jr., rated No. 1 in New England boys' tennis ranking this year, is the favorite in the fall tournament at Newton High school. Along with Everts, the other quarterfinalists are Ernest Johnson, Stewart Pattison, Lyman Robinson, Leonard LeSourd, Ed. Saunier, Art Pearson and Kenneth Nelson. Valia Ciccone, sister of the illustrious Elena, and Virginia Wilder are favored in the girls' fall tennis tourney. Newton High is organizing its first Varsity Club under the leadership of track coach Don Enoch. The club will undertake to promote good sportsmanship and courtesy in interscholastic athletics as one of its primary interests, and will include many of the varsity lettermen of last year. The Thompson twins, Leonard LeSourd and Bob Muther, varsity sports captains all, are leaders in the movement. Waltham High football stock took a dive Wednesday afternoon when Johnny Krol, mainspring of the Watch City backfield, suffered a severely sprained ankle in practice, which will bench him for several weeks. Now to see if Waltham was a one-man team, as alleged.

City Accepts Spear Estate

placing of the fountain at Newton Corner, but that he had received a letter from Mrs. Elicker, president of the Stearns School Centre in which she stated that to place the fountain at Newton Corner would create a traffic hazard. McCabe suggested that the little park be named after Miss Spear as a memorial to her. President Floyd said it is the prerogative of the Mayor to name parks. Alderman Cronin said that he voted "No" on the acceptance of the Spear property because it is not large enough for a playground, and will make a very small park which will not be used by anyone. He said that the Planning Board favored the acceptance of the property because two-apartment houses might be built on it. He argued that he can't see what difference it would make if such houses would be built there, as they may be erected across the street on the former Soule estate. Cronin said that anyone walking down Washington st. won't stop to sit on benches which may be placed on the Spear park, and that it would be better to have this property placed on the market for sale. Cronin was the only alderman to vote against the acceptance of the gift.

Nonantum Youth Found Suffocated

Arthur W. Terrio, 23, of 29 Faxon st., Nonantum, was found suffocated in his automobile near a stone quarry off South st., Waltham, last Saturday evening. Ralph Hollis of Waltham was testing brakes on his car and drove into the road leading to the quarry. He noticed an automobile parked on the road and saw a young man running. Investigating, he found young Terrio slumped in the front seat of the car, lifeless. Fumes from the motor exhaust were entering the car. Waltham police were notified and the youth was taken to the Waltham Hospital where he was pronounced dead.

Young Terrio was born in Nonantum, the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Terrio. He bore a good reputation and for the past five years had been regularly employed on milk routes by James Hickey of West Newton and later by the J. R. Prescott Company of Bedford. He had been unable to sleep days and apparently had a nervous breakdown. He is survived by his parents; six brothers, Francis, Clarence, George, Henry, Thomas and Edmund Terrio, and four sisters—Mrs. Effie Cotton, Mrs. Louis Cook, Mrs. Margaret Berard, and Mrs. Mary Teehan. His funeral service was held on Tuesday at St. Jean Evangeliste Church, Nonantum, and burial was in Calvary Cemetery, Waltham.

The Trend of the Times

EDWIN C. HILL, in his Human Side of the News, recently remarked:

"Business men from all parts of the country tell me that the trend is to thrift. They point to increased savings banks deposits and to the attention which the individual is paying to his buying."

Are you following the trend of the times? Saving again now that you are working again?

Delightful Birthday Celebration

On Tuesday, October 6th, the Auburndale Review Club celebrated its 45th birthday, meeting at the residence of its president, Mrs. Guy M. Winslow.

After the regular business meeting the program of the morning took the club members to England, for the beginning of the year's study of "Europe Today." Miss Elizabeth Wells gave an interesting paper on "The Royal Family." Mrs. E. Sherman Chase, presented a very clear and concise story of "English Statecraft" and Mrs. Ernest Braithwaite guided her hearers through the beautiful countryside with word-pictures of the village life in "Rural England."

The hostess then invited the members to the dining room where tables were set with beautiful silver and china, with lighted violet candles (the club color). In the center of the table arranged for past presidents and charter members was a large birthday cake with its 45 lighted candles. With the box luncheons, the hostess served delicious ice cream and coffee and slices of the birthday cake.

The luncheon over, Mrs. Dana Kendall with Mrs. Franklin E. Leland at the piano, sang to the tune of "Long, Long Ago," a stanza composed by the president especially for the occasion:

"Let us remember the days that are gone,
Long, long ago; long, long ago.
And celebrate the Review Club's birthday
Of forty-five years ago.
Now has our Club calmly reached middle age,
Noted for study and papers so sage
Since that first day, long ago."

Mrs. William H. Blood, a charter member, next told of the "Early days of the Review Club." Starting in October, 1891, with 24 members present, they began with the "Study of the 16th Century." At first they had nine papers each morning, but soon decided three was enough.

When trying to find a name, it was decided that the topics covered so much ground they could only "skim over" them, so the Review Club seemed a most appropriate name.

Many and varied have been the topics of study through these 45 years. Miss Elizabeth A. Rider, also a Charter member, gave some amusing incidents of the early years.

To the tune of "Just a-wearyin' for you," Mrs. Kendall sang another poem written by Mrs. Winslow:

"Just a little song to you,
Charter members, tried and true,
Take our love and thankfulness,
You who've made a great success
Of this Club throughout the days,
Here's our love and grateful praise."

The birthday party ended with the singing of "Auld Lang Syne."

Autumn Meeting At Amherst

Massachusetts State College, at Amherst, will be host to the State Federation of Women's Clubs, opening Stockbridge Hall for the Fall Meeting, on Saturday, October 17th. The morning session will begin at 10:30 o'clock, and close at 12:30. The afternoon session will begin at 2 o'clock, and close at 4:30 p. m.

Amherst is easily accessible by automobile, and many clubwomen will make up groups for this delightful trip through fall foliage. From this section drivers should take Route 9 from Worcester. For those clubwomen who are not invited to ride with some friend, and who do not drive their own cars, transportation will be made available if they will communicate with Mrs. Charles R. Storey, chairman of Meetings, 248 West Elm street, Brockton.

The Credentials and Registration committee will be on duty in Stockbridge Hall from 9 a. m. until the close of the meeting on the 17th.

Among the items of business to be presented to the meeting will be one from the State Council in regard to the Federation's policy as to Resolutions. This policy will deal with the length of life of a resolution, the method of lengthening or terminating after a certain period, and the restriction germane to the subject of the first resolution.

Speakers at the morning session will include Dr. Hugh F. Baker, president of Massachusetts State College; several officers of the State Federation; and Mrs. Dwight Chapman, winner of the Peace Prize presented by the Federation of American Women's Clubs in Europe. At an afternoon session there will be a Symposium by students on "Youth's Attitude on Peace." Miss Jeanette Rankin will be the speaker of the afternoon and is the first woman elected to the Congress of the United States. Since her term in Congress, Miss Rankin has worked persistently for the establishment of peace. A prominent figure at the International Meeting of Women, she attended meetings of the Assembly of the League of Nations and has been for several years Associate Secretary for the National Council for the Prevention of War.

Luncheon will be convenient for clubwomen, in that the College Cafeteria will be open to those attending the meeting, and nearby hotels include the Perry, the Davenport, and the Lord Jeffrey, Amherst.

Besides the date—October 17th—of the meeting, there is the weekend which offers delightful possibilities for clubwomen who can play truant, and stay over Sunday, as many already are planning to do.

Mrs. Storey announces that the entire Faculty of the College, and the 6,000 population of this college town, assure gracious hospitality. Next will be visitors be able to see the college buildings which are located in the beautiful town in the heart of Connecticut Valley. In the Samuel Jones Library may be seen William A. Barnett's collection of paintings and objects of art. There is the Postorial Society, Woman's Club, Dickinson-Baggs Tavern—which clubwomen do not need to be told is owned by the founder of the Review Club. Within a radius of five miles there is historic Old Hadley, Old Deerfield, and across the Connecticut River, Smith College at Northampton.

Giving information as to hotels and inns and rates, Mrs. Storey says that her first suggestion is The Lord Jeffrey, where rates range from $5.00 to $8.00 per day.

Her second suggestion is Davenport Inn, where Mrs. Davenport will be able to take care of about twelve women. Here a single room is $1.50; a double room $2.50; breakfast, 50 cents; luncheon, and dinner, each 75 cents. Mrs. Davenport also will have several good rooms in nearby homes, available at a modest price. Then, if clubwomen do not mind a nine-mile drive there is the Northampton Hotel at Northampton which is considered very good. Mrs. Storey states, And she wishes further that reservations should be made direct with the hotels or inns, as soon as possible.

All of which information leads one to believe that this Autumn Meeting can hold many pleasurable events.

Herbert Hale, president of the Woman's Club of Newton Highlands, in her opening remarks at the first meeting held Tuesday, October 6th, at 2:30 p. m., in the Congregational Parish House, announced the beginning of the Club year with 356 members, a gain of five members over this time last Fall.

Mrs. Henry H. Skelton, chairman of the Education committee, gave details covering the course of lectures on Mental Hygiene sponsored by the Club. Mrs. Carl C. Mrs. Ray S. Kelley, chairman of the Music committee, invited all members who wished to join the Club Chorus to meet at the Workshop on Friday, October 9th, at 10 a. m. Mrs. Lloyd Yeager, chairman of the Dramatics committee, asked all members interested in drama readings to put their names on a paper before leaving the Parish House. Mrs. Ralph G. Boyd, chairman of the Art committee, spoke of the Weaving Classes to be held every Wednesday at 10 a. m., and announced a lecture on Period Furniture for November 20th, at 10:30 a. m. in the Workshop.

Mrs. George W. Barker, Miss Florence W. Marble, Mrs. Karl Kolb, Mrs. Edward H. Ruby, Mrs. William T. Coveney, Mrs. Hollis B. Vaughan, Miss Thalia Clark and Mrs. Charles H. Miss Beatrice Bowry, of Wm. Filene's Sons Company, conducted the Fashion Show, and her personality and quick wit gave the members of the Club a very entertaining hour, as well as much useful guidance in selecting the winter wardrobe.

A Variety of Attractive Events

The members of the Newtonville Woman's Club will find that their home has been a scene of activity during the summer. As a result, the Auditorium will appear in a new dress of buff with touches of green. Pleasing indirect lights and extended window-sills where plants may be placed add to the attractiveness. A widened staircase in Social Hall will mean greater convenience. Mrs. H. Clayton Pearson, the president, and Mrs. Henry M. Weidner, of the Maintenance committee, spent many hours in the summer at the Club House directing these improvements.

The Club is looking forward to the Reception on October 20th. Music by the Kovitz Trio and an Art Exhibition will be entertaining features.

The American Home committee, Mrs. George W. Hinman, chairman, announces that the first lesson in Contract Bridge will be given at the Club House on October 13th, at 12:15 p. m., with Mrs. Charles H. Geisler as the teacher. Reservations may be made with Mrs. George H. Tracy. This very active committee also is offering a Talk on "Period Furniture," by Margaret Cummings Mason, at the home of Mrs. Warren Brimblecom, on October 14th, at 2:30 p. m.

The "Cook-out" held at War's Cove met with such success that Mrs. Hinman promises another similar get-together for October 21st, and Mrs. Frank A. Wightman will answer questions as to "where and how."

Mrs. Raymond Tucker and her committee are busy with preparations for the Dutch Bazaar to be held on October 27th. They are planning novel features, a luncheon, dinner, and for the tables articles suitable for household use and gifts.

The International Relations committee reminds the Club members of the "Six Thursday Morning Lectures" by Mrs. Frank M. Taylor. The dates are November 12th, December 10th, January 14th, February 27th, March 11th, and March 25th.

Two Interesting Lecture Courses

On Wednesday, October 14th, at 10:30 a. m. in the Workshop of the Newton Highlands Woman's Club, Mrs. J. Clifford Ross will give the first of a series of three lectures on Interior Decorating. Mrs. Hugh Stevens, whose telephone is Cen. New. 1097-W, has charge of reservations. On the same day, at 10 a. m., Mrs. Hazel Gove will open her course in Voice and Platform Assurance, at 122 Lincoln street.

Juniors To Hear Timely Lecture On Politics

The Junior Woman's Club of Newton Highlands held a most enjoyable Acquaintance Tea at the Workshop on Sunday, September 27th. The first regular meeting of the Club will be on Tuesday, October 13th, at 7 o'clock. A Buffet Supper is planned for members and prospective members, and is to be served at St. Paul's Episcopal Church. Mothers of club members are assisting in the preparation of the supper. Miss Ellen Jane Cooley will act as hostess for the evening.

Following the supper, Mr. James Ernest King, of the Boston Evening Transcript staff, will speak on the subject "Local and National Politics."

At Home Day For New Members and Trip to Hood's

With the membership and reception committees as hostesses the Newton Centre Women's Club will be "at home" to the new members on October 16th, from 3 to 5 p. m., at the Club House. For their first Fall activity, the American Home committee of the Newton Centre Women's Club offers on Friday afternoon, October 16th, a Trip to inspect the Hood Milk Plant in Charlestown. A bus furnished, free of charge, will leave the Club House at 1:15 p. m., returning about 4 p. m. Since the capacity of the bus is limited to thirty persons, an early application is necessary, although others are welcome if they provide their own transportation.

The interesting inspection of the Hood Milk Plant enables one to see how milk is bottled for delivery, the special preparation of milk for babies, and the manufacture of ice cream.

First Meeting of Federation Board

On Tuesday, October 13th, at 10 a. m., the first meeting of the Executive Board of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs will be held in Jewett Hall, Newton Library, 414 Centre street, Newton. This is an important meeting, as final details for the Fall Conference to be held on October 19th, in the Union Church, Waban, will be arranged.

PROF. CLARENCE G. HAMILTON

said: "If you teach in your own quarters, take care to keep informed as to what encouragement your pupil receives at home and especially as to what sort of instrument he is practicing upon. A pupil once asked me if my piano was not badly out of tune just after it had been put in prime condition. On investigation I found that her own piano had not been tuned for years, and that her ears had become so educated to false pitch that correct pitch sounded wrong to her. Insist, therefore, that your pupils keep their pianos in proper condition." J. W. Tapper, Piano Tuner, Newton Hds., Cen. New. 1306, 09-2t

Lanno May Get Sewer To House

Dominic Lanno of 20 Broadway ter., Newtonville, who for the past two years has vainly attempted to persuade the Newton Board of Aldermen to authorize the construction of a sewer to his home, may finally succeed. Lanno petitioned for the sewer in 1935 and was turned down after William J. Doherty of 15 Broadway had objected. Doherty objected because he owns a lot of land abutting Broadway ter. and would have to pay part of the cost of the sewer. Again this year Lanno petitioned for the sewer; again he was refused. The petitioner told the Aldermen that the health of his family had been jeopardized because of the cesspool in his yard overflowing, and that he could not retain tenants in the other apartment in his house. The Newton Board of Health reported that the sewer was necessary for the health of Lanno's family, but the Aldermen refused to authorize its construction and several members of the Board asserted that a new cesspool would care for the sewage and meet health requirements.

At the meeting of the Aldermen on Monday night, Alderman Hutchinson of the Public Works Committee asked that a hearing be ordered at the next meeting of the Board on Oct. 19, to permit Lanno to present another petition for the sewer. Hutchinson said that through the good offices of the City Solicitor, it is probable that the objection to the sewer withdrawn. Alderman Temperley said that he voted in favor of Lanno's petition a few months ago. He asked why the members who had opposed the sewer have changed their attitude. Alderman Hutchinson said he had opposed the sewer because of the opposition of an abuttor, but in view of developments, it is probable the opposition may be withdrawn. Temperley commented that the explanation made the matter about as clear as before.

Alderman Cronin said he had also opposed the sewer, but that Lanno had come to him a few days ago and had offered to pay the entire cost of the sewer. The Board voted to order the hearing for another petition from Lanno.

Hearing On Oak Hill Bus Line

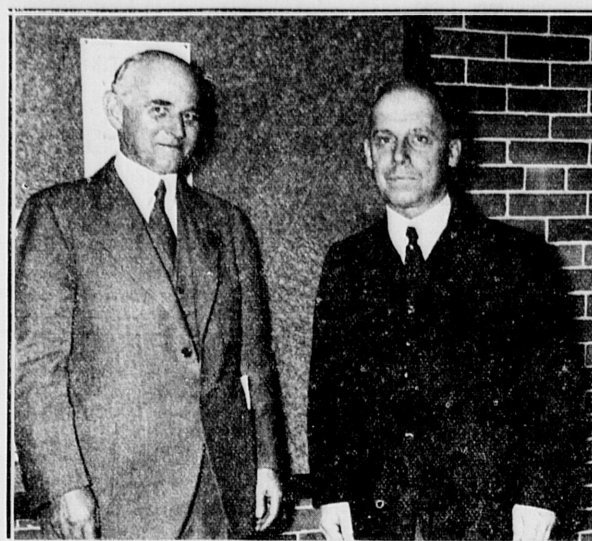

A hearing was held on Wednesday before the Dept. of Public Utilities at the State House on the petition at the Middlesex & Boston Street Railway to operate busses from Newton Centre to Cleveland Circle, Boston, over Beacon st. Newton and Boston have granted permits. Among those who spoke in favor of the petition were City Solicitor Bartlett, Aldermen Inches and Colby; Otis D. Fellows for the Newton Centre Improvement Society; Mrs. Vincent Roberts of Chestnut Hill and residents of Oak Hill. The petition was opposed by several residents along Beacon st. who alleged that the busses might cause a traffic hazard and some of whom feared that such plebeian vehicles might lessen the values of their properties. The remonstrants included—Leo Nawn, M. L. Fahey, William Miller and William E. Soule; the latter appearing for Charles O'Malley.

Large Crowd At Haigis Rally

The auditorium of the Frank A. Day School at Newtonville was filled on Monday night at a Republican rally. The speakers included John W. Haigis, candidate for Governor; Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., candidate for Senator; Leverett Saltonstall, Felix Forte and Arthur W. Hollis. Mrs. Haigis was introduced by Mayor Edwin O. Childs and Robert W. Bushnell presided. While a warm welcome was given to Mr. Haigis, even more hearty applause was accorded Mr. Saltonstall and Mr. Lodge. Mr. Bushnell was quite effective as chairman of the meeting, and his humorous sallies made a hit with the crowd. The various speakers attacked the wasteful acts and ruthless conduct of the present State administrator and predicted a sweeping victory for the entire Republican ticket.

Waban Boy Runs Unregistered Car

A 15 year old Waban boy who resides on Quinobequin rd., was arraigned in the juvenile session of the Newton court last Friday on driving a car without a license, operating an unregistered car, and operating a stolen car had been received; but none had. Later a citizen reported that the car was still in the woods. On September 7 the police went to the place but the car was gone. At 10:30 p. m. the police returned to watch and about 11 o'clock the car was driven back to the place by the boy who was in court.

He told the policemen that he had bought an old car at Newton Centre for $15, obtained the South Carolina plates from a neighbor's garage, and parked the vehicle in the woods so that he could operate it without his parents' knowledge.

Newton Police Catch Fugitive

Armas Roiba, 24, of 77 Brighton ave., Allston, escaped from Middlesex County Prison at Billerica last Saturday, but his freedom was of short duration because of the alertness of Patrolman James Halloran, of the Newton police. Halloran, who was on duty in Nonantum Square recognized Roiba from a description which had been broadcast as the jail breaker entered a restaurant at Newton Corner in the early hours of Sunday morning. Halloran, together with Patrolman Walker, followed Roiba into the restaurant and the latter tried to flee. But the door he entered led into a lavatory instead of outdoors, and he was captured. Officers from Billerica took him back to the prison a couple of hours later.

Home Craft Club To Hold Annual Exhibit

Local Residents Excel in Home Hobby

On Monday evening, October 19th, between 7:30 and 9:00 p. m., at the Methodist Episcopal Church, Newton Centre, the Home Crafters Club will have their annual exhibit of woodwork. It will be remembered that a year ago this unusual exhibit created a good deal of interest in Newton.

The club was formed several years ago by two Newton business men who having wood-work for a hobby, conceived the idea of organizing a club for men who are interested in the same line of endeavor. The idea met with immediate enthusiasm and the club was started with about twenty-five members. The membership now numbers about seventy. It is a very respectable club having among its members doctors, lawyers, bankers, business men, etc., who find this hobby a fascinating one. The club meets the first and third Mondays of each month, from October to April, at the Newton Trade School where the principles of cabinet making and various line work of the crafts are taken up, sometimes by the more expert members and sometimes by an outside teacher. The exhibition this year will have many reproductions of early American furniture and copies of pieces by the old masters—Sheraton, Chippendale, Hepplewhite, Adams and Duncan Phyfe. The wood craft display will be especially interesting as well as the intricate projects of inlay and marquetry. Another group will comprise many samples of wood turning in its various forms.

Every member of the club, of course, is an amateur but some of the pieces turned out by the men are truly objects of art and worthy of the most expert craftsmen.

A large attendance is expected and all those who are interested will be welcome to see this really unusual display.

Young Republicans Plan Meetings Through Winter

At the open meeting of the Young Republican Club of the Newtons, held in Newton Centre on Wednesday evening, Mr. Lawrence Tucker, president of the state council of Young Republican Clubs, spoke on the broad purposes of the Young Republican Club movement; and Mrs. Endicott Salton, state committee-woman, entertained the audience by telling them about her own advent into the field of politics and some of her political experiences.

After speaking of the organization and purposes of the Young Republican Club of the Newtons, Mrs. Frederick P. Walther, Jr., chairman of the Executive Committee, presented specific plans for the coming season. The nucleus of the program is a series of open forum meetings modeled upon the form used at the Radio Town Hall Forums. The next meeting will be the last open meeting and will be held on October 28th, at the Warren School in West Newton. This meeting will mark the official close of the drive for charter membership and will be on the order of a pre-election rally.

On November 25th there will be a forum on City of Newton politics. Several of the city officials to be invited will speak and answer questions asked by the members. At this time, also, a nominating committee will be chosen to suggest nominees for the officers for 1937. The annual election of officers will take place on January 15th. In February the Executive Committee plans a dinner-dance and reception in honor of the newly elected officers.

In the following months the open forum meetings will be resumed, the tentative plans including:

In March a forum on politics in Middlesex County; in April a forum on politics in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts; in May a forum which will be conducted by the members of the Young Republican Club with a question and answer discussion.

tucked into an angle of the house is heavily timbered and emphatically French in spirit.

The interior, too, has a definite French accent. It is evident first in the library where the fine oak panelling, chemically treated to enhance its natural beauty, picks up the highlights from the copper-cowled fireplace when the sunlight sifts through the multipaned windows.

From the spacious stair hall, the dining-room opens at the rear and the living-room steps down to a lower level, the windows of both overlooking the terraced garden that slopes away from the house toward a lily pool.

Only on the palette of an artist could the color schemes for the master's, guest's and family bedrooms originate. Very discreetly the French tri-color has been introduced in the decorative scheme. When the mood for gaiety is dominant, or guests drop in for a merry evening, Rue Chanticleer will lead to "Le Coq d'Or" where the proper password may admit to the Wine Cellar.

The "Atelier" on the third floor suggests studio space for the artistic member of the family or a dormitory for overflow guests.

The acre size lot has been intelligently landscaped so that much of its virginal beauty has been preserved and the house itself fits so completely into the pastoral picture, that it appears to have been rooted there for centuries. The important details include: G. E. oil furnace, rock wool insulation, Vitrolite glass panelling, Neo Angle bathtubs, magé chef stove, slate roofs and the glamour that is typically Brodrick.

TIME WILL ANSWER THE QUESTION

A new high mark in the registered vote of Newton. The situation here is duplicated in many other parts of the state and nation, giving rise to the question as to what it means. Democratic politicians will say that it is the result of more intensive effort on their part in recent years. Republicans will also say that they have been extremely active in this direction and more earnestly in the past few months than prior to 1930 when the State went Democratic for the first time in many years. Many politicians of both parties say that the G.O.P. took things too easy in the days when their party was securely seated in the saddle and that the efforts of the Democratic party to overtake them have been permanently successful. Increased activity on both sides is partially responsible but not the only reason.

Another factor which the Republicans see in the increased registrations is a protest vote against the administration of both the national and state governments while many Democrats profess to see in it an endorsement of the political trend of recent times. No one can make any positive predictions regarding the coming election although it is clearly evident that some candidates have little to worry about. As election day approaches there is every reason to believe that the total popular vote as well as the total electoral vote for President will be extremely close. And the outcome will probably be decided in the farm states of the Middle West and the large eastern states of New York, Pennsylvania, and Ohio.

If the increased registration figures mean a protest vote against the extravagance and disregard of American traditions as expressed in the Constitution by the present national administration and a protest against the demagogic and ruthless power exerted in this state it will show in the counting of ballots on November 3rd. In this state, at least, there is every indication that such will be the result but the only certain thing about it is that time alone will tell.

THE TAX LIMITATION PLAN

Recent reports of the issuance of petitions for an amendment to the Constitution of Massachusetts limiting the tax assessment on real estate to two and one-half percent of the assessed valuation are of grave importance to every property owner in the state. Expressed in simpler language the plan would limit the tax bill of such a property owner to $25 for each $1000 of valuation. In such towns where the tax rate is less than this rate it would be ineffective. In such cities and towns where the rate is higher it would mean an allotment by the state to such city or town to make up the difference required to finance the city or town operations. The allotment would be made by an Allocation Board which would endeavor to keep the city or town in line against unwise expenditures. During recent years the tax burden on property has become extremely heavy and too far out of proportion as it has been practically the only means of revenue for the smaller political subdivisions of the state. Approval of the amendment would be granted by two successive legislatures and then by a favorable vote by referendum so that the earliest the plan could be effective would be in 1941. It is our belief that a tax limitation plan has much in its favor but it should not be adopted without other revisions in our system of taxation calculated on a basis of sound and economical governmental expenditures.

NINETY YEARS AGO

"Ninety years without slumbering." That is what the song about grandfather's clock says. But the field of medical science invaded the realm of sleep just ninety years ago as a means of relieving patients during operations. Today is Ether Day. On October 16th in 1846 the anesthesia known as ether was first used in a surgical operation at the Mass. General Hospital in the removal of a tumor from a young man's neck. It had been tried out previously by a young dentist, Dr. W. T. G. Morton, on the removal of a tooth from a patient. Dr. Henry P. Bigelow, one of the many leading physicians of that day who witnessed the operation, stated after the success of the new experiment, "I have seen something this day which will go 'round the world." Dr. Bigelow and his confreres watched the development of anesthesia and were among the first to realize its importance. It is not difficult to realize the comfort ether, and today many other forms of anesthetics, have brought to humanity. Without it medical science would have been far from its position of today.

The announcement of the speakers for the coming season of the Community Forum has aroused considerable interest. One of the meetings which will undoubtedly prove greatly stimulating is that scheduled for December 20th when there will be a panel discussion on current issues by seven well-known local citizens. Those who will take part include James R. Hancock, president of the American Institute of Finance and a member of the Forum; Henry L. Harman, Chairman of the Board of the New England Power Association, former President of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, and a director of the Metropolitan Planning Board; Dr. D. Brewer Eddy, Secretary of the American Commissioners of Foreign Missions and a member of the Forum; Dr. Kirtley F. Mather, geologist, director of the Harvard Summer School, President of the Boston Centre for adult education, member of the Newton School Committee, and President of the Forum; Mrs. Miriam Francis Skirball, lecturer and writer; William Trugant Foster, director Pollak Foundation for Economic Research, and Lucius E. Thayer, lawyer and member of the Board of Directors of the Summer Institute for Social Progress at Wellesley College.

The selection of Philip C. Jacobs, Jr., son of Philip C. Jacobs of 41 Pearl st., Newton, as a member of the Honors Group in the department of electrical engineering, was announced at M. I. T. this week. The members of this group are given considerable freedom from class attendance and the assignments. They carry on their work largely on their own initiative with the advice and guidance of members of the faculty under a plan designed to develop originality, intellectual courage and self-reliance. Mr. Jacobs transferred to the Institute from Cornell University where he studied for three years.

Members and friends of the Newton Methodist Episcopal Church will celebrate Sunday, Oct. 18th, the fortieth anniversary of the erection of the present church edifice. At 10:30 a. m. the sermon will be delivered by Bishop Charles Wesley Burns of Boston. The chorus choir, under the direction of Mrs. William Gunter, will sing several anthems. Miss Barbara Turner of Waltham will be the soloist.

At 7:30 in the evening a sacred program of favorite Gospel hymns and instrumental numbers will be presented by "Uncle Elmer's Song Circle" of radio fame. He will bring a group of 16 singers and musicians with him. The anniversary dinner will be served at 6:30 p. m. Wednesday evening, Oct. 21, in the church vestry. Words of greeting will be given by several former pastors. The Immanuel Church Ensemble, a group of six talented musicians from Waltham will furnish special music.

Newton Republican, October 17, 1874
The lanterns at the corners of the streets are having the street names placed upon them. A desirable improvement.

And now the tower at Eliot Block at Newton mounts high in the air. An elegant building to be, says every one.

Men, look at the beautiful, black, silk hats at White & Warren's, only $5; they are nobby.

On October 1st the owners of the Newton Mills at Newton Upper Falls reduced the hours of labor to 10 hours a day, according to the laws of the Commonwealth, running extra time for 5 days, in order to let them stop on Saturdays at 3 o'clock.

Another acquisition to Upper Falls and one that was badly needed is a blacksmith shop which Mr. Kneeland has lately erected on Eliot street.

When the fire alarm came in Saturday night for the fire at Captain Daniels' house at Newton Corner, the striker at Ladder 1 house in Newtonville did not ring and the ladder boys did not know where to go until Steamer 2 from West Newton came along. The men heard the engine bell ring at Ward 1 and got the alarm from that. But, every man was out and they went as soon as they knew where to go.

Newton Graphic, October 16, 1886

The three severe cases of typhoid fever among prominent young people of this city have fortunately taken on milder symptoms and the friends of the invalids are relieved from their great anxiety.

Tuesday the officers and directors of the Boston & Albany railroad made an official inspection of the new Circuit branch, including the new station at Newton Highlands, the proposed sites of stations between Newton Highlands and Riverside, and the tunnel at Auburndale.

Horace Crocker of Fayette st., Newton, proposes to try and break the tri-cycle record at the Lynn track next week.

The old Baptist Church building on Washington st., Newton, was sold at auction on Saturday to Henry C. Daniels for $105. He will move it down to the Nonantum Stables at Newton Corner.

W. H. Huntley of Nonantum rode 265 miles in his recent 24 hours' ride on his high bicycle. This was 8 miles above of the record he made over the roads last November. He would have done better had it not been that he became sick during the latter part of his ride and could not take any refreshments.

Since January 1st, City Marshal Hammond and his officers have served 14 search warrants for liquor and made 11 seizures. The amount of liquor seized was 86 gallons. The number of persons brought before the court for liquor violations was 12. Six were convicted and six discharged.

25 YEARS AGO

Newton Graphic, October 20, 1911

Letter to Editor, Gentlemen:

This year I suggested the way to fill stands at the Newton High baseball games is to charge 10c or 15c, instead of 25c, as at Waltham. The "powers that be" paid no attention to my suggestion and all but about 20 of the 1400 pupils at the school went home instead of attending each game. Now, the football games have commenced and the charge is 25c. Last Saturday about 30 pupils attended and paid. Is it not foolish for the management to persist in the 25c charge? Charge 10c and fill the grandstand. (Signed) J. S. M. H.

The annual fall outing of the Board of Aldermen and city officials was held on Monday and proved an enjoyable occasion. The party left City Hall about 9 o'clock in eight automobiles and were shown many streets which Street Commissioner Ross wishes to reconstruct with appropriations expected to be made for next year. The new playgrounds were also visited and the water reservation at Needham, Lunch followed at the Brae Burn Club and the afternoon was spent in conferences.

A fatal automobile accident occurred last Saturday morning when Thomas Burke, 9, son of Patrick Burke of Chapel st., Nonantum, was almost instantly killed at Washington and Adams sts. by a high-powered automobile owned by Joseph F. Flanagan of Walnut park, Newton, and driven by his son, Edward Flanagan.

Just to show what it could do when unhampered by committee meetings, the Board of Aldermen last Monday night transacted all its business and adjourned in about three-quarters of an hour. Mayor Hatfield sent in a veto of the vote of the Aldermen in revoking the liquor transportation permit of Domenico Guzzi, and it was laid on the table. The Mayor's veto was based on the ground that the Aldermen have no right to revoke such a permit.

Powers' Paragraphs

Over in Egypt the huge pyramids have stood for centuries and centuries as memorials in stone to kings of that ancient land. In India is the world's outstanding architectural gem—The Taj Mahal, erected by a Mogul emperor as a tribute to his deceased queen. Out in the rocky face of a mountain in Dakota, Gutzon Borglum and his assistants have been busy for years carving gigantic likenesses of former Presidents of this country. Memorials in stone are among the most lasting of man's achievements. For this reason rulers of past ages and of the present age have sanctioned their construction or sculpturing.

For the past year and more we have been observing all over this State the placing of stones which will serve to commemorate the reign of King James the First of Massachusetts. Away down Cape Cod they line the highways that skirt the sandy dunes. Far up on the hills toward the Berkshires the State roads which wind through the forests are bordered by the curbstones sponsored by Mr. Curley. Pedestrians are few and far between in these regions, but granite endures and the curbing may last for centuries. It may protect future generations, if and when the waste lands of a country will become populated with people. And then historians will delve into the past to ascertain who was responsible for such consideration of human lives. The memory of King James, the apostle of highway safety, will be revered.

We took an automobile trip over the week-end through Vermont to one of our favorite regions, the country around Coaticook, Quebec. The foliage in the Green Mountain State was gorgeous and one could understand the enthusiasm it aroused in John Burroughs who wrote that the thing which impressed him most in this country was the autumn foliage in Vermont. The gale of last Monday, however, blew most of the brightly colored leaves from the maples.

The preceding Saturday we took a trip through the White Mountains, going up through Franconia Notch and returning through Crawford Notch. The foliage was disappointing. The leaves on most of the deciduous trees had not turned, and the rains and winds of the succeeding week caused them to fall.

Patrons of the Boston Elevated Railway Company who must regularly commute between Newton and Boston, on the cars of that corporation, regularly complain to us regarding the filthy condition of the car windows. They say that so dirty are the windows, that passengers with delicate stomachs almost become nauseated. What a contrast from the days when General Hancock was in charge of the Boston street railway system, and when the cars were thoroughly cleaned every day, both inside and outside. We refer this complaint to two residents of this city—Henry I. Harriman, chairman of the Board of Trustees, and Edward E. Whiting, a member of the Board of Trustees. We wonder how often either of these gentlemen ride between Newton and Boston on the cars of the Boston Elevated?

A Newton woman, long a resident of this city, asked us to say something about the practice of many Newton residents who lead their dogs onto neighbor's lawns for "exercise." Some of these dog owners even become insulted when a property owner will object to the use of a lawn as a canine "rest room." We are quite fond of dogs, but we don't own one because we live in a thickly settled neighborhood and such a district is no place for dogs. It isn't giving dogs a square deal to keep them confined in houses, and it does not give the neighbors a square deal to have dogs trespassing onto other persons' properties, or to keep neighbors awake during all hours of the night by barking.

For the past three nights (from midnight until early morning) we have been awakened at intervals by battle royals between a half dozen or more gentlemen dogs that are paying court to a lady dog which dwells a short distance from our residence. And this canine convalesces us more and more that Newton should have a dog officer. Because we know that in our district a large percentage of the dogs are not licensed, and the law pertaining to the licensing of dogs has been disregarded in Newton by the police for many years.

THE NEWTONS are largely filled with political "ments"—speeches made by spellbinders of the Republican, Democratic and Union for Social Justice parties; comments by political columnists. For weeks radio broadcasting stations have been using much of their time in sending political addresses through the air. Hidebound Republicans have always voted that ticket and will always continue to. Lifelong Democrats are of the same type. The economic conditions of the past eight years have caused many former Republicans to espouse the more liberal Democratic party. The evident prostitution of much of the billions appropriated by the Federal government for relief purposes has resulted in large numbers of former Democrats deciding to vote for Republican candidates. The majority of the voters of this country have already made up their minds for what party they will vote next month. But, it is safe to say that never before, in the history of this country, are so many people undecided, with the election but a couple of weeks distant, whether they will cast a ballot for the Democratic candidate for President, or for the Republican candidate. Never before has this country been faced with such conditions as confront it today. One thing is certain. Had the administration of the ERA, PWA, WPA, and other relief activities been conducted in a more efficient manner, had they been kept free from politics, there would have been little or no doubt of President's Roosevelt's re-election.

"Should New Acquaintance—"

He was one of those super-friendly fellows you happen to encounter once in a while, who is often enough, despite the fact that I was reading a newspaper to pass the time on our trolley journey to Boston, this man started a conversation. He would have done so with whoever dropped into the unoccupied seat at his side. He didn't begin until I had scanned the first page. Then he asked, "Much news this morning?" Although surprised, I remembered my manners and answered politely, saying I had not encountered much that was startling. "Who do you think is going to be elected?" was his next question. I admitted I was unable to state. He proceeded to enlighten me. For the greater part of the ride I moved my paper about, unable to concentrate. Finally I gave up all attempt and folded up the paper. I saw he was watching, though not ceasing his talk. I said, "You are like to read it?" "No," he replied, "I'm just as much obliged to you. But if you're finished reading, mister, why don't you tackle the cross-word puzzle. I think I might be able to help you."

Crisp and Tangy

I'll gladly take an apple, thanks. Regardless of its name; Variety means naught to me, My appetite's the same For Astrakhan or Gravenstein, Janet or Northern Spy. I'll eat them plain or baked or fried, Though best—a juicy pie! Give me Ben Davis, Maiden's Blush, Blue Pearmain, Gilly Flower, Rhode Island Greening, Willow Twig, They're welcome any where. Wolf River, Sheep's Nose, McIntosh, Winesap and Russet rare, Delicious, York Imperator! Ye gods, what royal fare! Sweet, River Bountie, Baldwin or Whatever the name they bear, I only wish that Apple Week Would last throughout the year.

Horse Chestnut Mystery

I do not believe owners of horse chestnut trees in Newton enjoy the popularity that comes to them regularly at this period of the year. Children descend upon their places with sticks, rocks and other effective missiles, and, unless thwarted, do much towards wanton destruction of property. In an attempt to be judicial, I have sought to recall what I did myself as a small boy was. I have chestnuts I managed to gather. To my best recollection the game was to see how many you could collect. You merely hoarded and let it go at that. The accumulation was allowed to mould and was finally thrown out when the cellar was cleaned. I never heard of any use for horse chestnuts except as a charm to be carried on one's person to keep away rheumatism. I have watched the boys lately and, noting their industry, have felt that if there is anything in this medicinal powers theory, there should be a complete absence of rheumatism in many sections.

Neighborhood Pest

It is not that the poetry and romance of the golden Autumnal season fail to impress me. Indeed, I am almost carried away as it were by the numerous charms that come to us at this time. I feel confident I would be completely transported, swept to the realm of ecstatic bliss, were it not for the individual who seems to inhabit about every neighborhood—the man who insists upon burning leaves and maintaining a smudge that annoys all adjacent residents. What neighborhood is free from the chronic bonfire expert—the one who disregards the fact there may be wash hanging out next door or that the day is warm and windows are open. Neither does he care how much the rest of us cough and splutter and wipe our eyes. Yes, he's one of those things imposed upon us presumably to see how much we can stand.

Same Old Song

How often some present-day occurrence will start a flood of memories. You may happen on to a situation that turns your mental store of photographic records upside down. The other day I heard a political candidate tell what he would achieve the third of November. I recalled 25 years ago he told me almost the same thing. The cards were then supposed to be against him but he tossed off his threats of defeat. Since then he has had his ups and downs. It doesn't look any too good for him now but he appears as optimistic as he was a quarter of a century ago. One needs plenty of optimism in politics.

Feature of "Y" Club Night

A splendid program of interesting events will feature the second Annual Club Night of Newton Y. M. C. A. to be held at the Newton Y. M. C. A. on Wednesday evening, Oct. 21st. The program will open at 7:45 p. m.

The evening's celebration will mark the fall reunion of all the social and educational clubs comprised in the "Y's" Men's Program. Exhibits by the Hiking Club and Prospectors' Discussion Groups will be given in the lobby of the building. In the gymnasium a checker exhibition will be given featuring Saul Weslow, New England checker champion, playing against 20 opponents simultaneously. In the auditorium, where a continued program will take place throughout the evening, an address will be given by the famous Bill Bingham, Director of Athletics at Harvard University and Chairman of the American Olympic Track and Field Committee. Mr. Bingham will give his personal side-lights upon the experiences of our athletes in the Olympic events as well as upon conditions abroad and concerning athletics and youth in this country. Another feature of the auditorium program will be a concert by the Fraternity Glee Club of Newtonville and a debate between Harvard University's Debating Team and a team representing the Newton Y. M. C. A. Debating Club. The Y. M. C. A. Male Quartet will also render several numbers. The Newton WPA Orchestra will furnish music for the occasion.

The entertainment is to be opened to men of eighteen and over in Newton and its vicinity and a large crowd is expected to share in the enjoyment.

Rotary Club

Rotarians of Newton had the great pleasure of hearing from one of their own members at the regular weekly meeting held at Brae Burn Tuesday, Oct. 13, 1936.

Warren Brimblecom introduced Harry Bascom as the speaker of the day, who told in a most interesting way his and Mrs. Bascom's experience in their visit to eight different countries in Europe this summer. His description of the trip was greatly enjoyed by the club. Harry was unable to visit any European Rotary Clubs but had several pleasant experiences meeting individual Rotarians.

Plans Completed For Armistice Day Ball

Plans are now completed for the Armistice Ball which Newton Post No. 48, American Legion, will hold on Nov. 11th, at the State Armory, West Newton.

O'Leary's Irish Minstrels will again furnish the dance music and Tom Quinn will be the featured soloist. The Newton Legion Guards, who took second prize at the State Convention competition in Springfield, will put on an exhibition drill during the evening.

The Ladies' Auxiliary will have charge of refreshments. At eleven o'clock a patriotic tableau will be put on by the Commander-Elect, Leon Mayer.

Parish Players To Give Three-Act Play

"Brief Candle," a three-act play from the workshop of Professor Baker at Yale, will be presented by the Parish Players of Newton Highlands on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, October 27th and 28th, in St. Paul's Parish House.

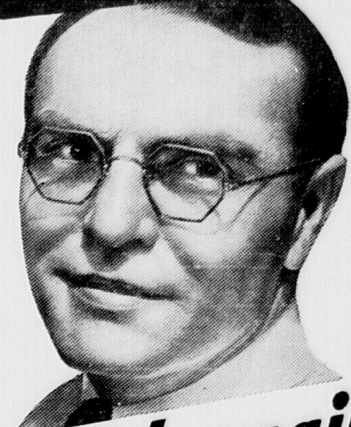

The play is a delightful combination of humor and pathos set amid the dignity and wealth of old Newport. The cast is headed by William Newby, Ernest Brantwaite and Edgar Swail, in character roles for which they are well known. Mrs. Alton Tupper, Mrs. Frank Seeley and Mrs. Carlton Blanchard share the female role honors. Others in the cast are Lloyd Yeager and Roy Fitz-Randolph.

A large production committee under the direction of Mrs. Jarvis Preble is preparing for this first presentation of the season. Emery N. Leonard, Robert Allingham, Wm. Graydon, Smith, Sumner Smith, Kemp Lumbert, John Allen, Harry Brockington, Alar Small and Ray Woolston are at work on the stage set and lighting. The stage design is being handled by Mrs. Emery N. License Has Not Increased Temperance In NEWTON

Facts Speak For Themselves

DRUNKENNESS—Increased in NEWTON 90 per cent from 1930 to 1934. 43 per cent of the total arrests last year in NEWTON were for drunkenness. Among women, drunkenness increased 238 per cent in 3 years in NEWTON. In the nation only 53 per cent. Why? Among girls between 17 and 21 years an increase of 58 per cent in the nation. Arrests of boys under 17 increased 300 per cent.

CRIME—Numbers of delinquent children arrested in NEWTON have increased 220 per cent since 1932. In the nation the arrest of women over 21 for misdemeanor increased since repeal 22 per cent, for felonies 116 per cent.

AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENTS—In NEWTON there is a 300 per cent increase in fatal accidents so far this year over 1932 (before repeal). Automobile accidents go up in direct proportion to the national consumption of alcoholic liquors. Don't let your vote help cause another automobile accident. Protect yourself and family from this single great cause of unnecessary accidents.

Revenue and Expenses

Massachusetts is staggering. The crime bill is more than $200,000,000.00 a year according to Arthur T. Lyman, of the Department of Correction, who says: "In fully half the cases now in correctional institutions here, one parent or the other is found to be an excessive drinker."

The nation's drinking bill averages over $6,708,000.00 a day, or an expenditure per family of $259.85 since repeal in 1933.

Newton's income from License Fees is less than 1 per cent of the total revenue or less than .25c per $1,000.00 valuation. Were Newton's taxes reduced because of it? Consider the increase in costs of welfare cases, court cases, etc. But most of all, the Liquor Traffic destroys moral character. All the revenue you get into the treasury cannot buy back moral character.

So long as you trade public morals for public money, the balance of trade is bound to be against you.

Abraham Lincoln said: "The liquor traffic has some defenders, but it has no defense."

WOMEN'S CLUB ACTIVITIES

Edited by EMMA D. COOLIDGE

Fall Meeting of the
Newton Federation

The decidedly outstanding event of the coming week for Newton clubwomen is the first meeting of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs.

Round-Table Conferences and a special Exhibit by the Newton District Nursing Association will open the Annual Fall Meeting of the Newton Federation to be held on Monday, October 19th, at 10 a. m., in the Union Church, Waban.

Miss Emma D. Coolidge, Editor of the Woman's Club Page of The Newton Graphic, will give an interesting talk and conduct the discussion at the Publicity Round-Table promptly at 10 o'clock. All Press chairmen, and members of their committees, or their representatives, for the Women's Clubs, Garden Clubs, and Junior Clubs should attend this Conference, as instructions of vital importance for publicity will be presented.

"A Political Platform for Peace," "What Are the National Issues for World Peace," and "How Does the United States Evolve Its Foreign Policy?" will be the topics of the International Relations Round-Table, also at 10 a. m. Miss M. Louise Walworth, chairman of the International Relations committee, has secured as speakers and discussion leaders E. M. Winslow, of the International Labor Office; Mrs. W. O. B. Little, Mrs. J. Porter Russell, and Mrs. Amos Wilder. All clubwomen are welcome to attend this Round-Table as well as to the Art committee Round-Table at 10:15 a. m. Miss Priscilla Ordway will speak on "Art," and Miss Kay Peterson on "Handicrafts."

At 12 noon, in the Church Auditorium, open to all, Mrs. Chester W. Tudbury, chairman of the Christmas Health Seals committee, will give some interesting "News," and Mrs. Edward H. Woods will speak briefly on the "Newton Public School." "How Government Money Helps in Newton Relief Work" will be explained by Mr. Harold F. Young, and the Community Chest will be represented by Mrs. Lorenz Muther, who is in charge of the Exposition that is to be held at the Armory showing the activities of the different agencies of the Chest.

Luncheon, in charge of Mrs. Dana M. Dutch, chairman of the Social committee, will be served at 12:30 p. m.

Mrs. Charles B. Jones will give a few minutes of organ music at 1:45 p. m., and Mrs. J. Earle Parker, president, will conduct a short business session.

The subject of the afternoon meeting, at 2 p. m., will be "Public Health in Newton," with speakers, Harold D. Choate, Director of Public Health in Newton; Hilga S. Nelson, R.N., Executive Director of the Newton District Nursing Association, and Elizabeth F. Wheeler, of the Out-Patient Department of Newton Hospital.

Dorothy Speare
Hollywood

Newton clubwomen will have the intriguing experience of hearing a writer who has prepared a scenario for the Moving Pictures at Hollywood, tell of her experiences there, when the Newton Community Club meets on Thursday, October 22nd, at 2 o'clock, in Underwood School Hall. What is more interesting for its intimacy is that this speaker is a native of Newton, her girlhood having been spent in Newton Centre.

Dorothy Speare made her first fame in the writing field as author of "Dancers in the Dark." This was just as she was graduating from Smith College. Then she went abroad to study music, and made her debut in opera in the title role of "Lucia di Lammermoor." Soon after this she was summoned to Hollywood to write plays for the motion pictures. Perhaps the story which she has written which has been most pleasing to her public was the one set to delightful music in "Once Upon a Time" sang the star role, "Once Upon a Time."

After the publication of a novel—she is already the author of several—she will return to Hollywood.

Her topic for the Club program she has entitled "A Writer Visits Hollywood."

Dramatic Reading
To Entertain
Guest Presidents

The next meeting of the West Newton Women's Educational Club will be Presidents' Day on Friday, October 23rd, at 2:30 p. m., in the Unitarian Church, West Newton. Dessert-coffee will be served before the meeting from 1:30 to 2:30 o'clock, by the Hospitality committee. The program will consist of the dramatic reading, "The Sports of Queens," by Mrs. Hortense Creed Rainsback, who is well known to Newton Clubwomen. The guests of honor will be Mrs. Herbert E. French, third vice-president of the State Federation, and Mrs. J. Earle Parker, president of the Newton Federation. The Club held their first meeting at the home of the president, Mrs. John Shade Franklin, 45 Islington road, Auburndale, on Friday, October 9th, where a Reception was held, and those that were in the receiving line, with Mrs. Franklin, were Mrs. Benjamin D. M. Miller, director of the Twelfth District; Mrs. D. Webster Anders, second vice-president; Mrs. George H. Jackson, recording secretary; Mrs. Francis H. McCruden, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Raymond O. Littlefield, one of the past presidents.

Refreshments were served preceding the short business meeting, by Mrs. Louis B. Martin, chairman of the Hospitality committee, assisted by Mrs. June Chipman, Mrs. Fred Fowler, Mrs. George H. Jackson, Mrs. William D. Keefe, Mrs. Ethel Leach, Mrs. Joseph A. McDonald, Mrs. Herman R. Place, Mrs. Henry D. Stone, Mrs. Percival Waters, and Mrs. Edwin Wolley.

The Garden Club members, under the direction of their president, Mrs. Alfred Thayer, were responsible for the floral display, all of the flowers having been donated by the Garden Club members.

During the reception and the remainder of the afternoon music was furnished by the "Elsie Foss Trio."

A Scholarship Bridge will be held at Mrs. Franklin's home on Friday, October 30th, beginning at 1:30 o'clock. Mrs. Percival Waters, chairman, and members of her committee will have charge of the sale of tickets. A dessert-coffee will precede the playing.

The first meeting of the year for the Waban Junior Woman's Club was held on Monday evening, October 5th, at the Union Church Parish House in Waban.

The guest speaker for the occasion was Mrs. Winifred May Hudson, of Cambridge, Instructor of Costume Design at Lasell Junior College. Her interesting subject dealt with "Harmony of Dress" as applied to different types of figures. She had brought samples of various colors, and after the meeting was adjourned, was kept busy answering individual questions about becoming shades. During this time light refreshments were served.

The Waban Junior Woman's Club is a newly-formed organization, and is open to girls between the ages of 20 and 30. It meets the first Monday of every month in the Union Church, and every girl within the age limit is cordially invited to join.

The guest speaker for the next meeting will be Mr. Walter R. Amesbury, of Newton, who will talk on "The Political Situation and Voting."

The officers for the coming year are as follows: President, Virginia Codman; vice-president, Helen Favinger; recording secretary, Dorothy Whitaker; corresponding secretary, Helen Warren, and treasurer, Marjorie Whitaker.

In the cast will be Josephine Tyler Brewer, Ruth Dunsmore Welch, Virginia Lee Hartstone, Henry Hardy, John Hitchcock, T. Brown Powers, and Harold Jaques. Tickets are 75 cents and may be had from the cast or from the Dramatic committee.

Dr. Samuel Macaulay Lindsay, well-known commentator, will lecture in the Newton Centre Woman's Club House in a course of five lectures. In the opening one he will discuss "The Election—Issues and Personalities." In November he will give in perspective, "Russia, Visited and Revisited." His subsequent lectures will bring an interpretation of national and international affairs.

Members of the Club will be admitted upon presentation of their membership tickets. Guest tickets for the course are $2.00, single admissions, 75 cents. The lectures will be given on Monday evenings, October 26th, November 30th, January 4th, March 1st, and April 5th, at 8 o'clock.

The Literature committee Study Group met on Wednesday, October 14th, at the home of Mrs. Edwin H. Ward, 75 Pickwick road, West Newton. The subject was "Henry James."

Classic Dancer
And Art Talk
Unusual Program

The Community Service Club of West Newton will open the season of 1936-37 at the Parish House of the Second Church on Wednesday, October 21st, with a change in the hour of meeting. At 1 o'clock there will be a Reception for the officers of the Club, and from 1:30 until 2 o'clock, dessert-coffee will be served by Miss Elizabeth Kilburn and her committee.

At 2 o'clock the business meeting will begin, and this will be followed by a group of "Dance Interpretations," by Dorothy Brackett, and an informal talk, "A Layman Looks at Modern Art," by George W. B. Hartwell.

Miss Brackett, exponent of the dance, will portray classic interpretations, in costume. She has been a pupil of Miriam Winslow; is now a member of her Studio Group, and has also studied with Ted Shawn. Miss Brackett is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. Earl Brackett, of West Newton. Mrs. Frank S. Tower will be her accompanist.

Mr. Hartwell will speak on the controversial topic of "Modern Art" as an amateur collector and professional buyer. His illustrations, many of which are in full color, are reflectoscope projections of prints, photographs, and originals in his own collection, and in date they range from 250 B. C. to 1933.

There will be a table for the Club Exchange, under the direction of Mrs. Harry F. Morse, and it is hoped that this year more members will bring examples of their handiwork.

This first meeting of the season will be "Bundle Day" for the benefit of the Mayor's Relief Committee. There is great need of clothing, and as this is a "Community Service Club," all members are urged to bring contributions.

Comedy To Be Given and Other Events

The Newton Centre Woman's Club inaugurated its golden anniversary year Friday afternoon, October 9th, with a musical program, before an enthusiastic and appreciative audience of over five hundred Club members. Mrs. Arthur B. Hitchcock, the Club president, presided, and graciously presented the chairman of the various committees for the coming year.

During the social hour which preceded the business meeting, coffee and dessert were served by the Hospitality committee, Mrs. Arthur Hill Brooks, Mrs. Henry O. Parsons, Mrs. Edward T. Rock, Mrs. Herman F. Wells, Mrs. George H. Brock, Mrs. T. Legare, Mrs. M. Merriman, Mrs. Madeline C. MacPherson, and Miss Anna H. Smith. Mrs. Walter Hartstone and Mrs. Alden Speare poured, presiding at either end of the table, which was attractive with pom-pom chrysanthemums and tapers in shades of gold.

The Music committee chairman, Mrs. John W. Merrill, presented the distinguished artists, Mr. George Brown, violinist; Mr. Raymond Eaton, Baritone, and Mr. Reginald Boardman, Pianist and accompanist. Mr. Brown's program was: Allegro from Sonata in A Minor, by Grieg; Grave, by Sammartini; Montanessa and Granadina, by Nin; "Songs My Mother," by Dvorak; Lullaby, by Scott, and Russian Dance, by Piatigorski.

Mr. Eaton's program was: Eri Tu Che Maschavi by Verdi; She Wears a Rose in Her Hair, by Hawley; Cargoes, by Dobson; Niehavé, by Manna Zaccà; Pale Moon, by Logan, and The Pipes of Gordon's Men, by Hammond.

The artists were gracious in responding to applause with several encores.

The Dramatic committee of the Newton Centre Woman's Club will present Philip Barry's three-act comedy "You and I," at the Club House on Thursday, November 5th, and Friday, November 6th, at 8:15 p. m.

Mrs. Edward Andrews needs no introduction to her public as a producer, and it is her willingness to act as a production manager with Mrs. Wm. Noetzel as stage director and Mrs. Harry Tomlinson as coach, that assures a perfect and almost professional performance of this popular comedy.

In the cast will be Josephine Tyler Brewer, Ruth Dunsmore Welch, Virginia Lee Hartstone, Henry Hardy, John Hitchcock, T. Brown Powers, and Harold Jaques. Tickets are 75 cents and may be had from the cast or from the Dramatic committee.

Dr. Samuel Macaulay Lindsay, well-known commentator, will lecture in the Newton Centre Woman's Club House in a course of five lectures. In the opening one he will discuss "The Election—Issues and Personalities." In November he will give in perspective, "Russia, Visited and Revisited." His subsequent lectures will bring an interpretation of national and international affairs.

Members of the Club will be admitted upon presentation of their membership tickets. Guest tickets for the course are $2.00, single admissions, 75 cents. The lectures will be given on Monday evenings, October 26th, November 30th, January 4th, March 1st, and April 5th, at 8 o'clock.

Could You Fall in Love With a Piano?

Thousands of young people are taking to the piano. They hear the latest hits on radio and records, and enjoy the thrill of playing the popular airs themselves. We have sold more pianos in six months to new music lovers than for years. There is a reason—we have one of the most complete selections to be found anywhere—ranging in price from the Huntington at $139 to The Kimball at $2500. We also have many attractive bargains in used pianos. You will enjoy a visit to our piano showrooms at 872 Washington St., Boston (one block from Broadway), open from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m. Selling the best pianos, since 1869. Yours very truly, Chas. D. Blake & Co.

Spring Time Is

Daffodil Time

By Norman Howden

Few people realize that the only requirement necessary for a beautiful display of Daffodils, Tulips, Crocuses etc., is to plant bulbs in the Fall. It is so easy to procrastinate until the ground is frozen, however, when it is too late.

It is of course important that the bulbs be selected carefully. Certain varieties grow more successfully in locations best adapted to that variety and it is well to obtain advice from a reliable house before purchasing bulbs. Their seed and bulb men will be glad to advise you as to selection and planting.

Any garden picture will be improved by the addition of daffodils, and spring gardens, where the predominant colors are white and yellow can be enhanced by introducing blue into the color scheme, for which blue crocus and the various tints of blue Scilla are desirable.

Daffodils may be planted in borders or in clumps of six or more, with a suitable ground cover such as Ground Phlox, Forget-me-nots, Pansies etc. Trumpet Daffodils such as "Empress," "Emperor," "Van Waveren Giant" or "King Alfred" and the medium Trumpet varieties will provide a wealth of color and are also fine for cutting.

Crocuses may be planted in clumps in the lawn, or in borders. A border of bedding Hyacinths will complete the picture.

The purchasing of Spring Bulbs should be considered an investment. Not an expense to be charged to one gardening season, as a planting of bulbs will produce flowers for many years.

Plant all fall bulbs as soon as possible. Daffodils, Hyacinths and Crocuses benefit from early planting. Tulips should be set when the trees have shed considerable of their foliage.

Lifting of bulbs after flowering is unnecessary as all bulbs do well when left undisturbed year after year.

Paper White Narcissus grown indoors in pebbles if planted now and in 15 day intervals will provide flowers until February. Hyacinths may also be grown in the house with excellent results.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

Newton Highlights

Howie Milner, former Newton High football star, who has been playing a strong tackle post for Northeastern freshmen, will be out of the game for three weeks with an injured knee. The injury came in last week's game with Rhode Island State Freshmen, and the complaint is so complex that it has been diagnosed as a combination of strained muscles, pulled ligaments, and bruised cartilages. The injury sounds more serious than it really is, however.

Driving a Hudson Special, Joe Sostilio of Newton Centre won the 15-mile Weymouth Sweepstakes, feature auto race of the Columbus Day program at the Weymouth Fairgrounds track. For 22 laps the former Newton High athlete, had to contend with Dizzy Vance of Hyde Park, a stunt driver. When Vance's car sideswiped the clubhouse wall on the 23d lap, Sostilio was able to take an unbeatable lead for the remaining three miles, and won in 5m 55 3-5s, only a little under a mile-a-minute average.

Sostilio also made the fastest time of the qualifying heats by winning the first heat in 5m. 46 3-5s for five miles. A crowd estimated at 7000 saw the races.

Alex Kevorkian won the praise of Tuss McLaughry, Brown University coach, for his play in the Harvard line throughout the 28-0 victory over Brown. McLaughry said that "Harvard has a good strong line. Kevorkian was the outstanding Harvard lineman. I thought. His play was aggressive throughout." His own coach, Harvard's Dick Harlow, said after the game, "Al Kevorkian is a coming tackle. He played a bang-up game."

The big Newton junior dropped on a blocked kick behind the Brown goal on the first play of the second period, but the play was called back for a penalty.

Out at Springfield, Warren Huston of Newtonville was the hero of Springfield College's 9-7 defeat of Northeastern. He place-kicked a goal from the field from short range to give the Gynasts a 3-0 lead in the third period, then scored a touchdown on a short pass in the fourth period. Brad Dyer of Auburndale was at halfback for the losers.

THE NEWELL CLUB

The regular meeting of the Newell Club was held at the home of Mrs. Richard Brown, 72 Windsor rd., Wellesley, on Oct. 13.

EVERETT EKES OUT 6-0 WIN OVER NEWTON

Everett High won a loosely-played 6-0 football game from Newton High Monday morning in the Everett Stadium. Both teams made numerous fumbles, and it was a bad pass from center that set up Everett's only score of the game. Late in the second quarter, with Bill Johnston back in kick formation, Brad Thompson's pass from center got away from Johnston and was recovered by Al Marshall, Everett tackle, at the Newton 21-yard line. Al Romboli was rushed into the game, and carrying to the left on the first play, turned to flip a left-handed pass to halfback Bob Bell, who raced unmolested to the goal line. Trischitta's attempt to kick an extra point into the score was wide of the mark.

The first break of the game came soon after the kickoff, when Bill Johnston fumbled Trischitta's punt at the Newton 26-yard line. Vacca recovered for Everett. A touchdown seemed imminent when a pass from Trischitta to Bell to Coviello put the ball on the Newton 15, but three incomplete passes and a ten-yard setback finished the Everett threat for the time being.

In the second quarter a Newton fumble was covered by Santilli of Everett, giving the home eleven a fresh start at Newton's 20-yard line, but the tables were turned when Bill Kelly, Newton end, nabbed an Everett ball on the very next play. The exchange was typical of the morning's loose play for both teams. Late in the third quarter, Trischitta tossed a long one to Romboli to bring the ball to Newton's 22-yard line. Vacca missed another pass into the end zone, and the Newton line held Everett for downs. Santilli intercepted a Newton pass on the 16-yard line, and three rushes went to the Newton five. Vacca dropped a pass over the goal, and Forte and Johnston pulled Romboli down for a ten-yard loss to halt the advance. Another Everett march in the last period went as far as the Newton 16-yard line, while Newton got as far as Everett's 34 before the game was over.

NEWTON ARCHERS HOLD SHOOT IN STRONG WIND

A strong wind prevented the Archers taking part in the championship tournament of the Newton Archers from making record scores. The Men's Club championship was won by the president Bertram M. Harrison, Mrs. L. F. Whitney won the Ladies' Championship and Bob Goldrich, 13, won the junior championship for the third time retiring the junior championship cup. Considering the wind and cold weather the scores were very fine.

New club championship: York and American: B. M. Harrison, 140-688; H. K. Davenport, 134-656; Chester Barnes, 136-624.

Ladies' Metropolitan and American: Mrs. L. F. Whitney 176-1016; Mrs. G. P. Harrison, 182-996; Mrs. Rose Gronlund, 178-912.

The winners of first three places in the senior division were awarded beautiful Dailin medals in gold, silver and bronze. Winning visitors awarded similar medals were: Mrs. E. B. Miller, Bristol, Conn., 191-1009; Mrs. Doris E. Howe, Melrose, Mass., 176-888; Mrs. Hazel Wilson, Waltham, 168-838.

Jas. F. Waterman, Belmont 190-1060; R. B. Hoogerhyde, Bristol, Conn., 189-1023; W. C. Van der Pyl, Worcester, Mass., 150-830; Roda Mellett (Junior), 94-370.

The winners in the handicap events were as follows: H. E. Carter, 79-847; L. F. Whitney, 70-833; O. B. Willett, 104-779.

Ladies—Mrs. L. F. Whitney, Newton, 176-802; Mrs. Betty Cullen, Springfield, 162-784; Mrs. Edward Sears, Attleboro, 149-732.

Juniors—Philip Bourne, 161-1777; R. Allen Faily Jr., 98-1636; Lorenzo Creamer, 110-1592.

Nearly one hundred Archers took part in the very colorful tournament. The improvement cup and Christina bowl for a member showing the most promise were awarded to Mrs. Rose Gronlund. The Nisbet bugle for highest practice score went to Mrs. George G. P. Harrison. Mr. B. M. Harrison was awarded the Nisbet arrow for the highest average score in all four tournaments this year.

October 29—Mr. Theron Walker, Chairman for the Highlands and Mr. Kenneth C. Bond, Chairman for Upper Falls, have a joint meeting for their workers at the Hyde School.

November 5—Mr. A. Leslie Harwood, Jr., Chairman for Newton Centre and Mr. Leslie Hawkrige, Chairman for Oak Hill, are having a joint meeting for solicitors of those two villages at a place to be announced. Waban Hill and Chestnut Hill will be included in this meeting.

November 6—General Daniel Needham, Chairman for Newtonville, is having his meeting at a place to be announced.

November 9—Mr. Robert A. Whidden, Chairman of West Newton, has the final of this series of meetings. It is for the West Newton campaign and will be at the Levi Warren Junior High School.

Mass Dinner November 12
 The Campaign "opening gun" will be the mass dinner at the Newton High School on Thursday, November 12 at 6:30 p. m.
 The dinner last year proved completely successful, resulting in the largest number of subscribers of the Chest—10,569—and in $20,000.00 more money than was raised in 1934, reaching $185,100.00. Mr. William V. M. Fawcett, is Chairman of this affair and it promises to be the high success of last year, probably topping it with a most unusual program—brief, starting, effective.

Exposition on November 6 and 7
 Mrs. Lorenz F. Muther, Assistant Campaign Director and Mr. Fay Roope, Assistant in charge of planning and producing the member-agency, are well under way in preparation for this gigantic event. West Newton Armory, Friday and Saturday, November 6 and 7 will drive home what the Chest and its agencies mean to Newton. Admission to the Exposition will be free. November 6th is School Children's Day. All member-agencies are co-operating to the limit to make this the outstanding affair it will be.

Day Jr. High School

The elections are over, the ballots are counted, the returns are in, and the following members of the Student Council are to be congratulated:

Grade VII: Joseph Antonellis, Francis Barclay, Remi Callebaut, Elizabeth Cook, Harold Kusick, Constance Hill, and Wayne Underhill; Grade VIII: Virginia Barber, Alice Birmingham, Thomas Dargan, Paul Harriman, Virginia Kyle and John Saunier; Grade IX: Charles Bova, Malcolm Broderick, David Eaton, John Furley, Paul Hines, Donald Koughan, Philip Scanlon, Samuel Thompson, Jacqueline Wilcox and Stuart Wilson. The newly elected members of the Library Council are as follows: Doris Burke, Shirley Robblee, George Woodward, P. Colard, Jane Cary, Daniel Rufo, Larry Tempesta, Charles Pierce, Lorraine Wright, Betty Dulac, Margaret Galloway, Janet Fowler, Edmund Dangelo, Marcia Ham, Esther Henley, Elena Visco, Frank Brimblecom and Anne Lynch. The duties of this group will be to assist Mrs. Smith in preparing new books for circulation, issuing books, checking returned books, collecting fines in their various home rooms, and taking charge of the running of the library at certain times during the day.

On Tuesday, Oct. 6th, some of the pupils may have noticed that their teachers were not at all keen to make seventh period appointments. This queer state of affairs must have been puzzling to those who did not know that the teachers were eager to reach the Pochontas Inn in Lynnfield where the fall outing was held. An enjoyable afternoon of obstacle races and games followed by a banquet made the outing a great success.

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union was the first woman's organization in Japan. It has had outstanding Japanese women as leaders and is doing a great work. Alcohol, said Mrs. Olds, is the greatest enemy Japan has. An appalling percentage of deaths in Japan are due to alcohol. The beautiful cherry blossom festival is marred by the evidence of excessive drinking seen everywhere.

What is Your America all About?

You probably know every single fact in this advertisement. But each one is so simple and obvious that you may never think of it as concerning you every day

TO YOU, PERSONALLY, no more important facts than these have ever been written. They reach right down into the very roots of your own life . . . and your family's . . . and your future. To everyone they are as deep, as abiding, as encompassing as hunger, love, religion.

Our American plan of living is simple. Its ideal is the greatest good for the greatest number—and it works. You, and every one of your more than 127,000,000 fellow citizens, are members of a firm. No matter whether you are a doctor, lawyer, merchant, farmer, clerk or machinist . . . you—whether you know it or not—are a part owner of the United States, Inc.

Proof? Income tax figures show 85% of our national income goes to those of us who work for a living. And most of the remaining 15% goes to those who invest savings.

Our American plan of living is pleasant. You have exactly 168 hours a week to use as you want. An average week's work is 48 hours. That leaves 120 hours for sleep, play, hobbies.

Are We Well Off?

SO OUR American plan of living is the world's envy. No nation, or group, lives as well as we do. We work shorter hours; we have more leisure. We have more autos, radios, washing machines, reapers, sewing machines, refrigerators, telephones—comforts of home—than the rest of the world combined! Wages are higher per hour than in other countries . . . wages that continue to increase.

One American child in every five goes to high school; one out of 116 to college. This costs more than the school bill of all other nations combined. Why?

There are many reasons why we have a better life. All are important . . . worth keeping. But among the first causes come the ways we invest our time and money.

How a Business Starts

A MAN in Connecticut starts a small business in a shop ten feet square. In a year his shop is forty feet square . . . and four men help him. They, too, share in his industry, ability and profits.

The little business practices thrift, or in business terms, "creates a reserve." No one tells the owner how much he shall make, except the consumer. As the public buys, he makes money. Using this saved money, the tiny shop in ten years is an acre square. And the credit established is used to borrow money at the bank and expand more. Your America is on its way!

Through the constantly increasing employees of this factory grows a prosperous community—workers need food from farmers—the children need schools, family health requires protection; their needs need attention. So hundreds of men, their families, merchants and doctors and dentists and farmers, in and near the town, share in the profits of this growing industry.

In California another chap starts a similar business about the same time. Both men make a new product. Both men trust to their own initiative for success. They both grow on merit.

And How a Business Grows

THE PRODUCTS of these two factories meet on the shopkeepers' shelves in every State. Thus competition—"the life of trade"—begins. The very nature and being of men fosters competition. Man never has and never will be able to stop it . . . any more than the urge for private ownership can be suppressed.

Inspired by competition, first one, then the other, improves his product. They both learn to make it faster, produce more cheaply, better. Demand for it increases. Hence each factory owner employs more fellow men. Each company grows. All—owner, workers, investor—work together; each doing his just share. All who work earn more money . . . build the security of a steady job and a chance to save for the future . . . gain more leisure, and increase their power to purchase.

Who benefits?

You do!

The two manufacturers and their fellow-workers do.

You benefit because the product rapidly becomes better and costs less. The worker, owners, and partners benefit because the spirit of unhampered competition caused them to make merchandise we, the public, wanted.

America's Foundation!

IN THIS is contained the essence of our American plan of living. And we are all bound up in it—whether we be maker, buyer or seller. It involves constant change, growth, development. It represents individual enterprise attending to the needs of everyday life, the wishes continually awakened by improvements, the desire fostered by higher notions of living.

The average man gets more from the American plan of living than the average person anywhere! Our plan has come nearer to removing poverty than any system yet devised. It provides the foundation for America!

To Sum It Up

WE have come far! We are a young nation—still growing. Continue, then, to look at America with the clear, keen vision of youth. The last depression served merely to bring into focus the fact that our plan can still be badly shaken and revive.

You . . . and only you . . . are the American plan of living. Under it you have independence—the greatest thing man can have. Believe in it, uphold it . . . as you believe in, and trust, yourself. You are what America is all about!

YOU ARE A STOCKHOLDER IN "THE UNITED STATES, INC."

You have a "part interest" in the American plan of living; your future welfare depends on its success. You will be interested, therefore, in a report of what it has done. No other enterprise on earth has ever made such a good report to its stockholders.

YOUR American Plan of Living

. . . has produced three times as much wealth as the whole world produced before 1776.

. . . has more than doubled our average wealth and income since 1900.

. . . has distributed wealth so widely that even in the midst of the depression there were more than 44,000,000 savings accounts with aggregate deposits exceeding $24,000,000,000.

Approximately 10,000,000 members of building and loan associations, with assets approaching $8,000,000,000 . . .

approximately 121,000,000 life insurance policies in force for a face value of $108,885,000,000.

. . . has promoted an economic democracy in which about 12,000,000 persons are shareholders in business corporations . . .

. . . has increased the number of employed nearly four times since 1870. It has increased the percentage of gainfully employed in our population from 34.7% in 1880 to 39.4% in 1930.

. . . has increased the share of the national income that goes to these workers (does not include those who work for themselves) from 38% in 1850 to 65% in 1929, at about which level it has remained since that time despite the depression.

. . . has increased the industrial worker's money wages. In 1929 they were three times as high as in 1890.

. . . has increased the purchasing power of wages—money wages related to living costs—by 48% during the same period.

. . . has decreased the average hours of labor from 60 hours per week in 1890 to 48 hours.

. . . has done all this upon average profits of only 4 cents out of each dollar of sales (1919-1929 figures).

The program consisted of four groups of numbers ranging in interest from Gluck and Mozart to Rimsky-Korsakov. Mr. Beale, the violinist and leader, made the arrangements for the various numbers, and it was interesting to note that manuscript music was used entirely by the players. It is not often that this combination of instruments is heard in concert, and the arrangements brought out the beauty of each instrument. Mr. Beale and Mr. Stockbridge each played a group of solos, accompanied by the harpist. The men are all members of the Boston Symphony Orchestra, and until recently Mrs. Watson was a member of the Worcester Civic Orchestra.

Flower arrangements were exhibited by Club members. The judges were Mrs. Frank A. Day, Jr., Mrs. Charles Bemis Gleason, and Mrs. Ralph N. Hall.

PROF. CLARENCE G. HAMILTON said: "If you teach in your own quarters, take care to keep informed as to what encouragement your pupil receives at home and especially as to what sort of instrument he is practicing upon. A pupil once asked me if my piano was not badly out of tune just after it had been put in prime condition. On investigation I found that her own piano had not been tuned for years, and that her ears had become so educated to false pitch that correct pitch sounded wrong to her. Insist, therefore, that your pupils keep their pianos in proper condition." J. W. Tapper, Piano Tuner, Newton Hlds. Cen. New. 1306, 09-21

WOMEN'S CLUBS

To our friends in Newton

You received us cordially when we first became part of your community, two years ago.

You have since then generously given us your confidence and friendliness.

And you have, by your appreciation of our choice foods, earnest service and friendly atmosphere, so increased our business that we have found it necessary to double the size of our Newtonville store.

For all this, we thank you sincerely.

Now the greater Star Market is ready for you—a complete food store, with ample room to make your shopping more comfortable and with everyday and unusual foods in such abundance and variety that your daily menus will be much easier to plan.

We opened the Newtonville Star Market because we felt we could give you exactly the type of store you had always been wanting. Your immediate interest and response proved we were right. And week by week the proof continues—as more and more Newton families are discovering that Star Market foods bring new enjoyment to eating.

Such encouragement urges us to even greater efforts. And though the Star Market is a better store than it was two years ago, we shall try to make it still better—to make it the kind of food store you will always be proud to call yours.

Star Market Enlarges Store

Twenty-one years ago the Star Market opened in Watertown as a small independent grocery and provision store, with the avowed intention of carrying the best in their line of merchandise and catering to an appreciative clientele. Adhering to their purpose, they soon acquired many satisfied customers, mostly in Watertown, and as their reputation spread their trading area grew, until it included Belmont, Newton and other adjacent towns. Their clerical force was increased and the store doubled in size.

The number of Newton customers continued to increase, until it became necessary two years ago to open their Newtonville store so that their customers would receive better service.

Due to the continued growth in business at the Newton store during the past two years it was found advisable to enlarge it, and the Greater Star Market now open is the result of the high esteem and satisfaction in which it is held by the public in the Newton area, which includes Wellesley, Needham, Waltham, Weston, etc.

The new store is the last word in retail markets. It was designed by the Main Engineering Co. of Boston, and has every modern equipment known to this type of business. Every thought has been taken for the comfort and convenience of customers. Better display of foods under the most wholesome conditions has been achieved, and the friendly atmosphere of the establishment truly makes shopping a pleasure.

The management insists that Quality, Consistent Prices and Service be featured at all times.

Unusual food and products not found at ordinary stores as well as the regular staples may be had here.

The Star Market now employs 200 persons, has 16 delivery trucks, 28 outside telephone lines, and a corps of girls trained in home economics to take your order in an efficient manner. It is interesting to note that orders are not filled from regular store stock, but from a separate store room, making it unnecessary for order clerks to interfere with or disturb the regular store customers.

About 4000 active charge accounts have been opened, and this service is open to all, upon application, at no additional charge.

Champane Dancing School Opens For 17th Season

On Oct. 16, Mr. Joseph L. Champagne begins his 17th year of dancing classes in Newton, at the Neighborhood Club in Waban.

An elaborate and extremely interesting schedule has been planned for the coming season. Last season about 800 Newton pupils were enrolled in these popular dancing classes, and indications point to an increase in this number in the classes now forming.

During the summer, Mr. and Mrs. Champagne toured Europe by automobile, leaving about 4000 miles. They left New York on the Normandie July 1, and visited England, Belgium, Holland, Germany, Austria, Italy and France. An interesting sidelight of their tour was the filming of their dances in Holland by the principal newsreel company of that country.

On both their passage to and from Europe Mr. and Mrs. Champagne gave exhibition dances aboard ship. They returned to this country on Sept. 5 on the Italian liner Rex. Mr. Champagne conducts the Champagne School of Dancing at 454 Stuart st., Boston. It is considered one of the leading dancing schools in the East.

Many Attend Democratic Rally At High School

The Newton High School auditorium was filled last Saturday night at the Democratic rally which was conducted under the auspices of the Newton Democratic City Committee. About 900 were present. Joseph J. Dargone presided. A parade of automobiles preceded the rally and the band of Newton Post, American Legion, provided music. Before the rally started Henry I. Morrison was host to State Treasurer Charles F. Hurley, at his home, 1071 Commonwealth ave., Newtonville. Among the other guests present at dinner at Mr. Morrison's house were Mayor Edwin O. Childs and City Solicitor Joseph W. Bartlett. Mayor Childs introduced Mr. Hurley to the audience and extolled his qualities. Mayor Childs said that both John W. Haigis and Charles F. Hurley are able and competent candidates, both are gentlemen, and he commented that he is sorry that both cannot be elected governor.

Mr. Hurley lauded both Mayor Childs and City Solicitor Bartlett. He said he would promise no millennium when elected governor, but he would give an honest, business-like administration. Mr. Hurley asserted that Mr. Haigis has not displayed any conservative ideas during his campaign. Paul Dwyer, candidate for Attorney General, condemned his opponent, Felix Forte, for refusing to resign as a special justice when asked to do so because of his political activities. Joseph Rogers, speaking for James Hurley, Democratic candidate for State Treasurer, criticized William E. Hurley, the Republican candidate, for his shifting political career. Rogers said that William Hurley was a Democrat until he was appointed Postmaster of Boston by President Hoover. Edward Rose of Somerville, candidate for County Commissioner, attacked the Middlesex County Republican ring. (Continued on Page 12)

civic affairs since coming to this city. He is District Commissioner of Norumbega Council, Boy Scouts; has been a leader in the Community Chest drives and a past president of the West Newton Men's Club. He became associated with the International Shoe Company in 1912, and in 1924 was sent to Boston as Eastern sales manager, a position he still holds. The present Ward Alderman from Ward 3 is Alfred Guzzi, who now is the Democratic candidate for Representative to the Legislature from the 4th Middlesex District. Mr. Guzzi has announced that if he is defeated for Representative, he will again be a candidate for Ward Alderman.

Legion to Campaign for Highway Safety

Commander Leon Mayer of Newton Post, American Legion, has announced that on Monday, Oct. 26th, the Post will open its "Safety on the Highway Campaign." The plans have been approved by Mayor Childs, Chief of Police Hughes and Supt. of Schools Warren. A committee of fifteen Legion members, who ride about the city daily, will report all serious violations of automobile laws which they observe to the chairman of the committee, and he in turn will notify the Chief of Police. The offenders will be notified to appear at police headquarters.

Commander Mayer states that in the near future signs will be placed at all entrances to the city cautioning visitors to drive slowly and carefully and protect Newton lives. The American Legion feels that highway safety is one of the greatest problems of the present day and Newton Post wishes to be the first to include such a campaign as part of its community service.

Cong. Fish Is First Speaker Of Forum

The first meeting of the Newton Community Forum will be held on Sunday afternoon, Nov. 1st, at 3:30 in Newton High School auditorium. He is a graduate of Harvard, was prominent in athletics there, and for many years has been a member of Congress from the 26th New York District. He has been one of the leaders of the conservative group in Congress. His subject will be "Meaning of the Election to Americanism." Mr. Fish will discuss the chances of recently elected politicians of fulfilling their campaign pledges; the outlook for the next four years; can one political party accomplish more than another; the effect of the election on our budget, relief programs and Americanism. The tickets for the Community Forum are on sale by members of the Forum, or can be obtained from Walter M. Taylor, Executive Secretary, 32 Southgate Park, West Newton, telephone West Newton 2377-W. They will entitle holders to reserved seats. At every meeting 500 free seats will also be available.

"The Queen's Husband," a comedy in three acts by Robert E. Sherwood, is coached by Mrs. Blanche F. Bemis. The leading parts are played by Miss M. Louise Wetherbee, Miss Lucille Burnham, Francis J. Foster and Charles W. Peterson, supported by Raymond A. Green, Edward N. Griffin, Carl Swan and an all-star cast including Carl P. Birmingham, Francesco C. Argento, Charles B. Harrington, Miss Gladys A. Cunningham and Miss Adele E. Loysen, Donald G. Enoch, Lucius P. Jones, Forrest F. Paige and Beverley L. Wilson.

Plays given in previous years have included "The Intimate Strangers," "Captain Applejack," "Taming of the Shrew," "Treasure Island," "The Stoops to Conquer," "The Three Musketeers," "Sherlock Holmes" and "The Late Christopher Bean." Proceeds from these performances have benefited the Peter J. D. Kuntz fund for the aid of needy pupils, the Newton High School band for uniforms and instruments, the Organ Fund of the school and the Newton Community Chest. The productions have had the hearty support and enthusiastic approval of both the community and the student body.

Another attempt to bring more business onto Commonwealth ave., Newton Centre, will be aired on Nov. 5th, when a hearing will be held at City Hall on the petition of Alice Rogers to change land at 550 Commonwealth ave. from private residence to business zone. The hearing will be held before the Claims and Rules Committee. The locus adjoins a business block.

Aldermen Argue Over Dental Clinic

The Newton Board of Aldermen on Monday night voted to grant a permit to Dr. Joseph D. Thompson to erect a building on Columbus st., Newton Highlands for use in his dental practice. The locus is in a single residence zone and six of the seven members of the Claims & Rules Committee reported against the granting of the permit because they believed that to allow such a structure would be contrary to the provisions of the zoning ordinance. These members had a ruling of City Solicitor Bartlett. Alderman Rawson, chairman of the committee said that the building will not be used for a "clinic" as it is designated by Dr. Thompson. He quoted from two medical dictionaries which define a clinic as a place where lectures on medicine or dentistry are given while patients are treated in the presence of students, or a place connected with a hospital or college where free treatment is given to patients. The committee contended that the building will be used by Thompson and his son, who is also a dentist, principally for their regular practice. Aldermen Inches and Hutchinson concurred with Rawson. The former told of investigating the status of clinics at Harvard and Tufts Dental Schools, and that the proposed building did not qualify for such a designation.

Alderman Cronin, the only member of the committee to dissent, argued that the proposed building will benefit the health and welfare of the community. Cronin contended that the Aldermen should ignore the dictionary definitions of "clinic." Alderman McKay of Newton Highlands favored the granting of the permit. He said that the residents in the neighborhood do not object to the building, which will be next to the Woman's Club Workshop on Columbus st. He told of the advantage of having a place where dental patients can remain over night, if necessary. Aldermen Bowen, Colby and Temperley also spoke in favor of the petition. It was stated that Dr. Thompson treats a large number of school children.

By a vote of 11 to 8 the Board granted the petition for the structure, which will be of bungalow type. Those voting in favor were: Aldermen Atkins, Barwise, Bowen, Brocklesby, Colby, Cronin, Goddard, Guzzi, McKay, Melcher, and Temperley. Those voting to sustain City Solicitor Bartlett in his ruling on the zoning ordinance were Aldermen Hill, Hutchinson, Inches, Jamieson, McCabe, Rawson, Schipper and Walker.

More Sick Leave For Police, Firemen

Newton policemen and firemen will receive full pay for 6 months instead of 3 months if a motion made by Alderman Dennis Cronin meets with the approval of the Board of Aldermen. At the meeting on Monday night Cronin introduced a motion which would amend the ordinance so that any fireman or policeman injured in the performance of duty will receive full pay for the longer period. Cronin cited the case of Captain Goode of the police department. Goode was severely injured last year when he fell off a porch while investigating a burglary. He was disabled for about 6 months, but received only 3 months full pay.

Speedy Capture Of Auto Thieves

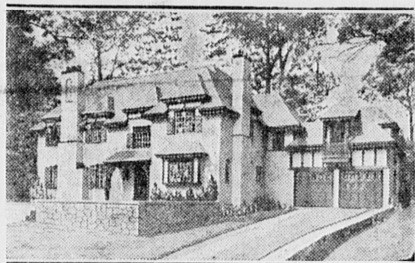

Two Lynn young men who stole an automobile in this city about 1 a. m. Saturday morning were captured many miles away and arraigned in the Newton court later that same morning. The car, owned by Sumner Howard of 65 Grove st., Auburndale, was stolen while parked in a driveway at 1844 Washington st., West Newton. It was recovered a couple of hours later by State Police near North Brookfield. In it were Clarence Phinney and Aubrey Pierce of Lynn. The car had been in an accident and was damaged. Newton police headquarters had broadcast a description of the stolen car, and when the State Police recovered it, they notified the Newton police. Serg. Sheridan and Patrolman Rogers went to North Brookfield, brought the two Lynn youths back to Newton, and they were arraigned in the Newton court later that morning. Their cases were continued to October 29.

Third Hearing On Petition For N'ville Sewer

Another episode of the controversy over a proposed sewer in Broadway terrace, Newtonville, occurred at the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night. For two years Dominic Lanno of 15 Broadway terrace has been petitioning for a sewer connection from Broadway to his home. William J. Doherty of Broadway has been opposing Lanno's efforts to get the sewer. In connection with both of Lanno's former petitions, last spring and last year, the Newton Health Department stated a sewer is needed as a health measure. Both last year and this year, the Board of Aldermen voted to turn down Lanno's petitions. At a recent meeting of the Aldermen, Chairman Hutchinson of the Public Works Committee announced that through the good offices of the City Solicitor, it was probable that an arrangement could be made whereby the opposition to the sewer would be withdrawn. He asked that the matter be reopened by another hearing being given to Lanno. This was done.

The hearing was held before the Aldermen on Monday night. Lanno said that he has made an offer to pay Doherty's share of the cost of constructing the sewer provided that Doherty would give him a lien on the lots of land owned by the latter and which abut Broadway terrace. He said that he understood City Solicitor Bartlett had drawn up the agreement, but he had not seen it. Doherty, who was present, said the petition now before the Aldermen is the same as those presented at two former hearings. He said that Mrs. Lanno had talked with him and stated she would pay the entire cost of the sewer. Doherty said he had advised Mrs. (Continued on Page 12)

AN IMPORTANT ANGLE

While great emphasis is being placed upon the election of candidates heading the national and state Republican tickets it is vitally important that the voters give thought to other minor offices which will appear on the ballot. It is plainly evident that the citizens of this state in general are dissatisfied with the administration given them under Governor Curley. But to accomplish the most desirable end we must go further and elect to other offices those men who will work with the leaders for the best interests of all. Analysis of the voting in previous years shows that many voters who mark their ballots for the heads of the ticket do not vote for other offices on the ballot. This analysis further shows that the further down on the ballot the contest is the greater the number of blanks. In other words candidates for Governor, Senator and the like, receive a greater total vote than others on the so-called state ticket (those offices voted for in the entire state) while county candidates usually receive the smallest total vote and the most blanks.

There is an extremely vital question facing the voters this fall insofar as county candidates are concerned which perhaps has not been stressed as emphatically as desirable. We refer to the forthcoming redistricting of the senatorial and representative districts. This task faces the county commissioners next year. Two years ago the voters of Middlesex county elected a Democrat as one of its commissioners. The two Republican Commissioners, Walter C. Wardwell and Nathaniel I. Bowditch, are candidates for re-election in November. Should either of them be defeated by his Democratic opponent the redistricting of the districts mentioned would be in the hands of the Democratic party. What the result would be is readily imagined. The plain fact is that Middlesex county, a Republican stronghold, and many of its districts would be lost for some time and it would be a most difficult task to regain them. Thus it becomes essential for Republican voters not to overlook this angle of the situation and to vote the entire Republican ticket from the first name on the ballot to the last.

A MERITORIOUS EFFORT

The local Post of the American Legion inaugurates a "safety on the highway" campaign next week which should have the co-operation of all Newton citizens and drivers. The committee of vigilantes will report those guilty of serious violations. Members of the Post will pledge themselves to drive carefully. All stationery and literature of the Post will carry the slogan "Protect Lives—Drive Carefully." And in the near future permanent signs will be placed on the main highways entering Newton cautioning motorists to use care. The problem of highway safety is one of the greatest of the day and the best approach to the problem is in making drivers, as well as pedestrians, conscious of their duty to protect the lives of others. The Legion's campaign can accomplish a great deal toward this end.

New Edison Store Will Open Monday

Manager Kent Invites Public to Inspect Facilities

New and enlarged store and office facilities have been taken by the Boston Edison Company at 289-291 Washington st., Newton Corner. The new office will be opened to the public next Monday, October 26. It provides more than double the space of the former Edison location at 415 Centre st., and has been completely modernized for the display and sale of electrical merchandise and for the conduct of the general routine of the Edison business.

The interior is finished in two-tone buff with white ceiling. Large home-electric appliances are displayed with refrigerators, ranges, washing machines and lamps set in attractive order to greet the public. Display tables in the center of the store are finished to blend with the general decorative scheme and are also wired for the demonstration of smaller appliances. A complete electric kitchen with electric range, refrigerator, water heater, dishwasher sink and cabinets offers a special appeal to housewives.

The store lighting conforms with the most modern practices. Pendant fixtures are used to redirect a soft diffused light from the white ceiling. Window lighting is of special high intensity to afford passing motorists as well as pedestrians a clear-cut and lasting impression of the merchandise on display in the windows. The half hour question period. The Evening School is held in the Technical Building of the Newton High School in Newtonville.

Robert W. Ferguson of F. Schumacher & Co., nationally known fabric manufacturers and importers, will be the instructor, with Antoinette Ann Vary of the Paine Furniture Company as collaborator.

The course will consist of lectures and demonstrations, with illustrations of color and fabric schemes. Some of the topics are as follows: Balance of color in decoration; history of furniture; English, French and American periods; fabrics and how to select them; floor and window treatment; lighting; picture and flower arrangement; home as an investment.

All Newton customers of the company are invited to inspect the new facilities during the coming week. Special demonstrations by members of the Edison domestic science staff will be offered regularly at the new shop, according to Manager Kent, whose opinion favorably ranks the new Newton shop with any maintained by the Edison Company in metropolitan Boston.

The second of a series of autumn teas was given this week at the Chandler School of Boston by upper classmen in honor of the freshman class. Frances Parker of Newton Highlands and Betty Ann Robey of Newton Centre were members of the group of eleven senior hostesses. Among the freshmen who attended were Barbara Buttrick and Beverly Clark of Newton Centre, Eleanor Farnum of West Newton, and Doris Marshall of Newtonville.

The Hi-Y and Tri-Hi Clubs of Newton are planning their annual Thanksgiving Hop this year at Longwood Towers, Brookline, on Thanksgiving night, Nov. 26th. The noted ballroom presents a modern and inviting atmosphere for dancing and numerous inquiries have been received by officials of the clubs from alumni concerning the opening of the dancing season. Phil Duchin and his famous radio orchestra will provide the music.

Next week has been designated as "Hearing Week" by the American Society for the Hard of Hearing. It is estimated that there are ten million adults in the country who have impaired hearing and three million children with measurable hearing defects. Newton is among the progressive cities that are cooperating to promote the alleviation of the handicap of deafness and to prevent it as far as possible in the next generation. Since 1924 free classes in lip reading for adults have been offered in the evening schools. In 1928 an audiometer was purchased and since 1930 a definite program for the detection of impaired hearing among the school children, the correction of hearing defects, and lip reading classes when advisable has been followed. Last year 45,000 children with hearing defects were found by use of the audiometer of which 7,000 were in Massachusetts and 257 in Newton. In 1930 in Newton the number of children with impaired hearing was 4.5 percent of the number tested. By June of last year the figure had dropped to 2.96 percent, with an average of 5 percent for the country. Deafness is curable only in its early stages, if at all, and it is possible for a person's hearing to be impaired to a considerable extent without his being aware of it. To prevent deafness the cause of deafness must be prevented.

Among the causes of this handicap are frequent colds, several contagious diseases, running ears, boxing of the ears, violent blowing of the nose, malnutrition, and wax or foreign bodies in the ear canal. More attention might well be paid to early defects of the hearing and advice obtained from the nearest chapter of the American Society for the Hard of Hearing or from the local school department. The nearest chapter of the American Society is the Boston Guild for the Hard of Hearing at 339 Commonwealth ave., Boston.

A number of Newton residents are interesting themselves in the success of the Benefit Performance of "Call It a Day" at the Shubert Theatre on Wednesday evening, Oct. 28, in aid of the New England Hospital for Women and Children. The evening will be especially noteworthy because of the novel "Back-Stage Party" which is being given immediately after the performance in honor of Philip Merivale and Gladys Cooper, stars of the production.

Mrs. Hubert L. Carter, Mrs. Fred B. Lund, Jr., and Mrs. Edward G. Stimpson are members of the general committee, and Mrs. William F. King and Mrs. Sinclair Weeks are serving on the patroness committee. Among those who have enrolled as patronesses and subscribers are Mrs. Herbert E. Fales, Mrs. William A. Gallup, Mrs. Charles H. Myers, Mrs. M. L. Madden, Mrs. Gardner Colby, Walworth, Mrs. R. L. M. Underhill, Mrs. David Kimball Horton, Miss Barbara Horton, Mrs. Harry F. Hartwell, Mrs. L. Fossenden, Jr., Mrs. E. H. Ellison, and Mrs. Grosvenor Calkins.

New Course In Home Decoration Is Planned

Due to the widespread interest in Home Decoration, a new course in this subject will begin Tuesday evening, October 27, at the Newton Evening School. Sessions will continue throughout the winter on Tuesday and Thursday evenings from 7:30 to 8:30 followed by a half hour question period. The Evening School is held in the Technical Building of the Newton High School in Newtonville.

Robert W. Ferguson of F. Schumacher & Co., nationally known fabric manufacturers and importers, will be the instructor, with Antoinette Ann Vary of the Paine Furniture Company as collaborator.

The course will consist of lectures and demonstrations, with illustrations of color and fabric schemes. Some of the topics are as follows: Balance of color in decoration; history of furniture; English, French and American periods; fabrics and how to select them; floor and window treatment; lighting; picture and flower arrangement; home as an investment.

Letters To The Editor

NOT HURTING THE HOUSEWIVES

October 16, 1936.

To the Editor:
My attention has been called to a letter published in today's Boston Herald written by Mrs. F. A. Leland of West Newton.

Mrs. Leland complains that the "WPA Sewing Projects hurt the housewives." Since the start of the Mayor's Relief Committee in October, 1930, there have been very few applications from maids for general housework. As far as the Newton Sewing Project is concerned, a careful analysis of the fifty women employed on this project shows that there are only two persons who are employed who possibly might take up this type of work, but neither one are at all experienced. A large majority of the women employed on our project are women with families, who find it very difficult to accept any position where they would be away from their children and homes in the evening. I do not know what the situation is in other cities, but I feel very certain that the local WPA Sewing Project is not in any way "hurting the housewives" in Newton.

Our experience here has been that people who are engaged in this type of work, do not make their homes in Newton. We find that a housemaid who has a position in Newton, and then loses same, invariably takes a room in Boston and attempts to secure work again through the large Boston employment agencies. We receive numerous requests weekly for maids for general housework, but I doubt that we have been able to find in Newton in the past six years more than five or six experienced persons for this type of work.

Unfortunately, we have too many calls from persons, who, in my opinion, take advantage of a person's needy circumstances and who seem perturbed to think that we cannot immediately provide an employee to work for $3.00 or $4.00 per week.

H. F. YOUNG,
Secretary, Mayor's Relief Committee, Inc.

NOT A PARTY MATTER

To the Editor,

Dear Sir:

This statement about the Register of Probate to be elected for Middlesex County is made without thought of party lines. Each thrifty family in Middlesex County needs the help of a court of Probate every twenty years or so. The executive manager of the Probate office is the Register. Experience of eleven years has proved that the present incumbent, Loring P. Jordan, is an excellent public servant. Many lawyers have endorsed him, too many for the individual list to be published. Each of us belongs to the firm which has had long experience of the registry of probate under Mr. Jordan's direction.

Stoughton Bell of Cambridge and of Putnam, Bell, Dutch & Santry, Raymond S. Wilkins of Winchester and of Palmer, Dodge, Barstow Wilkins & Davis.

Newton Republican, October 24, 1874

Charles Ward Post, G. A. R. is making arrangements for a series of entertainments during the coming winter which we learn will be well worth the attendance of the people of Newton. The Post deserves the fullest support of every citizen.

Road making is in order at West Newton just now. Fountain st., leading from Highland st. to Otis st., is being built. Esquire Davis has completed the street coming through his grounds and is ready to dispose of lots. Mr. Eddy has about finished his new street. Concrete sidewalks are to be found on about every street. We hope they will become universal.

The new city hall at West Newton is about completed and everyone remarks on its handsome appearance. The furnishings at the hall are to be elegant and might be considered somewhat extravagant by the penurious ones, but they will really be very cheap, having been obtained at a very low price. The furnishings were formerly the property of the City of Charlestown, but because of its annexation to Boston, they were not needed and were disposed of at a bargain. The furniture was delivered this week.

The Baptist and Methodist Episcopal Sunday Schools at Newton were well attended last Sabbath. At the former all but one of the teachers were present, that one was sick and had provided a substitute. Not so the latter. One half of the teachers were absent, but Mr. Weed, the new superintendent, entered upon his work with such skill and courage, that he will see that the ranks of the teachers, as well as the rank and file of the Sunday School, will be well manned.

Harry Jordan has purchased a Victor tricycle for use in his business which takes him to all parts of Newton.

The Eliot Cycle Company has completed a two story addition to their factory on Maple st., Newton, and will have their tricycles on the market next spring. A great deal is expected of them, as they will have hickory wheels, and excel in lightness, strength and simplicity of construction.

If you want to hear an able and racy sermon on Jonah and the whale, go to Eliot Church on Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock and hear Prof. Townsend. There will be good music by the Eliot Church choir.

J. J. Harvey's team was seized the other day at Nonantum. The wagon contained 16 cases of lager and 48 of porter. The driver was soliciting orders, but he claimed in court that he was only soliciting orders for tonic. As the contrary could not be proved, he was acquitted.

The Nonantum Worsted Company has made a general overhauling of all its tenement houses.

E. J. Johnson has sold his farm on Crafts st., Newtonville to the firm of Parker Brothers of Winter st., Boston. They will use it as a stock farm for the raising and training of horses. The price paid is said to have been a little under $20,000.

W. O. Knapp of Newton Centre advertised flour in the GRAPHIC last week for $5.75 a barrel, and in three days sold almost 100 barrels. Newton Centre people evidently read the GRAPHIC.

Mrs. Albert Grover of Upper Falls noted the hearts of many of the little people last Tuesday afternoon. The children of the infant department of the M. E. Sunday School were invited to her pleasant home on Eliot st. to a "Soap Bubble Party." They were entertained by playing games, blowing soap bubbles and so forth, and after being treated to a treat, their happiness was complete.

Spear's barge line is one of the institutions of Upper Falls. It is run exactly on time, as advertised, has good horses and careful drivers, and merits the patronage of our people. It carries a large number of people between here and Newton Highlands.

May I protest against the annual custom of burning leaves in the streets in the residential parts of our city. Our houses are duly freshened inside and outside and we ask for the city's protection of the same. Prohibit this method of this city's cleaning up, and have the leaves carted off to some compost heap to serve as fertilizer for lawns next spring.

Several hundred persons thronged Odd Fellows' Hall, West Newton on Monday evening, the occasion being the annual barn party of St. Bernard's Aid Society. The hall took the appearance of a barn with hay, vegetables and straw, and the large number in costume made the scene most attractive. The prizes were awarded by Rev. Fr. Kellier. Miss May "Comely and Joseph Curran won first prizes. Zella McGrath and Edward Dooley won the second prizes.

Powers' Paragraphs

We haven't had much to say about politics in this column during the campaign of the past few months. The Lord knows everyone has had ample opportunities to read political arguments in magazines and newspapers. And as for the spellbinding over the air, the radio stations have been so busy broadcasting political speeches, that we believe the unusually warm weather of the past six weeks has been largely caused by the "hot air" which has been pouring out of millions of radio sets all over this country. Torrid waves emanating from political orators, a large percentage of whom read "speeches" written by someone else. Enough baloney has been disseminated through the medium of the press and radio the past couple of months to stock all the delicatessen shops in the country for years to come.

Frankly, we haven't attempted to give our views on affairs political, so far as the national contest is concerned, because for the first time since we started to vote, we don't enthuse over either of the major candidates for President. Four years ago we were strong for Franklin D. Roosevelt.

We believed, and still believe, that he is a man with unusual sympathy for humanity, especially for those who have had more cloudy days than sunshine in their lives. We believed that the men who were in control in this country, politically, financially, industrially, during the years preceding the depression, had given too much attention to material affairs and too little to human problems. We believed that they had not been awake to the fact that economic conditions in this country, as in other countries were becoming so lopsided, that production had become so unsynchronized with distribution, that the chaos which followed between 1929 and 1933 could have been largely avoided by more intelligent leadership. And so, when Mr. Roosevelt proclaimed his concern for the masses in the 1932 campaign, and when he inaugurated his emergency programs in 1933, we enthused over him.

Our enthusiasm has faded because of our observation of the administration programs such as the ERA, PWA, AAA and WPA. In common with millions of others in the U. S. A. we could not approve of the gifts of millions upon millions of dollars to farmers and alleged farmers throughout this country, but especially in the West and South for not raising crops of this or that staple, or not raising pigs. Our disapproval of this policy of the Roosevelt administration was not made less when Mr. Wallace of the Roosevelt cabinet came to New England and showed his utter enmity for the many thousands of idle textile workers of this region by the sneering remarks he made in his speech at Maine.

We approve of the theories of the ERA, the PWA and the WPA. Had not relief been given promptly to the millions of our citizens desperately in want, this country would have seen rioting and probably a revolution similar to those experienced in European countries. But, we have seen such maladministration in these huge projects, that we have become disgusted. We have witnessed honest, deserving men with families to support pleading for assistance, and being put to work, if they were fortunate enough to have their applications accepted, on assignments for which they were given $12 or $14 weekly. And such compensation was not regular. We have also seen young men and women, without families dependent on them, and some who were members of families in comfortable circumstances, given ERA and WPA appointments with wages, salaries, compensation, or what you will, two and three times, and even more, the amount received by the men who did not have political pull, or other influence. And all of these favored ones were not Democrats. We know persons who have bragged that they never voted anything but the straight Republican ticket, who have fared more than well through assignments in PWA, ERA and WPA projects. It hasn't all been politics.

There has been a tremendous and unnecessary waste of public funds in Federal relief projects. Not alone through nonsensical boondoggling, but even more through the preference given on ERA and WPA projects, if Massachusetts is any criterion, to large numbers of men, many of whom are mere youths, who obviously are loafers, and who perform little or no labor in return for the money they receive from the Federal relief agencies. Money which is being raised through taxation, not alone from the wealthy who have plenty, but, also from millions of people who have been struggling for years to remain independent in spite of greatly lowered incomes. There has been a transition among all too large a percentage of our population. Instead of taking pride in being independent and self-supporting, they are now members of the "gimme" tribe. They believe in chiseling all they can. This trend didn't start among the masses. It got its impetus during the World War when big business men, and business men not so big soaked the government (the people paying), by means of exorbitant prices obtained through the medium of those wartime "cost plus 10 percent," and other contracts.

Next week we shall tell why we don't enthuse over Mr. Landon's candidacy.

Unexpected Comeback

The playful pleasures of Halloween are frequently accompanied by the spirit of mischief. Some people think the boys display rough ideas of fun and point to overturned ash-barrels, carrying off prizes, chairs, stoves, estate signs and other movable articles. As the festival will be observed in this and much milder forms Saturday evening of next week, I feel I should tell how a friend of mine deals with mischievous visitors. He isn't a grouch or hard-hearted, has children of his own and likes fun as much as anybody.

In order to meet the favorite door-bell ringing stunt of the little lads and lassies, this man unscrews the cap, substitutes for the existing button one of tin with a sharp pin concealed in it, and then replaces the cap. The effect on a youngster's finger of a good hard push against the pin is a series of howls and the joke is definitely turned. The same man says that he has found that rigging a stout cord across his lawn several inches above the ground is one way to trip trespassers after dark and send them sprawling. He has other ideas, too, but I won't go into them as this is not intended as a course of how to wreak vengeance on Halloween merrymakers. It is merely to show that one man at least thinks grown-ups have as much right as boys to indulge in sportive tricks.

Rounding-up Partners

Although not a bridge player, I can appreciate the enthusiasm of those who find the game irresistible and absorbing. Their eagerness for a "sitting," especially when things are dull and there is an evening to "kill," seems to me perfectly natural. I will even go further and say that I sympathize with them in their desperate efforts to locate a fourth when only three happen to be present. I can understand the frenzy that goes with "getting up a game."

An example of the persistence of a bridge fiend in this connection was revealed the other night. As I was walking along the sidewalk I saw what I supposed from its slow pace to be a police prowl car. I thought officers were doing cruising duty and when it stopped and the occupant hailed me I assumed it was a police business. When a voice addressed me I knew it was that of a friend.

"Thought you were a cop," said I. "Worse than that," he replied. "I'm trying to round-up a fourth for a game

Fast Figuring

Quick thinking is always demanded of the professional politician. At present, with election day ever a week distant, he is even more mentally alert. On the platform, before a throng, stood a well known spellbinder, making an appeal for votes Nov. 3, and declaring his certainty of election. He could prove it, he said, by the figures of an "informal and impartial poll." The fact was, the list had been placed in his hands at that moment. He received a sheet. The men who had taken the straw vote were honest and a number of sections showed him running behind. Without the wink of an eyelash this resourceful man read on. Whenever the figures of his opponent showed an increase over his he swiftly transposed them to his column and his opponent's "informal and impartial" poll seemed to make him a sure winner, which was far from what his figures revealed. The crowd never knew but the candidate was angry. Said he to his manager, "I had to think fast. Next time you must have the boys fix the figures up before they hand them to me to read in public."

Pedestrians' Newest Peril

Of course I am glad to see youngsters are stronger than in my day and are able to roll along the sidewalk discarded automobile tires instead of the slender wooden hoops that were good enough years ago. There must be as much sport in it, and perhaps more as greater muscle is required. Pedestrians who used to dread the sight of a wooden hoop are even more disturbed when they see one of those heavy circular girdles headed their way. Unexpected, or even expected contact with an automobile tire is a dangerous experience no matter how funny it may appear. Still, I doubt if anything can be done about it. Nevertheless, we oldsters must continue to practice side-stepping and prepare to back against a fence or tree to avoid collision.

NEWTON INTERMEDIATE TEAM HAS FIVE GAMES

L. P. "Jeff" Jones, Newton High varsity baseball coach, is still in harness at Claffin Field, working over a large squad of intermediate football players. This group is just what the name indicates, a training group with more than Jayvee experience or promise, but not enough to warrant bench room with the varsity. Jones has three full teams working out every day, and he uses the A, B, and C outfits as units as much as possible.

The Intermediates play a schedule of five games, of which they have already won from Belmont 2nds 6-0 and lost to the Needham 2nds 7-6. Against Belmont, Newton scored in the first period. After a reverse and a double reverse had brought the ball from midfield to the Belmont 20, a series of short line plays reached the goal, with Powers carrying across for the touchdown. Belmont threatened in the third quarter, but the Newton eleven was only four yards from a touchdown when the game ended. All three teams shared in the victory.

Needham 2nds scored first in their game with the Intermediates, after a forward pass had been made good at Newton's three-yard line when the referee ruled interference. The seventh point was added on a rush. In the second half, Troy, Newton centre, intercepted a pass almost at midfield and ran it back to the ten-yard line. Needham held for downs and kicked out, but Newton marched in again on off-tackle plays, and Pailier carried over for a touchdown.

Stanley Sohaski, team A back, has been one of the most consistently good players on the team. Mark Messier, a fine kicker, is one of the graduates to the varsity, as is Liming, a guard who rose from the Jayvee ranks and was sent up to the varsity this year. The A and B teams line up as follows: Team A: le, Howard; lt, Courtney; lg, Cuttice; c, Newcomb; rg, Holmes; rt, Mason; re, DeLuca or Brown; qb, Sohaski; lhb, Smith or Burns; rlb, Pailier; fb, Powers.

Team B: le, Barrow; lt, Parsons; lg, Yeradi; c, Myers; rg, Lyko; rt, Sostilio; re, Leger; qb, Antonellis; lhb, Maguire; rlb, Pescosolido; fb, Daglia; spare backs, Huston, Levin, Allen, Wood, and Coughlin.

SUCCESSFUL CONTROL MERITS APPROVAL

THE RECORD

PROHIBITION has been tried and found wanting. In its wake trailed a train of criminal evil that shocked and appalled our nation. It was repudiated overwhelmingly by the people of Newton in 1933. In its place was substituted an intelligent rational control by a Commission, under License.

This Commission, consisting of three members, appointed by the Mayor, has supervision of the Alcoholic Beverage Business in Newton.

SO successful has been this co-operation that the License Board in its annual report for 1935 submitted to the Mayor expressed "Gratification over the law-abiding manner in which Newton liquor establishments are conducted. Few complaints have been received and after thorough investigation, in only one case was disciplinary action necessary."

NEWTON has demonstrated its capacity to handle this important and necessary business.

BROCKTON BACKS STAR IN 25 TO 7 VICTORY

Newton Fails To Stop Capt. Montgomery

Paced by a trio of scintillating backs the strong and undefeated Brockton football team trampled the orange and black of Newton high into the greensward at the Dickinson Stadium on Monday afternoon to the tune of 25 to 7. The Saturday afternoon deluge necessitated the postponement and gave Newton officials reason to believe that a small crowd would be in attendance. They did not, however, take into recognition the delirious support being accorded the Brockton team by its rabid followers who stormed the Newton stadium by the thousands. With a small attendance anticipated preparation was not made to handle the 5000 who attended and neither the gates nor the ticket offices were opened early enough for the impatient crowd. While police assigned to the game did their best it was impossible to prevent many from climbing the fence at the back of the stadium on Hull st. and watching the game without paying for the privilege.

Newton received the opening kickoff when the game started promptly at three o'clock and the battle was on. For the first quarter there was no score although goodly gains were reeled off by Capt. Lou Montgomery and Louis Principe of the visitors and Forte and Johnston of the home outfit. Newton staved off several sorties by the invaders too raise the hopes of the home supporters but in vain as late in the session the two Brockton backs, aided by the muscled line-plunging of fullback Saba began a march that would not be denied. As the period ended Brockton had ground out 75 grudging yards to the Newton 10-yard stripe.

The first play of the second period was stopped for a two yard loss when Bill Johnston came up fast to smear Montgomery as he attempted a wide end run and it was fourth down and six yards to go. Quarterback Principe called a pass play and tossed the oval into the open arms of Captain Montgomery deep in the end zone for the initial tally. Tackle Castoldi broke through the line to block the attempted placekick for the point.

Following the kickoff Newton started a march of its own which petered out on the Brockton 33-yard line. The visitors obtained possession of the ball and started its second touchdown march. Two rushes brought a first down on the Newton 43 and then Saba reeled off 23 yards to the Newton 20. Principe carried to the Newton 13 and then alternated with Saba to put the ball on the one-foot line. Saba plunged through for the tally. The point after failed.

In the third period five minutes went by with Newton gradually being forced back. Punting from the ten yard line Johnston saw Montgomery gather the ball in his arms on the dead run at the Newton 38 where several Newton tacklers were poised to bring him down. They were too close to the Brockton star to drop him as he sped between them, cut to his left around those players left in the scrimmage line, picked up an interferer or two who took care of those left in the Newton backfield and zig-zagged his way down the sideline for the third touchdown, making the score 18 to 0. Once again the try for point failed.

In the fourth quarter Newton again had to kick from near their goal line and Brockton took possession of the ball on the Newton 40. Rushes by Principe and Montgomery gained 15 yards and then Principe knifed his way through tackle and continued on to the goal line 25 yards away. His try for the extra point this time was good.

Newton threatened to score at least three times with its passing attack but the passes failed by the narrowest of margins. As Brockton seemed vulnerable to the open game Quarterbacks Al Thompson and Frank Hines took to the air frequently and in the final session succeeded. Late in the final quarter Halfback Guido Castoldi tossed a pass to Bill Johnston for a 20-yard gain to put the ball on the Brockton 30-yard stripe. Johnston had a clear field ahead of him but stumbled and fell to the ground as the ball nestled in his arms. The old Statue of Liberty play then was converted into the Newton tally. With Castoldi poised to throw a pass Paul Forte, Newton sprinter, ran around behind him, seized the ball, ran around his left end for the score. Johnston's placekick for the extra point was good. With but a few minutes left to play Newton again opened up with passes but to no avail. A Johnston to Dexter pass was good for a thirty yard gain but Dexter slipped and stumbled, like Johnston had previously, with a clear field ahead. The next pass was intercepted on the Brockton 20 and the game ended a few plays later.

NEWTON ELEVEN FACES QUINCY TOMORROW

Favored To Win After Two Straight Losses

The Newton high school football team will attempt to regain the victory path tomorrow afternoon, weather permitting, after two straight losses giving the locals a 500 rating for the season. The orange and black's opponent will be Quincy High which has played five games, won one, tied one and lost three. Tomorrow's contest will mark the eighth consecutive game in the present series between the two schools. Newton has a decided edge in these games since 1929 having outscored the Granite City eleven 94 to 26 in their seven meetings. Newton has won four, tied two and lost but one.

The first two games in 1929 and 1930 resulted in 4 to 6 tie scores. Warren Huston featured in the next two games which resulted in one-sided victories of 20-7 and 25-0 in '31 and '32. In 1933 the count was 16 to 0 but in 1934 the visitors chalked up a 7 to 6 edge for their only victory of the series. Last year Newton returned to its winning ways by a 15 to 0 count when all the points were chalked up in the first half after several decided breaks in favor of Coach Sanborn's outfit.

Former Illinois State Champ Enters Hub Tourney

Sixteen year old Leslie Lowry, Illinois state champion and now a student at Newton High School, has entered and is favored to win the Greater Boston Table Tennis tournament at the Boys' Club of Boston in Charlestown, November 6 and 7. His chief rivals will probably be Larry Smith of Brookline, New England and Massachusetts state champion, Jack Kyger and Bernie Ross of M. I. T., the three Holden brothers of Somerville and Larry Cirella of Medford, winner of the event last season.

The four leading women players in Newton, Edna Gryzmish, Mrs. Lloyd Shephardson, Lucia Farrington and Helen Johnson, the first three of whom are ranking players in Massachusetts, have entered the women's division. Miss Gryzmish, a graduate student at Simmons who is second ranking player in the state, won the event last season. Miss Farrington, Dana Hall student, who was runner-up in the recent Auburndale Open tournament, is expected to be one of the champion's most dangerous challengers.

Mrs. Shephardson, 56 Bellevue st., Newton, who is the Greater Boston league secretary, is in charge of entries.

Newton Highlights

Frank J. Liuzzo of 40 Byrd ave., West Newton, is a charter member of the Northeastern University Tennis Club which was established this year for the first time. The chief purpose of the club is to restore tennis to the position of a major sport at the intown college. Liuzzo, son of Mrs. Frances Liuzzo, is a graduate of Newton High School, where he was a member of the baseball and hockey teams.

Seen at the Brockton game. The entire Waltham high squad, coaches and press taking the opportunity to see two future opponents in action. Commenting on the game Percy Shain of the Waltham News says—"As for the Garden City clan it showed an ultra-speedy back in Paul Forte, a pair of fighting co-captains in the Thompson brothers, and occasional defensive flashes, but little else. The blocking and tackling was particularly weak on all save a few occasions and the team will have to brush up considerably on these important assignments if it is to make any sort of showing here (in Waltham) next month." The Waltham commentator has every right to be proud of the Watch City eleven but apparently can't forget that the Waltham 53 to 0 win was eleven months ago and that 1935 and 1936 are two different years. Incidentally any team that can stop Montgomery, Principe and Saba together will have to be some team. Maybe Krol, Jordan, Pendergast and other luminaries can do it. Time will tell.

WHERE THEY PLAY TOMORROW

Quincy at Newton.
Lynn Eng. at Waltham.
Camb. Lat. at Brookline.
Watertown at Arlington.
Everett at Medford.
New Bedford at Brockton.

WOMEN'S CLUB ACTIVITIES

Noted Sculptor and Fashion Show for Art Program

On October 27th, the Auburndale Woman's Club officially opens their twenty-first year, with Mrs. Edward B. Gray, the president, presiding. Under the experienced chairmanship of Mrs. Ernest F. Drew, a former Club president, the Program committee has planned an ambitious and distinctive series of programs for the Club Year.

At 1 o'clock, a dessert-social will start the afternoon's festivities. At 1:45 p. m., a Fashion Show of knit garments, modeled by Club members, will be presented, during which Mrs. Austin Eaton, sponsor of this Show, will display several of her original creations.

Business follows at 2:30 o'clock, and at 3 o'clock Mrs. Edgar O. Butz, Art chairman, will introduce the speaker of the afternoon, Madame Suzanne Silvercruys, who is known internationally as sculptor, actress, playwright, and author. Madame Silvercruys will speak on the subject "Life, Art, and Sculpture", during which she will produce a statuette and a portrait bust in plastiline, from armature to finished production.

Madame Silvercruys, who was born in Belgium, made her first visit to this country during the World War as a delegate of the Belgium Embassy to appeal for aid for her war-stricken homeland. For her success in this work, the King and Queen of Belgium bestowed their highest honors upon her. She later returned to this country to study sculpture at the Yale School of Fine Arts. Madame Silvercruys also has been an active participant in American politics.

The Art chairman of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs will be the special guests of the day.

Dutch Bazaar
Colorful Setting

The Dutch Bazaar, which will be held on Tuesday, October 27th, from 10 a. m. to 10 p. m., is engrossing the attention of the members of the Newtonville Woman's Club. Mrs. Raymond Tucker and her committee, who are entering upon the undertaking with enthusiasm, have planned for hundreds of tulips, a white picket fence, and windmills, and attendants wearing Dutch caps and aprons, to lend the atmosphere of colorful and picturesque Holland.

The chairman of the tables are Mrs. Mervin S. Giles, Gifts; Mrs. Samuel L. Thompson, Bridge; Mrs. Chester F. Babcock, Household and Aprons; Mrs. Edmund W. Kellogg, Food; Mrs. Roger Wheeler, Candy; Mrs. Horace Orr, Flowers; Mrs. George I. Whitehead, second-hand Books; Mrs. Clifford B. Whitney, White Elephants; Mrs. Dudley Hovey, Children's Grabs, and Miss Mary L. Rolfe, Miscellaneous, twenty-five cent table.

Luncheon will be served from 2 to 2:30 o'clock, and dinner at 6 o'clock. Reservations may be made with the chairman, Mrs. H. M. Waybright.

In the evening, from 8 to 9 o'clock, there will be a Vaudeville Entertainment. The "Husbands' Quartette," composed of Mr. David Dunn, Dr. Allen R. Barrow, Dr. J. Avery Dunn, and Mr. George Merritt, will entertain with musical selections. There will be a clarinet solo by John McCarty, and vocal selections by Mrs. Franklin G. Field, with Miss Lillian West, accompanist. Mr. C. Elliot Smith will mystify the audience with sleight-of-hand.

The Literature Afternoons which met with such success last year will be continued this year, with Mrs. Wallace C. Boyden and Mrs. J. Mace Andrews as leaders. The first meeting will take place at Mrs. Boyden's on Monday, October 26th, at 2:30 o'clock. It will be a "Dickens Afternoon." Tea will be served.

Juniors To Have Bridge Party

On Thursday evening, October 29th, at 8 p. m., the Newton Highlands Junior Woman's Club is holding a Bridge at the Workshop, Newton Highlands. Prizes will be given at each table and refreshments served after the card playing.

The committee in charge is headed by Miss Priscilla Speare, who will be assisted by the Misses Catherine Hayden, Mary MacKay, Marion Stratton, Elizabeth Norton, Virginia Thomas, Mary Currier and Virginia Townsend.

Artists' Day
At Newtonville
Delightful Event

Summer came back for Tuesday, the day of the Reception of the Newtonville Woman's Club, and the occasion was a veritable blossoming time for the members gathered there. The gay yellows in the decorations, the colorful gowns, and the general air of cheer and friendliness made the afternoon one of the red letter days of the Club. The president, Mrs. H. Clayton Pearson, received with the officers, and Mrs. Benjamin Miller, director of Twelfth District. Mrs. Richard R. MacMillan and her committee served the refreshments.

Social Hall had been transformed into a portrait gallery, with faces of different types looking down on the festivities. Miss Rosamond Coolidge, well-known in Boston art circles, contributed some of her fine work. A portrait of John Orth brought that noted musician to remembrance. A young girl in white, and a boy whose eyes seemed to follow the doings in the room, were others. An officer in uniform was the work of Mr. R. K. Fletcher.

The Kovitz Trio, composed of sisters Anna and Dorothy Kovitz, and Norma Olson played with spirit. Hungarian Dance No. 6, by Brahms; Boccherini's Minuet, and Mendelssohn's "On Wings of Song," were some of the favorites rendered.

The Art Gallery, presided over by Mrs. Frederick W. Ried, chairman of the Art committee, showed a remarkable collection of oils, water colors, pastels, and pencil drawings. A number of the exhibitors are well-known and many of them live in Newton and vicinity. Some were Club members. Mrs. Ried, as well as assembling this collection, contributed some attractive flower studies. Mrs. Hubert Ripley showed some roses and other colorful flower pieces; Mrs. Frank E. Morris exhibited a sketch of Perce, Judith Andress's two dog pictures attracted considerable attention and were most lifelike. Mrs. W. E. Strong, lover of flowers and autumn foliage, was true to type in "Jefferson and Peonies."

During the summer Mr. Hoyland Ettlinger and Miss Kaye Peterson are teaching art at Gaspe Peninsula, and in winter they conduct the Hobby School at Newton Lower Falls. They were both represented in the collection. Mr. Bettinger's "Wind Blown Birchies," and Miss Peterson's "Barachois" and "Field and Clouds," are notable works. Mr. R. K. Fletcher contributed "Monhegan," "Landscape," also "Sentinel," and other pencil drawings; and Mr. Nelson Chase, teacher in the Fine Arts Guild, "Snow Scene." The many admirers of the work of Mr. Frederick H. Daniels found much to enjoy. His feeling for sky and delicate cloud effects was expressed in scenes from Martha's Vineyard. "Late Snow" was unusual in its departure from the steely blue shadows so often found in snow scenes. The soft brown shadings were particularly pleasing. James Bonnar, who will later favor the Club with a "One man show," gave a foretaste of what may be anticipated in a group of special beauty, including an orchard scene, and a village in snow.

Other artists and their works were: Mr. Hubert Ripley, "Morning Glories"; Charles Curtis Allen, "Old Sudbury"; Edith Chadwick, "Long View"; Clare C. Hudson, "Rockport Wharf"; Charles Lindsey, "Storms"; Guna Asberg, "Larkspur," and a number of flower studies; Hugh Perrin, "Bermuda Sunset"; Priscilla Ordway, "Landscape"; Gertrude Davis, "Figurine"; Sarah Woodland, "Petunias"; Clare Hudson, "Rockport Wharf"; Mrs. M. H. Smith, "Daisies"; H. C. Pollock, "Bar Harbor." The Bonnar-Atwood Studio also exhibited an attractive display of metal articles and china, etc.

Guna Asberg, a young girl of Russian parentage, a graduate of the Massachusetts School of Art, shows much talent and promise, and her floral studies in pastel attracted much attention.

The Club feels very grateful to these artists of distinction who have given the members the privilege of seeing the fruits of their genius.

Several of the artists were present, adding to the interest of the exhibit, among them Rosamond Coolidge, Clare Hudson, and Mr. Fletcher.

Newton Federation
Meeting Interesting

Monday, October 19th, was Public Health Day at the Fall Meeting of the Newton Federation, in the Union Church, Waban. Interesting and valuable discussions were conducted by the chairman of the various committees at the Round-Tables from 10 to 11:40 a. m.

The assembly in the Church at 11:40 o'clock was opened by the president, Mrs. J. Earle Parker, and she introduced as the first speaker, Mrs. Lorenz Muther, of the Community Chest. Mrs. Muther announced the Exhibition at the Armory, all day Friday and Saturday, November 6th and 7th; told of the charities covered in the Chest, to show how the work of each one is handled in Newton; Friday is to be devoted to the school children, but Saturday is for the general public. In the center of the Hall will be a big open Circus and all sorts of activities will be going on, with an enormous Community Chest at the end, with figures emerging from it, and a loud speaker announcing the charity the respective figure represents.

Mrs. William Edgar Birdsall, president of the Newton W. C. T. U., spoke briefly of the ideals of that organization, also of the Newton Civic Council, and asked for volunteers in addressing envelopes which will contain important statistics on the liquor question in Newton for every voter, which they should have before November 3rd.

"Buying Christmas seals will lead you to a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year" was Mrs. Chester W. Tudbury's slogan as she described the preventive work done in the homes, outfits furnished for patients in sanatoriums and individual personality in the camps.

Mrs. Edward H. Woods, the only woman on the Newton School Committee, told a few things about the school committeeman's job, and of the importance of keeping constantly in the educator's mind the fact that the school is Public, and not the child. (Continued on page 9)

Recent Weddings

ALEXANDER—NIVLING

Miss Lois Mays Nivling, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Adams Nivling of Ridge ave., Newton Centre, was married to Lieutenant Stanley Morton Alexander of Bremerton, Washington at four o'clock on Saturday afternoon, October 17, in the First Congregational Church, Newton Centre. Rev. Ray Eusden of Newton performed the ceremony.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her wedding gown was of ivory satin and her veil fell from a halo of matching satin. She carried lilies of the valley and gardenia. Miss Gertrude M. Rotary Club

At the Rotary Club Luncheon held at the Brae Burn Country Club on Monday, October 19th, Dick Nesbit, Director of Norumbega Council Boy Scouts was the speaker. He was introduced by Warren Brimblecom. Dick took as his subject the ancient manner of making a fire. He showed in a most interesting manner the way of starting a blaze with blow drill, flint and steel and flint lock musket. The club enjoyed his demonstration very much and many questions were asked by the members, especially by those who had never witnessed the fire making experiment before. This is sure a long way from our present modern method of using matches.

Offers Art Course

Miss Ellis is offering an excellent opportunity to those who are unable to include art in their programs by enrolling pupils who are interested in an art course to be taken at the Museum of Fine Arts in Boston.

Phyllis Treagar, Olive Joyce, Theodore Reed, Barbara Swan, Phyllis Appleyard, Anthony Borghetti, Stanley Steacie, and Mary Rowe have enrolled. The tuition is only five dollars and the pupils' material. There are chances for more art enthusiasts. The classes will meet each Saturday beginning October 17, and will continue until April—with a Christmas vacation.

English Club

The English Club of Newton High this year celebrates its twenty-fifth anniversary. Founded by Professor Charles Swain Thomas, then head of the English department in the school, the club has the finest record of all school clubs. This year, under the direction of the adviser, Miss E. Louise Richardson, the program committee has arranged an unusually good schedule of interesting events. Mrs. Walter Jamison spoke at the meeting on October 15. Her subject was "Robert Frost and His Poetry."

Junior Red Cross Starts Its Drive

The committee on Junior Red Cross work is now making its annual drive for contributions to its cause. Home room teachers have been asked to appeal to their pupils and to act as receivers of the collections. Miss Cotton in building 1, Miss McGuire in building 2, and Miss Rogers in building 3 are acting as agents.

Cavalry Club Elects Officers

The Cavalry Club officers for the current school year were selected in room 2101 on October 8. President, Jack Selby; Vice-president, Allen Gordon; Treasurer, Theodore Barnett; Reporter, Jack Blake; chairman of the Executive Committee, Stanley Solomon. The following boys compose the committee: James McDonald, Harold Woods, James E. Brady, Kenneth Chesley, Roland Pease, Fred Guterman, and Joseph Alpert.

The boys decided to divide into two groups, one playing polo, and the other riding. The first ride, on Saturday, October 10, was most satisfying. Any member of the club desiring to ride with the club may secure information from the club adviser, Mr. Willard, in room 2101. The club membership will be limited.

Spanish Club First Meeting

The first meeting of the Spanish Club was held in room 321, Thursday, October 15. The acting chairman, Allen Gordon, asked the adviser, Mr. Argento, to speak to the club about the activities for the coming year. Miss Louise Mann who has spent the last three years in Panama, spoke on the festivals of that country.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: president, Allen Gordon; Vice-president, Stanley Gruber; secretary, Marjorie Lind; treasurer, James Byrne; chairman of the program committee, Louise Mann; membership committee, Weston Littlefield.

Alpha Beta Has Meeting

The opening meeting of Alpha Beta was held on Thursday, Oct. 15, in the lecture hall. James Dealy, the retiring president, opened the meeting. By way of introduction he outlined the activities of last year's club.

Mr. Raymond A. Green, the acting principal, entertained an appreciative group by showing movies of his European travels and telling about the costumes the peasants wore.

Social Studies Club Meets

At the first meeting of the revitalized Social Studies Club, deals were transacted. In order to have the organization move more swiftly a temporary date of officers was elected in September. The improvised workers received the whole-hearted approval of the club and were elected for the year: Chester Newey, president; Gerry Wisbach, vice-president; Doris Merendahl, secretary; Paul McGrath, treasurer; Rosamond Simpkins, chairman of the program committee; Virginia Hardy, chairman of the trips committee.

The presidential cartoon contest winners, Dorothy Robbins and Chester Newey, were congratulated and will shortly receive their prizes. Miss Robbins' collection was shown on the screen and briefly explained by her.

Following the cartoon display, a sound movie, from Schrafft's, was shown illustrating the machine in industry, a topic studied in the Problems classes.

Our Lady H. S.

The pupils of the first grade of Our Lady's School were taken on a nature study to Walnut Park Country Day School for Boys on Friday afternoon. Accompanied by their teachers, they visited the spacious grounds, being shown the beautiful pond, the tennis court, apple orchard and conservatory.

Election of Class Officers

The Senior Class held their election for class officers on Friday morning at the Parliamentary Law Period. Paul Cannon, outgoing president, acted as chairman and presided over the meeting. The votes, which were taken by secret ballot, were counted by Miss Theresa McCarthy, teacher of elocution and debating.

Those chosen as class officers were: President, Paul Cannon; Vice President, Mary O'Brien; Treasurer, Edward Callahan; Secretary, Mary Meade.

Newman Club

The Freshman Girls of Our Lady's School have become enthusiastic members of the Cardinal Newman English Club, which meets every Friday in Room 3. Three meetings have been held. Miss Eula Place is a most capable chairman and Mary Campbell is the very efficient secretary. Permanent officers will be elected at the completion of the course on parliamentary procedure.

Junior Class Meeting

The first meeting of the Junior Class was held in the auditorium, Friday, Oct. 16, under the supervision of Miss McCarthy, the elocution teacher. The president of the previous year, John Kenna, conducted the meeting. Class officers elected were: John Kenna (re-elected), president; Mary Garry, vice-president; Carmen Iadonisi, treasurer; Alyce Yeager, secretary.

Various committees were appointed by the chair to look into different matters which had arisen in discussing the business of the day. The business was the preparation for the annual Christmas party given to the Senior Class by the Juniors. One committee consisted of Bernard Farragher, Evelyn Stewart, Joseph Garry and Catherine Donahue. Another consisted of Edward O'Brien, John Bryson, Catherine Callahan and Margaret Mahoney.

Athletics

A smart Junior eleven again defeated the Sophomore in an interclass game this week. This defeat is the second one handed to the Sophomores this year.

Hard tackling by Bryson in the backfield backed up the rather weak line. Although Captain Gagan continued making long gains through centre, his strongest line men were not present.

In the first period Muse of the Sophomores romped around end for the first score. The point after was not successful. But Gagan's "Pop Warner" coached eleven was not to be denied. A Junior touchdown soon after occurred, Gagan going over for the first touchdown. Point after was not converted.

Playing straight football for the rest of the game, both sides were unable to score. In the closing minutes of the fourth period Gentile scampered down the field past the Sophs' secondary, catching a long pass from Gagan, and went over for the winning touchdown. A double reverse by the snappy Junior eleven made the extra point. The final score read Juniors, 13; Sophomores, 6.

Bigelow Junior H. S.

Pupils of the Bigelow Junior High School entertained the school at the talent assembly on Friday morning, October 16. The first number on the program was a monologue by Barbara Moore. This was followed by a violin solo by Albert Tashjian. The girls' quartet comprising Corinne Boyd, Ruth Wiles, Gertrude Foley, and Grace Fisher, gave a vocal selection. Annetta Wallace performed an acrobatic dance followed by a selection from the school orchestra.

Seven members of the 8th grade Dramatic Club participated in an amusing pantomime. Jean Stevenson was the reader, and the players included Sally West, August Avattaggio, Samuel Cutler, Richard Bolin, Harbert Smith, Rebecca Connolly, and Audrey Fitzgerald. Three other members of the 8th grade Dramatic Club, Jane Mansfield, Rebecca Connolly, and Carolyn Meredith took part in a skit. The next feature was a skit by John Eusden, and the program was concluded by singing by the girls' quartet.

Day Jr. High School

At the first meeting of the newly elected Student Council on Friday, October 16th the election of officers was held, the following having been elected: Philip Scanlon, president; Stuart Wilson, vice-president; and Charles Bova, secretary-treasurer. Jacqueline Wilcox was chosen captain of the Girls' Patrol for the first half year, and John Purley holds a similar position on the Boys' Patrol.

Mr. Warren, the superintendent of the Newton schools, welcomed the delegates to Newton. Mr. Caverly, also well known in Newton, although he is now superintendent of schools in Brookline, was the after dinner speaker.

A Lecture on Christian Science

Christian Science: The Science of Christ Healing by COLIN RUCKER EDDISON, C.S. of London, England

Member of the Board of Lectureship of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

One of several lectures by members of The Board of Lectureship of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, given in Newton each year under the auspices of The First Church of Christ, Scientist, of Newton, was delivered in the Church Edifice, Walnut and Otis Streets, Newtonville, Tuesday evening.

The lecturer was introduced by William E. McKee of Newtonville, the First Reader, who said:

The first command from God, as related in the first chapter of Genesis, is "Let there be light." In obedience to this command, there was light, "and God saw the light, that it was good." Although many of the patriarchs and prophets saw and lived by this light, it gradually became obscured, and men walked in darkness and not "with God" until John the Baptist came preaching in the wilderness with a message from God, telling of and proclaiming the light "which shineth in the darkness" and the darkness comprehended it not, "the true light which lighteth every man that cometh into the world." Jesus himself said, "I am the light of the world; he that followeth me shall not walk in darkness but shall have the light of life." Jesus and the apostles and the early Christians again walked in the light, but afterwards, because of materialism and failure to apply the Christ teaching in daily living, this "light" was again obscured for many centuries, but not extinguished. Can you ever extinguish the principles of mathematics? No more can you extinguish the principle of the Christ Science by which Jesus healed the sick, the sinning, and raised the dead.

It remained, however, for our beloved Leader, Mary Baker Eddy, to glimpse this light again, and when she did so in 1866 she was instantaneously healed of an injury which had been pronounced fatal. She has set forth her discovery in the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures." She has there revealed the principle by which Jesus and the apostles healed the sick, the sinning, and recovered the dying. The proof of this statement is in the fact that thousands have been healed of sickness, sin, sorrow, lack, discouragement while reading this textbook.

Mrs. Eddy, in commenting on various methods of treating disease, wrote in "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" on page 344, "but there is only one which should be presented to the whole world, and that is the Christian Science which Jesus preached and practised and left to us as his rich legacy."

The Christian Science churches throughout the world at their Sunday and Wednesday services, our Christian Science lecturers at gatherings similar to this one here tonight, and our Christian Science practitioners, are sharing this "rich legacy" with all who are willing and ready to receive it.

Our lecturer this evening is a member of the Board of Lectureship of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts. He can tell you how this light has shined comprehensively into many a darkened consciousness, illumined it, and so dispelled all the distorted shadows it had theretofore been harboring.

His subject is "Christian Science: The Science of Christ-Healing."

Let us listen with open and receptive hearts.

I now have the great pleasure of presenting Mr. Colin Rucker Eddison, of London, England.

The lecturer spoke substantially as follows:

It is recorded in the Gospel of John that Christ Jesus declared, "This is life eternal, that they might know thee the only true God, and Jesus Christ, whom thou hast sent." Life eternal, that abundant life which Jesus said that he came to give, implies more than mere existence. It includes health, freedom, happiness—all that makes life worth having. "This is life eternal," the Master said—not shall be; and what mankind needs, what we all long for, is present salvation from the problems and perplexities that beset us, from sin and sorrow, from sickness and from lack. Christian Science teaches and proves that such deliverance is possible here and now through a right understanding of God, as Jesus indicated.

When on his missionary journey he came to Athens, the Apostle Paul found an altar dedicated "TO THE UNKNOWN GOD," and was able to assure the Athenians, "Whom therefore ye ignorantly worship, I declare unto you." In the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," Mary Baker Eddy, the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, has written (p. 596): "Paganism and agnosticism may define Deity as 'the great unknowable'; but Christian Science brings God much nearer to man, and makes Him better known as the All-in-all, forever near."

What, then, is the nature of God, the God whom Paul preached to the Athenians, and whom Christian Science brings much nearer to man?

Christian Scientists turn naturally to the Bible to learn about God, for no body of people holds the Bible in greater reverence. It was in the Bible that Mrs. Eddy discerned the truths she afterwards set out in the Christian Science textbook, and her followers find that the Bible grows more and more important to them in their daily lives as they study its pages in the light thrown upon them by Christian Science.

Throughout the Old Testament may be discerned, in the writings and experiences of the Hebrew race, a gradually developing concept of the nature of God: a concept sometimes overlaid with primitive notions of a God of battles, swayed by human passions such as revenge or favoritism; at other times more spiritual and universal in its meaning. Thus we may trace in the Old Testament the thought of God as infinite, as omnipotent, as all-knowing and eternal, the intelligent source and cause of everything that exists.

It is, however, in the New Testament, more especially, of course, in the life and work of Christ Jesus, that we find the clearest, the most convincing explanation and demonstration of what God is. Sitting by the well-side at Sychar, Jesus said plainly to the woman of Samaria, "God is a Spirit." And the supreme revelation of God's nature made by our Master, in his teaching, in his works of healing, in his whole life of patient self-sacrifice, was that God is Love.

As a result of her deep and persistent study of the Scriptures and of her spiritual inspiration Mrs. Eddy was able to answer the question "What is God?" in the Christian Science textbook as follows: "God is incorporeal, divine, supreme, infinite Mind, Spirit, Soul, Principle, Life, Truth, Love" (Science and Health, p. 465). This, then, is the God whom Christian Science enables us to know and understand, and to find "forever near," because, being infinite, He is ever present.

Jesus and Christ

The way in which Christian Science enables us to know God is by helping us to understand more intelligently the life and work of Christ Jesus. Jesus once asked his disciples a momentous question. There were current among his contemporaries many different views and theories about him. Some people thought he was John the Baptist, others thought he was Elijah, or one of the prophets risen again. Jesus rejected all such fantastic speculations and said to his disciples: "But whom say ye that I am?" Peter answered, "Thou art the Christ, the Son of the living God." That Jesus approved this answer and regarded it as important is shown by his reply, "Blessed art thou, Simon Bar-jona: for flesh and blood hath not revealed it unto thee, but my Father which is in heaven."

What, then, is the meaning of this title "Christ"? Christian Science explains that there is a distinction between "Jesus" and "Christ": the term "Christ" is not merely a synonym for "Jesus." The human Jesus was the best and greatest man that ever lived. His example remains forever as the standard for Christian living. He is the Way-shower, in whose footsteps Christian Scientists endeavor humbly to follow. It is impossible to exaggerate the debt which the world owes to the Founder of Christianity. He went about doing good—he healed the sick, fed the hungry, raised the dead. He imposed upon his followers the great command to love one another, a command which provides the ultimate and only possible solution for all social, industrial, and international problems. By his victory on the cross and his resurrection he proved that life is spiritual and eternal.

What was it that enabled him to do all this? Christian Science teaches that it was the Christ, Truth, which Jesus understood in fullest measure. Jesus, as Mrs. Eddy has pointed out, is a human name, which the Master shared with others of his race; Christ, on the other hand, is a divine title which refers to the spirituality expressed throughout his life and teaching. In Science and Health (p. 583) may be found this definition of Christ: "The divine manifestation of God, which comes to the flesh to destroy incarnate error." That which is manifest is clear, plainly understood. It was, then, the Master's clear apprehension of what God is that entitled him to be called "Christ Jesus," and that healed and saved those who turned to him for help.

His demonstration of the unity of God and man, of divine Mind and its spiritual idea, made Christ Jesus the Saviour of mankind. Christian Scientists feel unbounded gratitude to him for his life of absolute unselfishness, for all he taught and wrought, for his steadfast adherence to Truth and his supreme example of self-sacrifice in the crucifixion. They do not believe that Jesus came to earth, faced the attacks of bigotry and envy, and suffered on the cross to appease an angry deity, and so win pardon for sinful mortals. Such a doctrine cannot be true if God is Love, as the Bible declares Him to be. Christian Science shows us that we must "work out [our] own salvation" by following in the footsteps of Christ Jesus. We can do this as we learn to know what Jesus knew, and to put that knowledge, as it is gained little by little, into practice in our daily lives. That is the "way of salvation"—the only way.

It was upon his healing work that Jesus relied to substantiate the truth of what he taught and to confirm Peter's acknowledgment of him as the Christ. And today it is by his healing and restoring work that Christian Science confirms and substantiates its teachings, and its claim to reveal to this age the Christ, Truth, which made Jesus the Messiah.

The Will of God

It is said of Jesus in the epistle to the Hebrews, "Lo, I come . . . to do thy will, O God," a statement confirmed by many of our Lord's own sayings. His works illustrate and demonstrate the will of God. When with a word Jesus stilled the storm which seemed to threaten the disciples' safety, he proved that the terrible destructive forces of nature are contrary to the will of God. When he fed the multitudes with resources impossibly small from a material standpoint, he proved that material limitation is not in conformity with God's will. He showed by healing the sick that disease and infirmity are not the will of God. By raising the dead he proved that death is not in accordance with the will of God. What did these works of Jesus prove? God's will for man to be? Surely the opposite of the conditions which he destroyed: peace and safety, not distress and danger; the affluence of spiritual substance, the freedom and vitality of health, life in all its full abundance. He brought these positive realities into men's experience through his knowledge of the Christ.

This leads to another point for consideration. Can that which is contrary to the will of God have any real existence? Since God is infinite Mind, the only cause and creator, the sole source of existence, only that which is in accordance with His will can be real. Christian Science holds that sin, disease, disaster, lack, sorrow, are unreal because they are incompatible with the nature of God, who is infinite Life, Truth, and Love. Indeed Christian Science goes further and declares that neither matter nor evil have any real existence since God is infinite Spirit and is infinitely good. That such a conclusion has Scriptural authority is clear. Our Master said, "It is the spirit that quickeneth; the flesh [that is, matter] profiteth nothing." When he healed a woman who is described as having been bowed together for eighteen years, he said that Satan, the devil, had bound her—and elsewhere he said of the devil, or evil, that "he was a murderer from the beginning, and abode not in the truth, because there is no truth in him." That which has no truth in it cannot be real. Christian Science therefore teaches that evil and all its manifestations are untrue, unreal; and the destruction by Christ Jesus of sin, disease, death—all manifestations of evil—confirms that conclusion.

How are we to explain the apparent reality of evil, of sin, disease, cruelty, and so on? What seems to be true but is not true is a misconception, a false belief. Misconceptions about anything are removed when they are corrected by acquaintance with the true facts. Jesus said, "Ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free." That from which truth sets free is not truth but error, not real but unreal. The Christian Scientist is not so much concerned to wonder where the false belief, the illusion, of sin and disease came from, as to prove their illusory nature by reforming character and healing sickness.

Christian Science Discovered

Did the Christ disappear beyond the reach of human recognition when Jesus rose above men's sight in his ascension? Christ is Truth and therefore is eternal, ever present, always available to be understood. "Throughout all generations," we read in the Christian Science textbook (p. 333), "both before and after the Christian era, the Christ, as the spiritual idea,—the reflection of God,—has come with some measure of power and grace to all prepared to receive Christ, Truth." Just as the great characters of the Old Testament caught glimpses of the truth about God and man, so also since the beginning of the Christian era men of deep spiritual insight have also perceived something of that same truth, and this perception has enabled them to bring help, comfort, and spiritual progress to the world. Such reformers as John Wyclif, John Huss, Martin Luther, Calvin, and Wesley, and undoubtedly many others of whom the world never heard, have perceived much of the true nature of God and seen it manifested in their lives.

Then in the year 1866 the Christ was revealed, as never before since the time of Jesus, to Mary Baker Eddy, who after half a lifetime of devotion to the things of Spirit, was indeed "prepared to receive Christ, Truth." In her autobiography, "Retrospection and Introspection," and elsewhere in her writings, she has recorded how, after sustaining a severe accident, she was lying in a seriously injured condition and turned to the Bible for help and consolation. She there read the story of the healing of the man sick of the palsy, with the result that she was able to rise from her bed and join her friends in a room near by, where they were waiting for her to pass away. Mrs. Eddy's turning to God in this extremity proved the present operation of that same divine law that was demonstrated in the healing work of Christ Jesus. God had been made manifest to her: the Christ had come to her consciousness and it restored her to health. She records a conversation at this time with a friend as follows: "A dear old lady asked me, 'How is it that you are restored to us?' Has Christ come again to earth? 'Christ never left,' I replied; 'Christ is Truth, and Truth is always here,—the Impersonal Saviour'" (Miscellaneous Writings, p. 180).

Mrs. Eddy was not content to leave the matter there, she realized that she must share her discovery with the world. Thanks to her unselfish work, the Science of Christ has been stated in clear and unmistakable language in the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," and in Mrs. Eddy's other writings. Anyone who cares to study those works in conjunction with the Bible may learn the truth about God and man, and so find that divine Love is manifest in human experience today in the healing of sickness and sin, just as it was in the first days of the Christian era.

Mrs. Eddy was alone responsible for the discovery of Christian Science and for its establishment. She organized The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts, founded its periodicals, guided its early footsteps, and safely protected its future growth and development by providing it with its Rules and By-Laws in the Church Manual.

There is little wonder that the vast number of people who have found health and happiness through the teachings of Christian Science, who have above all found God, a divine Principle on whom they can rely for guidance and protection both in the small and great things of life, are unreservedly grateful to Mrs. Eddy for her work. They recognize that only one who lived close to God, and who expressed throughout her life that purity and nobility of character which come only from unswerving obedience to divine Principle, could have made such blessings available to themselves and to all mankind. In the words of King Lemuel in the book of Proverbs, "Let her own works praise her in the gates."

Repentance and Healing

We read in the first chapter of Genesis that "God created man in his own image, in the image of God created he him." It follows, then, that as we discover the true nature of man, we discover also the true nature of God. To express the absolute unity of God and man, His image, Christian Science uses the term "reflection." It teaches us that man reflects, and therefore expresses, the intelligence, resourcefulness, and poise of Mind, the freedom of Spirit, the gentleness and kindness of Love, the strength and unwavering vigor of Life. Just as he abandons old false beliefs about God, so the Christian Scientist abandons wrong concepts of man, and strives to identify himself and others always with the spiritual reflection of his Maker.

The thought of man as expressing the perfection of God, which at first may seem new and strange, speedily grows natural. As the true idea of God and man becomes established in consciousness, healing takes place. This change in thought need not be complete before it can help us. As soon as it begins to come about it brings better health in the widest sense of that word. Every day it is being proved that men and women who have been suffering from illness or unhappiness, from the ravages of selfishness, from a sense of inability to cope with the tasks before them, are finding in Christian Science health of body, health of mind, health in their business, health in their relations with their fellow men. Mrs. Eddy beautifully expresses this in her poem, "Christ and Christmas" (p. 53):

"Forever present, bounteous, free,
Christ comes in gloom;
And aye, with grace towards you and me,
For health makes room."

In fact, the understanding of the truth about God and man brings the kingdom of heaven on earth.

It must not be thought that the salvation which Christian Science offers is salvation only from physical difficulties and discomforts. Indeed, some of the most fast-reaching and enduring work which Christian Science accomplishes lies in the healing of faults of character, in the destruction of sin. Jesus said, "Repent: for the kingdom of heaven is at hand." There is more in repentance than mere regret. The Greek word translated "repent" means "change your thought." Sorrow for sin is essential: sin will never be abandoned so long as it is not regretted, deeply and sincerely. Regret alone, however, will never destroy sin, for regret does not expose sin's unreality. Unreal it must be, since it is inconsistent with the infinite goodness of God.

Repentance must be more than regret—it must be complete change of thought. As soon as the sinner begins to understand the perfection of God, and his reflection man, he sees that his indulgence in sin means that he has been believing in something that is unreal. When he fully grasps the unreality of the sin that has beset him, he is freed from its bondage. But salvation from sinful beliefs is not won except by absolute honesty. To say sin is unreal and willfully to indulge it is dishonest, and can only prolong the belief in separation from God and the consequent suffering inseparable from sin until it is abandoned. Conversely, freedom from sin is only fully gained when the unreality of sin is understood.

That repentance is essential to the destruction of sin is generally agreed. We have not thought, perhaps, that we can be free from sin and disease if we are to be free from them. Yet repentance, or change of thought, in connection with physical difficulties, in fact in connection with all difficulties, is the only way to their solution.

Let us consider this more in detail. Suppose, for instance, someone suffering from a so-called hereditary disease turns to Christian Science in search of help. He begins to learn that God is the only creator of man, as Jesus recognized when he said to his disciples, "Call no man your father upon the earth: for one is your Father, which is in heaven." The sufferer realizes that, in truth, God is his only ancestor. Then his beliefs about his so-called inheritance begin to alter. He sees that since God is his Father his inheritance is one of good, not of evil; that as the son of God man can express only that which is sound and pure and godlike. Instead of thinking of his seeming material inheritance of sickness, he declares, with the Psalmist, "yea, I have a goodly heritage." The fear engendered by a false material belief of heredity is broken, and the sufferer finds himself free.

Let me emphasize one point here. The change of thought that is brought about by Christian Science and which results in healing, has nothing in common with hypnotism or auto-suggestion. It is not the result of mental control exercised by the practitioner over the patient, nor of self-mesmerism on the part of one who uses his understanding of Christian Science to help himself. The change of thought comes about just as the change from ignorance or mistaken belief to knowledge and understand-

Fear Eliminated

I said, "The fear is broken." One of the greatest blessings wrought by the repentance or change of thinking which Christ, Truth, brings to us, is freedom from fear. Fear is the great enslaver of mortals. It is proverbial that it is not the evils in human experience themselves that are our worst tormentors, but our fear of them. Christian Science shows us that fear lies at the root of all disease, and it gives us that understanding of divine Love which destroys fear.

If fear were eliminated from human consciousness, not only would the main factor in disease be destroyed, but the solution of all social, industrial, and international difficulties would speedily be reached. It is fear, in one or other of its many forms, which underlies industrial upheavals and is the source of international tension and of war. There is only one thing which will finally and fully solve such problems, and that is the understanding that God is Love. "Perfect love," John said, "casteth out fear." Nothing else can or will. As men come to know that God is Love, and that man is Love's reflection, or expression, their fears begin to abate. They begin to realize that infinite Love could not do less than provide all that is necessary for the life and happiness of its children. Then, as fear lessens, thoughts of envy, resentment, competition, and rivalry cease to predominate. Peace of mind and a sense of security take their place. Christian Scientists are proving this to be true in their individual experience, within the range of their own daily lives—in their homes, in business, in their several communities. As this individual experience gathers force—and it is doing so daily—it must have its effect in the wider sphere of national and international affairs, until the universal brotherhood of man becomes an accomplished fact. Meanwhile, to think lovingly and truly—that is, to think from the standpoint of divine Principle—about the world's problems is a contribution to their solution which we all can and should, and eventually must, make.

In these days of financial and industrial difficulties it is natural to ask whether Christian Science can help the business man or woman. It can and does, just as it helps in sickness. As it becomes understood that God is Mind and that man reflects that Mind, it is found that there are infinite resources on which we can draw for intelligence, wisdom, perspicacity, and business acumen. As God is acknowledged to be the only power it is found that He governs all things and governs them well.

God the Only Cause

Since God is infinite, omnipotent, He is the one primal cause of all things, and the understanding of this fact is very helpful in many ways. If God is the only cause, there can be no real effect except from God. Spirit, Principle, Mind, cannot have an effect from that which is not cause. When our thought about causation begins to turn from a material to a spiritual basis a great change comes into our experience. We begin to challenge the validity of any cause or reason for unpleasant or unhappy occurrences. Our attitude, for instance, to accidents changes. I will give you an example: again from the experience of an acquaintance of mine. A large roll of paper weighing some 150 pounds fell from a height across his foot and crushed it, inflicting a severe injury. He battled with the difficulty for two days without relief and then had recourse to a Christian Science practitioner. When the practitioner arrived my friend could not put his foot to the ground. They spent an hour together, and during that time spoke much of God as the only cause. It was clearly seen that if God, good, is the only cause, the accident which was certainly not a good thing, could not be a cause, and could not therefore have any effect; that it was a false belief claiming unlawfully to be causative. At the end of the hour my friend walked freely with the practitioner to his home, in a day or two he was back at work, and in a short time there was no trace whatever of the accident.

Now similar reasoning is valid in all cases of sickness or disease—whatever seems to be the cause has in reality no power in it. God being the only cause, there can be no effect but that which comes from God, and whatever seems to be existent but comes not from God is causeless and unreal and untrue, and can be proved to be so. It may be helpful to the Christian Scientist to know what is believed to be the cause of any difficulty with which he is confronted, but only in order that he may bring to bear upon its false claims his intelligent understanding of the truth stated in the Christian Science textbook (p. 262): "Divine Mind is the only cause or Principle of existence. Cause does not exist in matter, in mortal mind, or in physical forms."

Christian Science Treatment

Such, then, are some of the effects in human experience of the Christ, Truth, as it becomes understood through the study of Christian Science. Thus is the "divine manifestation of God" coming to the flesh in our day, and so changing thought from ignorance and false belief to the true understanding of God and man, that the dark shadows of sickness, sin, fear, doubt, and sorrow yield to the reality of man in the image and likeness of God.

Let me emphasize one point here. The change of thought that is brought about by Christian Science and which results in healing, has nothing in common with hypnotism or auto-suggestion. It is not the result of mental control exercised by the practitioner over the patient, nor of self-mesmerism on the part of one who uses his understanding of Christian Science to help himself. The change of thought comes about just as the change from ignorance or mistaken belief to knowledge and understanding of the true facts comes about in connection with any other subject. As a knowledge of the science of numbers corrects mistakes in computation, and eliminates their effects, so the Science of Christ corrects mistaken conceptions about God and man, and eliminates their effects from our experience. When a Christian Scientist undertakes to give a treatment to himself, or to anyone else, he endeavors to realize that there is only one God, one Mind, one Life, Truth, Love, and that man reflects that one God. He declares, thankfully, that man is governed by no laws save the laws of divine Principle, and that those laws are operative everywhere, and are always available to destroy the beliefs of any existence separate from God. He realizes the power and presence of divine Love in all its infinite perfection, and Love's tender care for every one of its ideas. Furthermore, he denies the reality of all that is unlike God.

The best treatment is that which reflects most faithfully the one God—that has in it most of that "mind . . . which was also in Christ Jesus." Just as the Master's knowledge of the Christ was potent to free those sufferers who came to him for help, so does that same Christ, Truth, enable us to help our fellow-man, in the degree we understand it and are faithful to it. This is in accordance with our Master's own words, "He that believeth on me"—that is, he that believes on the Christ that enabled Jesus to heal the sick—"He that believeth on me, the works that I do shall he do also." It is the Christ, Truth, that heals in Christian Science treatment.

True Prayer

There is a subject which Christian Scientists regard as deeply important—and that subject is Prayer.

The first chapter of the Christian Science textbook is entitled "Prayer," and it contains a clear and inspiring explanation of what true prayer is. A study of this chapter shows how inevitably the concept of prayer changes as one's concept of God changes. So long as we think of God as capable of human feelings and passions, as one who sends or withholds punishment according to His pleasure, it is natural that we should regard prayer as a means of persuading the Almighty to interfere on our behalf when we are in trouble, or to change His intentions towards us. A very different attitude to prayer comes to us as we lose that false concept of God and begin to understand Him aright as infinite Principle, divine omnipresent Love, the one Mind, Truth, who "saw every thing that he had made, and behold, it was very good." Does God need to be changed, who is by His very nature infinite good, and can know no evil, sickness, or sorrow? Does man, His image and likeness, the reflection of His infinite perfection, require alteration or improvement? The answer must be, "No." What does need to be changed is the false material concept about God and man. This change is the object of prayer. Prayer might, in fact, be described as the means whereby repentance is made permanent—it is the method whereby our altered ideas about God become natural and continuous, and are applied to the problems which confront us. Mrs. Eddy writes in the Christian Science textbook, in the first chapter on Prayer, to which I referred (p. 2), "Prayer cannot change the Science of being, but it tends to bring us into harmony with it."

We are not brought into harmony with the Science of being merely by asking that this may be done, but rather by an intelligent recognition and affirmation of the true facts about God's creation. In reality, man can experience nothing which is not in accordance with the goodness of God. Therefore, when a Christian Scientist seems to be faced with conditions such as unhappiness, depression, loss, sickness, or the like, he knows that he is dealing, not with stubborn realities, but with the false suggestions of that carnal mind which Paul defines as "enmity against God." He must discard such false suggestions by the positive mental declaration of the truth of being, of the perfection of God and man, God's spiritual idea. Such an affirmative attitude of mind makes his prayers effective and triumphant.

Indeed, Christian Science shows that it is possible to gain so clear a sense of the perfection of God's creation, and of man's unity with God, that thought naturally and spontaneously rejects as unreal everything that is unlike God. That is true prayer, and unless we may not immediately reach or sustain such an attitude of thought, it is an ideal which is attainable, and to attain to it fully would be unceasing prayer. We can at least begin to exercise such prayer now. Good results are bound to follow. Mrs. Eddy writes (Science and Health, p. 261), "Hold thought steadfastly to the end, during the good, and the true, and you will bring these into your experience proportionally to their occupancy of your thoughts."

Two examples of the prayer of affirmation and its results occur to me—one from the Old Testament, one from the New. Both are familiar, but their example and inspiration are forever fresh. The first is the story of the Shunammite woman, found in the second book of Kings. When her little son lay dead, and the Shunammite hastened to Elisha for help, we do not read that the mother uttered any plea to God to restore her child, but she answered all questions as to her trouble with that valiant declaration of the truth, "It is well." We know the sequel, for her child was given back to her alive. The second example is that of Jesus at the tomb of Lazarus. Jesus' prayer was, "Father, I thank thee that thou hast heard me. And I know that thou hearest me always," and with supreme confidence in the omnipotence of Life he called Lazarus forth from the tomb where he had lain four days. And Lazarus came forth.

There are three qualities that play an essential part in the prayer of spiritual understanding as taught in Christian Science. They are faith, gratitude, and unselfishness. It is not blind faith that we need, but a reasoned and intelligent conviction of the power of scientific right thinking to destroy the false beliefs of material existence. True gratitude recognizes thankfully the infinite goodness of God even before prayer is answered; that was the gratitude Jesus expressed at the tomb of Lazarus. Unselfishness is a part of all true prayer, a selflessness such as our Master expressed in that wonderful prayer of tenderness and love for his disciples, recorded in the seventeenth chapter of John's Gospel. Jesus said, "For their sakes I sanctify myself, that they also might be sanctified through the truth." The object of prayer is not merely to find relief from some particular difficulty or suffering, but to demonstrate the universal power of divine Love to meet human needs. In her work "No and Yes" (p. 39), Mrs. Eddy writes, "True prayer is not asking God for love; it is learning to love, and to include all mankind in one affection." As faith, gratitude, and unselfishness come to characterize our prayers, they will grow nearer to those of Christ Jesus, whose prayers are described in Science and Health (p. 12) as "deep and conscientious protests of Truth,—of man's likeness to God, and of man's unity with Truth and Love."

We read in the book of Revelation, "Behold, I stand at the door, and knock; if any man hear my voice, and open the door, I will come in to him, and will sup with him, and he with me." The Christ, Truth, is knocking today at the portal of human hearts and minds in the teachings of Christian Science. Shall we not open the door of our consciousness and welcome in the Christ, the "divine manifestation of God, which comes to the flesh to destroy incarnate error," as Mrs. Eddy has defined it (Science and Health, p. 583)? It was this Christ, Truth, which gave Jesus power to bring Christianity to the world, with all its blessings of health, freedom, happiness, and peace. Throughout the years since the days of the Master, glimpses of Truth have been caught by men and women of spiritual perception. Then, in due time, owing to her life of preparation and to her deeply spiritual character, Mary Baker Eddy discovered this same Truth in its full majesty in the pages of the Holy Bible. She embodied her discovery and its application to human needs in the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," and in her other writings. A study of the Bible in the light of Mrs. Eddy's works brings Christ to the human understanding; it teaches us that God is Spirit, Mind, Life, Truth and Love; it shows us man reflecting the perfection of his creator. Thus our concept of ourselves and of our fellow man is spiritualized and purified through repentance, or change of thought, and through prayer. In this way, and by these means, Christian Science offers to all mankind health of mind and health of body, peace, freedom, strength, happiness—salvation. In the words of our Leader, Mary Baker Eddy, in her "Miscellaneous Writings" (p. 154): "Abide in His [God's] word, and it shall abide in you; and the healing Christ will again be made manifest in the flesh—understood and glorified."

Mrs. Wood described the four departments of the School Committee, and the ten-year program with the different projects, to the end that by 1944 Newton will have an educational plant that will cover all needs.

Mr. Harold F. Young spoke briefly on Relief Work, and then gave a very interesting and instructive talk on the departments at City Hall.

Mrs. Dana M. Dutch, chairman of the Social committee, assisted by Mrs. Frederick C. Steglich, Mrs. N. L. Grant, Mrs. Silvanus Smith, Mrs. Edward T. Edmunds, Mrs. C. H. Lipincott, Mrs. Arthur H. Brooks, Mrs. Frank Dennison, Mrs. Thomas E. Lees, Mrs. Walter E. Brown, Miss Eugenie F. Bradshaw, Mrs. Robert H. Flansburgh, Mrs. Henry Arnold and Mrs. Louis B. Martin, served a delicious luncheon at 12:30 o'clock, and before leaving the tables Mrs. J. Earle Parker asked for a hearty applause for the Luncheon committee.

At the head table were Mrs. J. Earle Parker, Mrs. Lorenz Mather, Mrs. Harold Russell Kellar, Mrs. William Edgar Birdsell, Mrs. Louis W. Arnold, Mrs. Theron B. Walker, Mrs. Chester W. Tudbury, Mrs. Edgar P. Hay, Mrs. Gorham W. Harris, Mrs. Thomas L. Aiken, Mrs. Ernest F. Drew, Mrs. Fred G. Sandford, Mrs. Maynard Hutchinson, Mrs. Anton A. Wild, Miss Emma Coolidge, Mrs. George R. Loud, Miss Allen, and Miss Wheeler, of the Newton Hospital, and Miss Nelson, of the District Nursing Association.

Reports by Federation officers, and a notice of the Twelfth District meeting at Natick on November 12th, by Mrs. Benjamin D. Miller, Twelfth District director, were given after luncheon and Mrs. W. O. B. Little, State chairman of International Relations, spoke briefly regarding the Emergency Peace Campaign, and of Mrs. Kimball's desire for contributions to the fund from all clubwomen in Massachusetts, suggesting that each club give up one tea or do something of a sacrificial nature in order to contribute.

Dr. Harold D. Choate, Director of Public Health in Newton, opened the Public Health Program at 2 o'clock. The work done in the City of Newton to promote better health was divided into four phases by Dr. Choate, "administration," "control of preventable diseases," "promotion of health of the individual," and "sanitation." In analyzing these phases under "promotion of health of the individual" dental service was stressed and the lack of assistants and of space to do additional work along educational lines; 50 per cent of the school children being in need of dental attention, due to lack of knowledge of proper care of the teeth.

Miss Elizabeth F. Wheeler, of the Out-Patient Department of the Newton Hospital, explained the difference between the organization of this Department and of the rest of the Hospital, mentioning the fourteen clinics, and over 16,000 patients cared for in 1935.

Miss Hilga S. Nelson, Executive Director of the Newton District Nursing Association, gave a very interesting outline of how this work was started in 1859 by Sir William Rathburn, in England, the first association of this kind in the United States being under the auspices of the Episcopal Church in New York in 1877.

The work in Newton was started in 1899 to supplement the services of the Newton Hospital, and has grown until it was necessary to move to 297 Walnut street, Newtonville, in 1932, and now requires four Ford's traveling day and night.

Mrs. Ernest J. Weaver, the president, will have charge of the meeting, and refreshments will be served under the supervision of Mrs. Don J. Edwards. (Editor's Note—On account of lack of space several items have been held over until next week.)

His subject will be "Out with the Old Guard and on with the New." His address is being awaited with great anticipation by all Members of the Legislature from the two Newton districts as well as county officers have been invited.

LUCY JACKSON CHAPTER, D. A. R. NEWTON

On Monday, October 12, the Lucy Jackson Chapter, D. A. R., held its first regular meeting at the Chapter house at 2:30 p. m. The regent, Mr. J. Walter Allen, presided. In the absence of the chaplain, Mrs. Edward K. Titus conducted the opening exercises. Two poems on Columbus, were followed by the Lord's prayer, the pledge to the flag and the American's creed. Mrs. J. Holcombe Brown, the recording secretary, and Mrs. Ernest F. Dow, the new secretary, read reports.

The regent read a comprehensive report of the work of the past year and expressed a desire for even greater achievements in the coming year. Miss Louise Sherman gave a most interesting account of the opening session of the conference at Swampscott. Mrs. J. Walter Allen, the Regent, spoke of the remaining highlights of the conference. Special mention was made of the opening of the new General Headquarters at 9A Ashburton place.

Much progress has been made in copying and recording inscriptions on the stones in the old burying grounds of Newton and much valuable historical and genealogical data has been obtained and verified.

During the summer a box luncheon was held at the home of Miss Louise Sherman in Marshfield and Mrs. Frank Sherman in Duxbury. At both places additions were made to the scholarship fund. A garden party was held at the home of Mr. John P. Holmes in Walpole. A card party at the home of Miss Nella Pearson, West Newton, added to the treasury, the goodly sum of fifty-one dollars. Much friendly rivalry has developed among the owners of the "patch aprons" and when the patches are removed at the next meeting, an agreeable surprise is anticipated.

On October 26, there will be a demonstration luncheon at the Chapter house at 12:30 p. m. with cards in the afternoon. Plans are well

PROF. CLARENCE G. HAMILTON said: "Get the very best piano your means can afford. Choose one of a reliable make with a firm responsive action. Hire a competent Tuner to look after it at intervals of not less than three months, whether it seems to need it or not; for the rapid deterioration which often occurs in new pianos is most frequently caused by failure to keep them properly cared for as to tuning and adjustment; while a still more fatal consequence of this neglect rests in the danger to the teacher's own nice perception of musical values and pitch, which an ill-adjusted piano is liable to impart." which he said had been an extravagant burden on the people of this county for generations. Thomas Mackey of Somerville, candidate for County Treasurer, argued that Charles E. Hatfield is too old to be reelected to this office. Mackey said that Hatfield, now 74, would be 80 by the time his term of office would have concluded. Francis E. Kelly, candidate for Lieutenant Governor, indulged in sarcastic remarks against Leverett Saltonstall, his opponent, and claimed that the latter had never voted in favor of a law to improve the conditions of laboring men and women. Governor Curley produced a volume of a book which he said was written by Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., and in which, according to Curley, Lodge had written disparagingly of the races which immigrated to this country in large numbers during the 19th century. Curley denounced Sinclair Weeks for the latter's alleged actions in demanding and receiving reductions in assessed valuation on real estate property he owned in South Boston from $340,000 to $125,000, and then attempting to sell this property to the Federal government for a housing project for the sum of $500,000. Curley also bitterly attacked William B. Baker of West Newton, who, he stated, had consistently opposed all of the governor's projects, and who has been one of Curley's outstanding opponents in the present Legislature. Curley characterized Baker as a very ignorant man.

Third Hearing on N'ville Sewer

Lanno to do what the Board of Health had suggested—have a new cesspool built. He said the matter of a lien was news to him. Alderman Atkins asked Doherty what his reasons are for objecting to the sewer. Doherty replied that his reasons are on file at the City Clerk's office. He said that when Lanno built his home on Broadway terrace he knew there was no sewer there, that he did not have the cesspool cleaned out for over 9 years, and that it is sealed up. Doherty said another cesspool can be built for one-third the cost of the sewer, that the sewer would cost him $167 and would be of no benefit to his two vacant lots.

Alderman Cronin asked City Solicitor Bartlett if he knew of any agreement between Lanno and Doherty and received a negative answer. Bartlett produced an agreement he had drawn up which specified that Lanno shall pay Doherty's portion of the cost of the sewer, but if Doherty later built on his two lots, or sold them to some other person, Lanno should be repaid for his contributions on Doherty's share of the sewer assessments. Doherty said that even if the petition is granted he doubts if Lanno would go through on the building of the sewer. He asserted that he believes Lanno's object is to delay until some future Board of Aldermen will take more favorable action. He stated that Lanno's contention that the unsanitary condition at his home had caused one of Lanno's children to become sick, was not so. Alderman Cronin suggested that Lanno, Doherty and City Solicitor Bartlett get together and try to come to terms on the basis of the agreement drawn up by Bartlett.

THE VOTERS WILL DECIDE

The campaign is drawing to a close. It has been a campaign full of interest, more interesting and more significant historically than any other election of modern times. We have supported Governor Landon and trust that the voters of this nation will elect him their next President. Not alone because he is a Republican candidate but because he is a man to be trusted. His promises will be kept. He knows that he is the servant of the people, not its master. In the name of common sense there can be no choice other than Alfred M. Landon. The present administration has failed to keep its promises, it has been guilty of gross extravagance and political interference and above all it threatens the very Constitution of these United States. Never before have prominent members of a party forsaken their chosen leader of four short years before as in the present campaign. Therein lie the fundamental reasons for the undercurrent of protest which we believe will be expressed on the ballots next Tuesday. And as a background for the Republican administration it is essential that we elect Henry Cabot Lodge as Senator and Robert Luce as Congressman from the 9th district. The discredited administration of Governor Curley is sufficient reason for the election of Lodge as Senator as well as the many qualifications the latter has for the position. Former Congressman Luce will be one of the outstanding Republican leaders in the next Congress. His ability and experience are needed in Washington.

The state campaign has been more or less overshadowed by the national campaign although enough evidence has been presented to prove the need for sweeping changes. John Haigis promises to clean up the intolerable conditions while Charles Hurley, Democratic candidate, refuses to commit himself to any great extent as to the future of the State in relation to the administrative acts of the past two years. Leverett Saltonstall is assured of winning the office of Lieutenant Governor and there can be no higher type of public official than the former Speaker of the House. To give these state officials the proper support they must have to perform the task ahead of them they should have the support of the holders of minor offices. Vote Republican, from the top to the bottom of the ticket, on Election Day.

YEARS OF LEADERSHIP

For the past ten years the Newton Chapter of the American Red Cross has been headed by Donald Angier as Chapter Chairman. At the annual meeting of the Chapter this week Mr. Angier resigned from this office but he will continue his interest in the work as a director and member of the executive committee. During the past decade the Newton Chapter has enlarged its activities in various ways to meet the need of services which it could equip itself to render. Mr. Angier has played an inspiring part in the expansion of the local Red Cross services. He has given unstintingly of his time and services that this worthy work might be performed in the most efficient manner possible. Mrs. George M. Angier, like her son, has also a record of noteworthy accomplishment in the work of the Red Cross. Her activities cover more than a twenty year period beginning with war relief work and culminating in her position as chairman of the annual roll-call for the past eight years. Although resigning from her duties, Mrs. Angier will continue to have a keen interest in the work which has been so close to her heart. Newton has much to be thankful for in having this mother and son devoting their interest to this humane work. To them the deep appreciation of all our citizens is due.

MORE THAN MONEY INVOLVED

Only one question is before the voters of Newton next Tuesday as a referendum. That is on the matter of license. It is divided into three questions, one on the sale of all liquors to be drunk on the premises, one on the sale of wines and beers to be drunk on the premises and one on the sale of liquor by package stores only. Advocates of license and opponents of license have put before the people both sides of the question which for so many years has been a social problem of great magnitude. We have always believed in temperance and we have always opposed the sale of liquor. We shall continue to do so although we deny no one the right of opinion or practice in regard to its use. We would point out, however, that there is far more to the question than the benefits that its sale may bring in revenue to the city or to individuals. Moral issues have and always will take precedence over economic issues. Vote "No" on all license questions.

During this month there has been an interesting exhibition of water colors at the Federal Art Gallery at 50 Beacon st., Boston, which has been open to the public. Over one hundred pictures are shown, the work of artists employed in Massachusetts by the Federal Art Project under the WPA. Among them are two marine and figure studies by Lester B. Bridgman of Franklin, who taught drawing, painting, water color and oil, graphic art and the handicrafts at the Hobby School in Newton Lower Falls two years ago. Two others, "Overpass" and "New England Church," are by Harold G. Nickelsen of 37 Walden st., Newtonville, who was born in South Germany and received his art education abroad.

Big game hunting is not a common sport for Newton people, but occasional reports of a Newtonian having success in this endeavor always give some what of a thrill. Carl T. Kellogg of Elmwood st., Newton, recently returned from a hunting trip to Brunswick, Me., with Capt. Niel Sullivan of Plum Ridge as his guide the Newton hunter returned with a 400-pound black bear which was killed with one 30-30 shot. Mr. Kellogg reports that game of various kinds was plentiful and a most enjoyable trip was experienced.

John Costa of Adams st., Newton, a student at the Stockbridge School of Agriculture, took part in a recent state-wide 4-H poultry judging contest and won a place on the team which will represent Massachusetts at New York City on Nov. 12 in a similar national contest. The annual state affair was held last Saturday at Massachusetts State College. In the afternoon the boys were guests at the State-Worcester Polytech football game.

The Pomroy Home of Newton, the local organization which has aided orphan girls for many years, has use for a sewing machine and a piano. The Home would appreciate such a donation from some Newton person who is about to discard either article.

Roy S. Edwards of the Basley Lumber Co. is being well looked after at his office after a four months' illness resulting from a nervous breakdown. Mr. Edwards has the wishes of his many friends in continued improvement of his health.

Trufant Foster, son of Mr. and Mrs. William T. Foster of Sargent st., Newton, has been chosen to sing with the choir of the University of Chicago, where he is a student. The choir, made up of 125 selected voices, sings during Sunday services in the University Chapel and on other special occasions.

Several Newton residents are active in the work of the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions. At its biennial session meeting in Boston this week Lucius E. Thayer of Eastbrook rd., West Newton, was appointed a member of the committee on the Near East, the committee on Home Department, and the committee on Social and International Relations. Mrs. Everett E. Kent of Waterston rd., Newton, was also appointed a member of the committee on the Near East, committee on Mission Buildings, the committee on Personnel Salaries, and the committee on Reinforcement. Dr. Dwight J. Bradley of Institution ave., Newton Centre, was appointed chairman of the committee on Social and International Relations, and a member of the committee on China and on the committee on Candidates. These committees have the responsibility and authority of genuine administrative bodies.

Prominent among the women of the Newtons who will join with hundreds of volunteers from Boston and forty-one neighboring cities and towns in directing the Community Crusade for Human Needs from Nov. 8 to 29 are Mrs. Ripley L. Dana of the Advisory Committee, Miss Cornelia Tuttle of the Speakers' Bureau, both of Newton Centre, Mrs. F. Britton Kenney of West Newton and Mrs. Roger Preston of Waban, both members of the Boston Districts committee. The Crusade is the forerunner of Greater Boston's 1937 Community Fund Campaign to open January. Open houses, work projects, exhibits, and other special features will be announced to attract the visiting public. The Crusade is not a money raising campaign but has the purpose of spreading complete information on the great community plan wherein the individual works for the community and the community mobilizes its resources to aid the individual.

Mrs. Durham Jones and Mrs. Fred T. Field of Newton are members of the Saturday Morning Concerts for Juniors to be held again this year in Sanders Theatre, Harvard University. Dates for the concerts are Nov. 14, Jan. 16 and Mar. 6 at 10:30 in the morning.

At the dinner meeting of the Association of Bank Women held last Friday at the College Club, Boston, members were present from Massachusetts, Rhode Island and New York. The Newton members attending were Miss Lillian McDade of Newton Centre and Miss Ethel T. Gammons of West Newton, representing the Newton Trust Co., and Mrs. Dorothy King Blair of the West Newton Savings Bank.

Letters To The Editor

A CALL FOR CO-OPERATION

To the Editor:
A plague of broken glass has broken out everywhere—a regular smashing business.

It is not only exceedingly unsightly, but its chief menace is the constant danger to the feet of cats and dogs. Cuts and lacerations of this kind to animals, if uncared for may easily result in the loss of a foot from infections or even loss of life and great suffering.

I well remember a stray dog with a putrid piece of flesh that had to be cut out, and as it could not be replaced, he slept his life away under ether.

I should as soon think of seeing old tin cans or other pieces of hard ware scattered all around on the sidewalks, on the grass, and around trees and stone walls, as quantities of splintered glass; and they would be far less dangerous.

Won't householders and all humane persons be responsible for picking up and sweeping up glass that they observe on or in front of their own homes, or anywhere and thus help the police who are trying to do away with this bad condition. Some concerted activity is necessary.

Big Improvements At Buick Plant

Simultaneous with the disclosure that production is under way in volume on the 1937 line, Harlow H. Curtice, president and general manager of the Buick Motor Company, has announced that an additional appropriation of $14,500,000 is being spent to carry out the production and factory improvements inaugurated two years ago with a $15,000,000 expenditure.

This brings the total expended in improvements by this General Motors division to approximately $30,000,000 over a two-year period.

The program, launched when Buick started plans for its highly successful 1936 line of cars, covers every phase of manufacturing activity—plant and equipment, new tooling and rearrangement of production facilities—and was designated not only to increase plant capacity but also to inject the most modern and efficient methods into engineering and production.

Except for approximately $1,500,000 devoted to the construction of new factory buildings disclosed in a statement by Mr. Curtice a few weeks ago the new appropriation is going into machinery, tools, and a complete rearrangement of departments to step up production.

Buick has enjoyed an unusually successful year, its 1936 cars were highly popular and found a ready market. A considerable number of unfilled orders had to be cancelled when production was stopped for the change-over to the 1937 models.

"Buick's $14,500,000 factory expansion for 1937 follows upon an expenditure of more than $15,000,000 completed a year ago," Mr. Curtice said. "At that time widespread changes were effected in the various production divisions of the company, increasing capacity and bringing up to date the machinery and methods employed at Buick."

62 YEARS AGO

Newton Republican, October 31, 1874
Election day next Tuesday. Polls open from 1:30 to 4:50 p. m. Let every man vote so as to meet his own approval six months hence.

The Newton Horticultural Society has nearly completed arrangements for the annual winter meetings for discussions. Eight will be held, commencing in Ward 1. At one of them the question of public parks in Newton will be the topic. The ladies will be welcomed at most of these meetings.

J. Willard Rice Hose Company of Auburndale have placed a neat, new sign over the door of the hose house. Alderman Rice, from whom they derive their name, has made them a handsome money present. Mr. Rice is justly popular among the "boys".

What next? A lantern made out of a common tumbler, only 50c. Just the thing for household use. Splendid for skating clubs. At Adams'; Hyde's Block, Newton. (Adv.)

Nonantum Steam Fire Engine 1 was out of the fire house for the fire at North Village on Tuesday morning before the alarm was through striking. You will always find the Nonantum boys on time.

Sixteen lodgers and one arrest at Police Station 1, Newton Corner, for the week ending Monday morning.

From all directions come complaints of the dry weather. Wells are refusing their usual supply in many places. Dig a little deeper, gentlemen, and you will find an abundance of water. This has been the experience of some of our neighbors.

George Tapham's horse was started Thursday at Newton Centre by the noise of a passing train, and went his own way in spite of all efforts to the contrary. The driver was landed in a cesspool and the carriage overturned before the runaway horse was stopped.

Miss Smith has moved back to her store at West Newton, it having been thoroughly renovated since the fire. She is clearing out the damaged goods and also adding a choice collection of small wares as fast as her means will allow. We sincerely hope she may receive the patronage of our citizens.

50 YEARS AGO

Newton Graphic, October 30, 1886
The storm this week was especially welcome in Newton as the dust was becoming unbearable since the street watering carts have been taken off.

Last Friday Horace Crocker of Newton made an attempt at Springfield to beat the hour record on the bicycle. He rode 10 miles in 59 minutes, 54 seconds. Only 28 seconds behind the world's record. He will make another attempt before leaving Springfield.

A gift of $600 from a Newton gentleman and his wife has been received this week by the treasurer of the Newton Cottage Hospital.

Citizens of Newton are reminded at this time, when they may be looking over their clothing in preparation for cold weather, that the boys at Pine Farm School, Waban, would be grateful for any clothing that they may not want to use. Any article of clothing that may be worn by boys from 10 to 14 years of age may be sent to the home.

Several cases of typhoid fever have been removed to the hospital from Newton Centre within the past few days. One patient was taken from a family in Cousens' Block; another from the brick block; several cases from Thompsonville have been successfully treated. On Saturday a young man named Mullen died, having been at the hospital about 10 days.

Improvement seems to be the order of the day at the Newton Mills, Newton Upper Falls. Phipps & Train are now putting up a building where they can make their own gas.

Many friends of J. E. Trowbridge at Upper Falls wishing to emphasize their feelings of sympathy toward him on account of the loss sustained in the fire at his building, on Friday night, have quite liberally put their names to a subscription paper for his benefit. The members of Hose 7 head the list with a subscription of $25.

A crazy tramp has been making himself at home at Newton Highlands the present week, laying hands on things that were of value to the owners. Officer Moulton is busy on his trail and we trust may be successful in finding him.

We hear many complaints that no barge is in attendance on the arrival of the late train at Newton Highlands to carry people to Upper Falls. Would it not pay the proprietor of the barge line to run the barge at least two nights each week; say on Tuesdays and Thursdays?

There was a long debate before the School Board on Wednesday evening over the question of military drill at the High School. The result was that a resolution was passed making participation in the drill optional with members of the first and fourth classes, and that members of the second and third classes might be excused for conscientious reasons, or for physical disability.

Powers' Paragraphs

In last week's GRAPHIC we stated that we don't enthuse over either of the two major candidates for President. We told why we are not so enthusiastic over President Roosevelt as we were four years ago, or two years ago. Neither do we thrill over Governor Landon. We try not to be unreasonably hard to suit, and if we were shrewd, discreet or "diplomatic" like some of our acquaintances who have "succeeded" in life, from a material standpoint, we would either remain mum, boost the candidate we believe is going to win, or say only nice things about both Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Landon. But, being an impractical person, we shall be frank, and say what we think. We realize that the large majority of GRAPHIC readers believe in the Republican party and favor the election of Mr. Landon. We shall not, however, be hypocritical enough to pretend to wax fervent over the Republican nominee.

Circumstances alter cases; they also influence one's views of life; one's attitude on political questions. Those who have inherited wealth or who have prospered under certain conditions of society or under certain governmental or political policies, naturally are conservative and desire to see such conditions and policies continue. Conversely, those who have not prospered and who may blame existent or past conditions for their lack of prosperity, their failure to be able to enjoy the advantages of wealth, are apt to be more or less radical; to favor changes in political, economic, and social conditions.

Because of the tremendous social and economic debacle which started about 1929 in this country, President Roosevelt in 1933, shortly after he assumed office, urged drastic measures for the relief of the millions of people in want in this country, and he was given extraordinary powers by Congress, with the approval of the great majority of the people of the United States. The conduct of government under the emergency authority vested in the President and the methods of administering relief during the past three years, are two of the principal issues of the present campaign. The Republican propagandists argue that the "New Deal" activities of President Roosevelt and his advisors are contrary to the principles upon which this country was founded, and on which it prospered to a marvelous degree. They assert that unless Mr. Roosevelt is defeated, he will proceed further with his policies of relief, with his alleged dictatorial powers and that this country will cease to be a real democracy.

The writer is not a contemporary, nor a seagull, but he was born sufficiently long ago to have lived in the horse and buggy days. We have seen great changes. We have witnessed the transition from the days of manual labor to the machine age. We have experienced the evolution from the simple mode of living in the 19th century to the high-pressure civilization of the present day. We have seen this country become utterly different in its racial aspects, its social ethics, its economic fabric, its methods of production and distribution of the necessities of life. We realize that today our people possess many more comforts than they did a generation or two ago. We also realize that our people today are vastly more interdependent than they were a generation or two ago; that the opportunities for rugged individuals have largely disappeared.

When the writer was a boy, any competent, industrious youth who was willing to work could find employment. Business was largely conducted by individuals or partners. Industries and public utilities were for the most part locally owned and managed. Wages were much lower than in later years, people possessed fewer advantages, the mode of living was harder, those in distress received less consideration and relief. But, the great majority of people had opportunities to be self-supporting, to practice the American doctrine of independence. During the intervening years we have observed the gradual elimination of the small business man in a large percentage of the various lines of commerce and industry. We have seen the rapid growth of chain systems of food stores, and then of other types of stores. We have witnessed the introduction of machines which displaced millions of workers. We have noticed public utility companies throughout the nation, and gradually absorbed until financial interests in New York and Chicago control a large percentage of them. Modern conditions have rendered "rugged individualism" largely obsolete, have taken means of livelihood from millions of middle-aged and elderly persons, have caused the youth of our country in large degree to be faced with compulsory idleness, with lack of opportunities. And yet Governor Landon and the Republican leaders condemn planned economies without offering practical substitutes to solve the social and economic problems which confront us today.

Governor Landon in 1933 was eulogistic of President Roosevelt in the latter's plans for relieving the emergency which then existed. He favored many of the policies which he now condemns. This is not contradictory. A man has right to change his mind. Certainly, some of the impracticable innovations which have been resorted to under President Roosevelt's regime have alienated many of the President's former admirers. And so has the inefficient administration of the practical relief measures. But, Governor Landon's election came about largely through the activities of powerful financial groups in this country. The same groups which were dominant during the Republican regimes of Presidents Harding, Coolidge and Hoover. The men who devoted too much attention and influence toward increasing wealth and production, and too little attention toward the proper distribution of wealth. Men who placed too much stress on materialism and not enough on idealism. Men who didn't possess the proper kind of vision. For the most part they are in favor of Governor Landon.

We realize that also favoring Mr. Landon's candidacy are millions of plain, honest Americans who believe in Democracy, in the old American ideal of pride of independence, people who view with alarm and disgust the waste and incompetency which has become prevalent in public activities, both Federal, State and municipal. Persons who have been affected adversely.

Hot News—Then and Now

"Hearing the returns come in" will be the sole occupation of many people late next Tuesday night and early Wednesday morning. Not much like the old days, though. Way back, and not so far as to stretch one's memory to the breaking point, gatherings were planned at neighboring clubhouses. Folks listened to the occasional bulletins, meanwhile playing whist or otherwise enjoying themselves. Telephone lines and telegraph wires were set up to carry news of how things were going. Some big daily newspaper was quoted as conceding the election or defeat of So-and-so. Groans or cheers would follow.

Not infrequently a man of means would have his own private set-up and invite friends to join him at the receiver. This was really tops in such arrangements as it invariably included refreshments. Theatres, too, would entice patrons by advertising the reading of returns from the stage between the acts. A suburban resident, if all set-up about the country's future, would stay "in town" to watch the bulletin boards in Newspaper Row where stereopticon slides flashed figures.

Now—well, everybody or nearly so, has a radio and the news is shot into us from a loud-speaker in the living room or even as we sit in an automobile. We get it in groups, pairs or by our lonesome. Nevertheless the old way wasn't so bad. There was more sociability and personal exertion and effort were necessary. Isn't science tending to make us soft and selfish?

Lingering Luxury

The tenacity with which some people cling to a cottage by the sea or a house in the country, which they have enjoyed many seasons, is proof that no matter how frail its construction or thin its walls there is no place like a Summer home. Point of view, of course, and difficult for others to grasp. Puzzled myself at one man's postponement of the pangs of returning to the city, I asked, "When do you plan to come up to Newton?" His reply was, "No special time. We wait until the water-pipes freeze."

Up-to-date Spelling

It may not be true that spelling as an art is lost but you will agree that it has strayed. All about me I see signs—neon and others—of a decided change. Words as I was taught to spell them have become contracted, abbreviated and placed too much in the line. It has put me much to tests. Most of the newer and drastic forms have been applied to names of merchandises from foodstuffs to footwear, thus taking in both ends. I find that bright is brite, light is lite, happy is hape, welcome is welkum, what is wot, service is servis, knocks is nox—and so on. The examples are far too numerous. I regret to say.

Now what is the idea? Is it that spelling is no longer important, or is it to be gradually modernized? If so, why is the ancient form still taught in schools? Why is it not ignored? Or, to accept the metamorphosis, I ask, "Mus skolas xpend tyme and e-rgence on a mata of silte im-por-tnes? Shud we not giv it all up and spel ne of way we chuz?"

Trolley Trials

Not all trolley cars of the Elevated enjoy a two-men crew like our Newton-Brighton line. Traveling from Newton Corner to sections of Cambridge and Brookline, I am obliged to patronize one-man cars and it upsets me. I have to keep my wits about me and cannot relax. The one-man car perplexes me because I never know whether to pay my fare when I get on or when I get off, or whether to ask for a transfer or not and, if given one, whether to surrender it or preserve it for the next change or what. Makes me feel I'd like to be a candidate for public office with the slogan, "a motorman and conductor for every car."

Yes or No?

Cheer up, the deluge of pre-election mail might have been a great deal heavier if there had been several State-wide questions on the ballot as is usually the case. The liquor license question in the form presented this year for the first time is sufficient to tax the comprehension of voters. It's even important enough to stand alone.

Many Want To Use School Buildings

The Newton School Committee meeting on Monday night was occupied to a large extent by consideration of many applications for the use of school buildings by organizations, groups and individuals. The request of the Stertz-Ruby Dance Studio for permission to use the Ward School at Newton Centre was refused. The dance teachers made the modest request to use the gymnasium of the school on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons from 1 to 5 for class instruction. The application for use of the high school hall on November 20 for a play to aid the Sons and Daughters Band of Newton Post, American Legion, was laid on the table for further investigation. Chairman Kirtley Mather of the committee took a rap at the Highland Glee Club for contributing only $25 to the reserve scholarship fund of the high school. The club holds its concerts at the school auditorium. Mr. Mather's comment was occasioned when a financial report from the glee club was read, showing a budget for the past year of over $1400.

versely by the apparent breakdown of our economic system, but who prefer to hope for a return to general prosperity without a surrender to bureaucracy. Personally, we believe voters have a difficult choice to make. In our opinion there will have to be planned economy if the future stability of this country is to be assured. Whether this planning can better be done by a man of Mr. Roosevelt's type and personality, or by a man of Mr. Landon's type and personality is for the citizens of this country to decide. GOD knows they have received enough advice the past few months from experts and make-believe experts. We are not presumptuous enough to attempt to add to this advice. Incidentally, we believe Mr. Roosevelt will win.

elects as follows: Ernest V. Alley, Donald Angier, Mrs. George M. Angier, Mrs. George M. Angier, Charles R. Cabot, Hon. Edwin O. Childs, Mrs. James Dunlop, Charles B. Floyd, George S. Fuller, Mrs. E. Arthur Hancock, Mrs. Tyler L. Holmes, Joseph B. Jamieson, Jr., Dr. Egon E. Kattwinkel, Henry H. Kendall, Miss Rose Loring, Mrs. Louis H. Marshall, Mrs. Robert W. Moore, Jr., Mrs. Marcus Morton, George L. Parker, Mrs. Henry T. Patch, Mrs. F. Lincoln Peirce, Mrs. Edward W. Fride, Mrs. George W. Rechel, William H. Rice, Charles E. Riley, Leon H. Rogers, Miss Calista Roy, Miss Ethel W. Sabin, Mrs. Fred S. Sawyer, Rev. John A. Sheridan, Miss Dorothy L. Simpson, Mrs. George W. Souther, Mrs. Vernon B. Swett and Mrs. Charles J. A. Wilson.

The executive committee for the coming year will be: Donald Angier, Mrs. George M. Angier, Charles R. Cabot, Mrs. James Dunlop, George S. Fuller, Joseph B. Jamieson, Jr., Mrs. Henry T. Patch, William H. Rice, and Mrs. Vernon B. Swett.

Chairmen of committees were announced as follows: Nominating, Mrs. James Dunlop; Braille, Mrs. George W. Rechel; Emergency, Charles B. Floyd; First Aid and Home Hygiene and Care of the Sick, Mrs. Charles J. A. Wilson; Home Service, William H. Rice; Junior Red Cross, Miss Calista Roy; Life Saving, Charles R. Cabot; Motor Corps, Mrs. Joel M. Barnes; Production, Mrs. Tyler L. Holmes; Publicity, Ernest V. Alley; Roll Call, Mrs. Henry T. Patch; To Fill Vacancies, Mrs. James Dunlop.

The report by Mr. Angier of his ten years of service as chairman of the Chapter was received with great interest, in that it reviewed the activities of the organization during the past decade and made clear its purpose and meaning to the city. The report also told of the formation of seven new activities in the past ten years and of their growth to a position of great importance in the work. These newer activities included the volunteer motor corps, the transcribing of Braille printing, life-saving, nutrition, home hygiene and care of the sick, first aid, and the work of "Gray Ladies." The older activities of the chapter are home service, disaster relief, roll-call, Junior Red Cross, production of garments and emergency work.

In explaining the home service work Mr. Angier stated that during the past year 307 Newton families applied for relief under this branch of service. The details of this work are always dramatic and case records give a true picture of local post-war conditions among ex-service men and their dependents. During the past ten years there have been eight major disasters such as the Mississippi flood, Florida hurricane, etc., for which appeals were made for aid from local contributors. Newton's share of relief in this manner has totalled some $63,000 which Mr. Angier characterized as a tribute to the generosity of the people of Newton.

During the World War the local chapter numbered about 17,000 members.

Three other boxes were pulled at 11:54, 12:07 and 12:40. Had any real fires occurred during the hour, heavy property loss and possibly loss of lives would have occurred.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Everlasting Punishment" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, November 1.

The Golden Text is: "Abhor that which is evil; cleave to that which is good" (Romans 12:9).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Submit yourselves therefore to God. Resist the devil, and he will flee from you. Draw nigh to God, and he will draw nigh to you. Cleanse your hands, ye sinners; and purify your hearts, ye double minded. . . . Humble yourselves in the sight of the Lord, and he shall lift you up" (James 4:7, 8, 10).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Resist evil—error of every sort—and it will flee from you. Error is opposed to Life. We can, and ultimately shall, so rise as to avail ourselves in every direction of the supremacy of Truth over error, Life over death, and good over evil, and this growth will go on until we arrive at the fulness of God's idea, and no more fear that we shall be sick and die" (p. 406).

Nearly 60 per cent of the national debt of $34,500,000,000 is owed to the banks of the nation. According to Senator Glass, a drop of ten per cent in the price of government bonds would put 90 per cent of the banks out of business. He says the New Deal forces the banks to buy.

Form Oil Cooperative For Collective Buying

Consumer co-operation is a very old idea but until about a hundred years ago met with little permanent success. In 1844 a few poor weavers evolved a new set of co-operative principles and founded the Rochdale organization which has grown to be the largest commercial institution in England. From England the movement has spread to forty-two countries with Sweden, Denmark and Holland most notably successful. The principles are briefly as follows: capital is paid back interest only and does not share in the savings effected by collective buying; merchandise and services are supplied to members and the general public at market prices; all sales are for cash; each member has one vote only in the affairs of the Association and no proxy voting is permitted thus preventing control by a clique; all savings belong to members and are distributed by vote, to members in proportion to goods purchased by each; the affairs of the Association are managed in the most democratic fashion possible.

Such an Association is the Oil Co-operative recently started to furnish oil to its members in Wellesley, Newton, Waltham, Needham, Weston, Lexington, Watertown and surrounding territory. The Association will be incorporated with 1,000 shares of common stock of a par value of ten dollars per share. Interest at a rate not to exceed 5 percent will be paid. No person may own more than fifty shares. A contract has been made with a leading fuel company to serve the members with standard brands of fuel oil. The Association incurs no liabilities as its officers receive no compensation and the oil company makes its own deliveries and collects its own bills charged at the market price. Periodically the oil company pays the Association a sales commission. The fund thus accumulated belongs to the members and quarterly is distributed to members in proportion to the amount of oil used by each with a certain percent of the savings set aside by law for the creation of a reserve fund.

As an example of the possibilities of successful co-operatives that of Maynard, Mass., is cited. Twenty-seven years ago the movement was started there on an initial capital investment of $4000. Now it has the largest and best stores in the neighborhood with bakery, coal yard, filling stations, fuel oil service, milk supply, etc., with net assets of $125,000. Meantime it has distributed to its members $220,000 making a net savings of $341,000 on the initial investment of $4000. The possibilities of growth in the oil business are considered large with approximately 15,000 oil burners in the territory using more than two million dollars worth of oil each year.

The Association is open to any person using fuel oil in power burners provided that person is not now under contract for supply of oil for the year. Further information may be obtained from Ralph E. Keyes, treasurer, Auburndale, Tel. W. N. 2794, or from J. Parker B. Fiske, secretary-manager, of Auburndale. Tel. W. N. 1315.

Senior Honored by Humane Society

Eugene C. Phillips, a senior at the Newton High School, was recently awarded a medal by the Massachusetts Humane Society for bravery in saving life. An account of his actions appeared in the Boston papers during the past summer. On July 13, 1936, Eugene rescued a drowning woman from a lake in the vicinity of Brookfield, Massachusetts. At the time, he was standing on a raft when his attention was directed to the struggling swimmer who had become entangled with an anchor rope. Eugene immediately dove into the water and finally succeeded in rescuing her.

Each class in the school set a stated quota as a goal; and upon payment of a small donation to assist in the splendid humanitarian work of the Red Cross, each pupil was given his or her button. The interest in the work of the Organization among the boys and girls has grown with resulting enthusiastic contributions.

PROF. CLARENCE G. HAMILTON said: "Get the very best piano your means can afford. Choose one of a reliable make with a firm responsible action. Hire a competent tuner to look after it at intervals of not less than three months, whether it seems to need it or not; for the rapid deterioration which often occurs in new pianos is most frequently caused by failure to keep them properly cared for as to tuning and adjustment; while a still more fatal consequence of this neglect rests in the danger to the teacher's own nice perception of musical values and pitch, which an ill-adjusted piano is liable to imperil." J. W. Tapper, Piano Tuner, Newton Hlds. Cen. New. 1306. O23 2t

ON DISPLAY at all Buick Showrooms

FOUR WONDROUS NEW REASONS WHY:
"It's Buick again!"

SENSATIONAL is the fervor with which the American public has taken to its heart the brilliant motor cars offered by Buick this year.

Indeed, the sweeping success of the 1936 Buick program flatly challenged us and our great parent General Motors to a momentous decision.

Should we continue this amazingly popular line of cars into next year, perhaps the prudent thing to do—or should we dare broad improvement upon their spectacular excellence?

We felt there was only one right answer to that question, the bold and progressive answer—and that's why insiders now forecasting 1937 are already saying: "It's Buick again!"

That's why on top of $15,000,000 recently spent re-tooling and re-equipping Buick's great plant, we appropriated and are now spending $14,500,000 more.

That's why every car in the 1937 Buick line—the SPECIAL, the CENTURY, the ROADMASTER and the LIMITED—has more beauty for dazzling style, more power for breath-taking action, more room for full-family comfort, more down-right "road-command" for safety and pleasure. See them.

YOU'VE GOT WHAT IT TAKES!

You can afford the new Buick. It's easy to buy and thrifty to own. With all its quality, its phenomenal performance and stunning style, prices start as low as . . . and up list at Flint, Mich.

General Motors terms to suit your liking. Safety glass included. accessories extra. Prices subject to change without notice.

Fined $100 For Drunken Driving

Henry James of 6 Waverley st., Roxbury, was fined $100 in the Newton court last Friday for driving an uninsured car, and $50 for driving after his license had been revoked. Several other charges against him were placed on file. A large number of speeders were fined $5 each by Judge Allen. Newton residents included among them were Kurt Thoma, 242 Fuller st., West Newton; Phillip Scully, Jr., Oakleigh rd., Newton; Arthur Kaufman, Fellsmere rd., Newton Centre. Cases of several speeders were filed. These included John V. Sykes, 37 Columbus st.; Joseph McEleney, 1555 Washington st., West Newton.

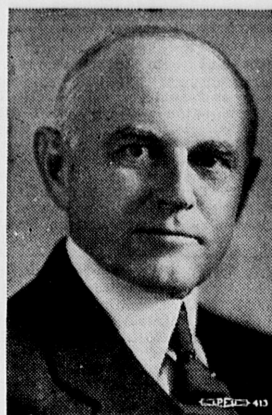

William F. Bennett, 26, of 46 Lincoln rd., Newton, was fined $100 by Judge Allen in the Newton court on Wednesday for driving a car while under the influence of liquor. As it was his second offence within six years the judge also imposed a prison sentence of three months on Bennett, and then suspended the sentence. Several weeks ago a car driven by Bennett hit a car operated by Melvin Russell of 93 Floral st., Newton Highlands. Six persons were injured in the crash, including Bennett, who had to go to the Newton Hospital for a few weeks.

Winifred B. Webster of 366 Winter st., Weston, was arraigned in the Newton court on Monday charged with driving a car while under the influence of liquor. The case was continued until Nov. 9. The other car, driven by Francis Giordano of 29 Auburndale ave., West Newton, was overturned. Giordano received an injury to his back. REPUBLICAN CANDIDATES MAKE THEIR STATEMENTS

JOHN W. HAIGIS, For Governor

"The situation at times has become so disheartening that it seemed there was no salvation from rotten politics, but to acknowledge despair and defeat would simply mean surrender to those political vultures who fatten on ignorance, indifference, apathy and gullibility. We cannot, we must not, surrender the fight for good government. It is a fight that continues forever—it is a fight that demands constant and intelligent vigilance on the part of everyone of you, because every minute of the day and night and every day of your lives government exerts a powerful influence over your existence."

LEVEKET SALTONTALL, For Lieutenant Governor

"Those of us who have been in the legislature and have seen this administration working at first hand, have seen the legislature stripped of its freedom by coercion. We have seen attempted raids made on the independence of the judiciary. We have seen the high office of governor employed not for the benefit of all the people, but for the advantage of a personal, political machine. Our entire system of American government within Massachusetts—involving the protection of our lives, our property and our livelihood—is at stake."

FREDERIC W. COOK, For Secretary

"Frederic W. Cook is one of the ablest men that ever filled his high position, and personally liked by everyone having to do with his office."—Boston Transcript.

WILLIAM E. HURLEY, For Treasurer

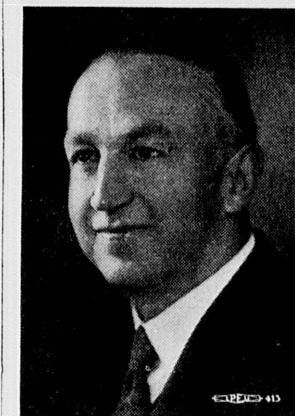

"When the New Deal came into power, a ruling was made prohibiting career men from taking examinations for the position of postmaster. Men of ability, of experience, and of integrity, who have worked for years in the postal department, and who have aspired to some day rising to the top, were stunned when this announcement was made. Faced, as they were, by this political barrier, which placed party and political spoilsmanship ahead of integrity and ability in public service, is it any wonder that the morale of the entire postal service sank to a low ebb?

HENRY CABOT LODGE, JR., For U. S. Senator

"Today, more than ever, we need strong, able and unselfish men in public office. Men chosen solely on the ground of merit and ability to serve, men who recognize the need and who will fight for good, clean, honest government. I am glad that the Republican party recognizes the fact that there is no racial barrier to public service. Unity and tolerance are the very backbone of our nation. Those two words are the cornerstone of liberty. They guarantee to us in the coming generations freedom from shackles of either physical or spiritual persecution. That is why as your United States senator I will continue to fight with every ounce of my energy that no man's race, no man's occupation, and no man's faith shall prejudice him in the slightest degree."

RUSSELL A. WOOD, For Auditor

"The importance of the minor state offices, so-called, cannot be over-estimated. They are a part of the general government and our forefathers having this in mind incorporated these offices in the constitution. To lose one of these minor state offices is to weaken the powers of a Republican governor and a Republican legislature. The office of the state auditor is tremendously important and must be filled by one believing in Republican principles. When one votes for our candidate for governor he should also vote for every Republican candidate on the state ticket, so that our next governor may be supported and backed by loyal members of his own party."

FELIX FORTE, For Attorney General

"Leaders of the Massachusetts bar have expressed their utmost confidence in my qualifications for the office of attorney general. Never in the history of the commonwealth has the need been so great for an able, honest and vigorous attorney general to stem the tide of ruthless waste and extravagance, and to provide a check upon the actions of public officials who fall in the fulfillment of their public trust."

Kennington Lodge Has Twenty-fifth Anniversary

Kennington Lodge, No. 500, Sons of St. George, celebrated its 25th anniversary on Monday evening, Oct. 26, in Forester's Hall, Newton Upper Falls. One hundred and five members of Sherwood and Kennington Lodges and guests enjoyed a turkey supper at 6:30, which was followed by a varied program.

One charter member, Mr. Sampson Shaker, Sr., of Biddeford, Me., was among those present. Life membership badges were presented to Mr. Sampson Shaker, Sr., and Mr. William Payne of Chestnut st., who is ill at a Waltham hospital. Among the guests of honor were Grand President George Symons and wife of Sherwood Lodge, Needham; Grand Secretary Willie Culp of John Bright Lodge, Cambridge; Past Grand President of Victory Lodge, and wife; Mayor Edwin O. Childs of Newton and Hon. Thomas W. White of Newton Upper Falls, a member of the lodge. Mr. White made a special trip from Springfield to present his friend Mayor Childs.

Words of greeting were extended to the invited guests of the Order which were graciously responded to by the state officers.

An orchestra furnished instrumental music during the evening. A program of tap dances and songs was given by Barbara, Ann and Jackie Condon of Newton Upper Falls.

Coolidge Corner Theatre Has Attractive Program

"Two in a Crowd" rollicking romantic drama, which will open for a week at the Coolidge Corner Theatre, Brookline on Friday, October 30th, starring Joan Bennett and Joel McCrea, reaches the height of hilarity, often carrying fun to the point of howling laughter.

The highly amusing screen story begins with the principals finding the torn halves of a thousand dollar bill. Neither of them can get anywhere with the fragment, but they can, and do, go places when they paste the sections together. The excellent supporting cast to Joan Bennett and Joel McCrea includes Henry Armetta, Alison Skipworth, Reginald Denny, Nat Pendleton, Andy Clyde and the former stage favorite of "Ah Wilderness" Elisha Cook Jr.

The co-feature is in response to nation-wide requests of screen fans who have wanted to see "Ginger" Jane Withers run wild again on the screen, so they have cast her in "Pepper", a hilarious film written especially for Jane. Irvin S. Cobb and Slim Summerville are her hilarious henchmen, with the cast also including Jean Jagger, Muriel Robert, Ivan Lebedoff, Maurice Cass and Romaine Callender.

The program also includes a new "Going Places" travelogue narrated by Lowell Thomas in addition to a very funny silly symphony color cartoon called "Elmer the Elephant" and of course there will be the latest issue of the Coolidge Corner Theatre Newsreel, showing the late news both foreign and domestic.

Rotary Club

The Newton Rotary Club had their annual meeting and luncheon with the Doctors of the Staff, Internes, Head Nurses and Supervisors of the Newton Hospital, on Monday, October 26, 1936. Miss Allen, Superintendent, welcomed the club.

Dr. Frank Clark gave a short address and introduced Mr. Cole, Chairman of the Board of Trustees of the Hospital, who gave a comprehensive and interesting account of the services and personnel of the hospital, since its beginning 50 years ago.

Newton may well be proud of their hospital and all those connected with it and the splendid services they are rendering to the community. Much credit is due President Walter Gregg and Dr. Frank Clark for arranging the meeting and an interesting program.

Lodges

On Monday, Oct. 26, 1936, Sumner P. Rebecca Lawrence Lodge No. 177 of West Newton held a public installation. Mrs. Alden Gould of Watertown was installed as Noble Grand and Mrs. Lyman Morrill of West Newton as Vice Grand. Mrs. James Keyes retired as Noble Grand.

Wellesley Youth Convicted Twice

Hobart S. Rogers, 19, of Avon rd., Wellesley was found guilty in the Newton court last Friday by Judge Allen on two charges of speeding. For the first offence he was fined $5. For the second offence, committed less than a week later, he was given the mandatory penalty of $25. Patrolman Scott told the judge that on October 3rd he stopped Rogers on Craft st., Newtonville when the Wellesley seeder was traveling 50 miles an hour. On October 9th Scott again observed Rogers going 50 miles an hour and caught him after a chase along River st. and Auburndale ave., West Newton.

Speirs Resigns As Executive Of Boy Scouts

To Become An Assistant At Bangor, Maine

W. R. Speirs, Assistant Scout Executive of the Norumbega Council of the Boy Scouts of America has resigned his position locally to accept a promotion in the Scout professional service. He is to become Assistant Scout Executive of the Watahdin Council with headquarters in Bangor, Maine, and will take over his new duties on November first. Katahdin Council is one of the largest Councils in the United States based on geographical area, as it covers more than half of the state of Maine. All of Maine north and east of Kennebec County is contained in Katahdin Council an area of approximately 32 thousand square miles. Of this large territory some 18 thousand square miles will be covered by Speirs personally. Speirs' territory will include Mount Desert Island and Bar Harbor and will extend north and east of that point to the Canadian border.

Speirs has served in Norumbega Council for the past five years and has made a host of loyal friends who regret greatly to lose him but who rejoice at this well merited promotion. The Council Executive Board in its meeting on Tuesday night passed a resolution commending in highest terms the loyal and efficient service which Speirs has rendered to Scouts of Newton and Wellesley, and as a token of their appreciation of his work presented him with a Hudson Bay blanket coat which was thought would be highly useful to him in his winter camping program in the woods of Maine. In commenting upon Speirs' departure, William V. M. Fawcett, president of Norumbega Council, says "Rod" Speirs has unusual ability in the technique and practice of Scouting. He has been an inspiration to the boys of the Council and a friend and helper to the men with whom he worked. We expect him to go far and send with him our sincere wishes and our confidence in his success."

No assistant Scout Executive has as yet been employed to take over Speirs' duties in Norumbega Council but it is expected that an announcement as to his successor will be made at an early date. It is understood that the Executive Board is considering carefully the applications of a number of men who have been declared eligible by the personnel department of the National Office of the Boy Scouts of America.

At a meeting of the Scout Executive Committee on Tuesday evening resolutions were adopted accepting Mr. Speirs' resignation with regret and with appreciation for his loyal and efficient services in Scouting and the development of Cubbing as well as a wish that he carry with him to a larger field the friendship of those with whom he has worked.

Kiwanis Club

The Newton Kiwanis Club had for its speaker Tuesday, Mr. Howard B. Davis, the well-known news commentator. Mr. Davis, an educator and traveler of wide experience, used up his allotted time all too soon as he held the undivided attention of his interested listeners.

Discussing war and its possibilities, Mr. Davis traversed the four "touch and go" spots in the world today; the Mediterranean with Italy pursuing a slow but persistent conquest of the Chinese provinces; Germany now seeking its sixth objective, more room, and Spain with its raging battle between its two distinct factions, Fascists and Communists. Mr. Davis, who served in France throughout the World War, had more than a book knowledge of his subject, and while he thought the lid could be kept clamped down for a year or two, obviously, he was not at all certain.

The main address was preceded by various reports of the club members, particular attention being given to the Kiddies Show to be held at the Paramount Theatre, Nov. 7, 1936. The tickets, already in circulation, list as one of the feature attractions, Frank Buck's picture, "Bring 'em Back Alive." This picture has been seen and enjoyed by a great many, and by a change of program its sequel will be shown, "Fang and Claw." This latter picture has the same real life interest for youngsters but the gory aspects of "Bring 'em Back Alive" have been omitted. The picture is well adapted for entertainment of children in general, and the other pictures, three or four in number, all of the light comic type, will make for a well rounded entertainment.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

NEWTON SCORES THREE TIMES TO WIN 19-0

Play Routine Game With Many Substitutes

Playing for the first time in brisk October weather, the Newton High football team ground out a routine 19-0 victory over Quincy High last Saturday at Dickinson Stadium, Newtonville. The south shore team seldom offered any real resistance to the off-tackle drives of the Newton backs, and the score might have been two touchdowns greater had Sanborn elected to play his strongest combinations throughout the game. A lively crowd of 3000 watched the game.

Bill Johnston, wearing his familiar No. 13 in the Newton backfield, was the hardest-working athlete on the field. He not only played the whole game, calling the Newton plays, but did all the kicking. In the last period, when Quincy was making way through a makeshift Newton line, Johnston showed some of the surest, hardest tackling that has been seen here this year. Guido Castoldi, well known as a baseball pitcher, showed some ball-carrying talent and Johnny Fitzgerald shaped up as a promising back, small but very willing.

Castoldi Run Sets Up Score

Newton received the opening kickoff at the west end of the field, Castoldi returning the ball fifteen yards to the 30-yard line. Johnston soon punted, Cowell making the tackle at the Quincy 30. Quincy tried a surprise kick, but Johnston returned the leather to the 50-yard line before he was stopped. Here the march for the first touchdown began. On fourth down, with two yards to make, Guido Castoldi was sent through the line, an unorthodox move, but one that made the yardage and kept the ball. A five-yard penalty gave the home eleven another first down at the Quincy 25. On the next play Castoldi rammed through the right side of the Quincy line, cut back like another Savignano, and ran to within a stride of the goal line before he was felled by Banuk, Quincy safety man. Seth Fitchett rounded the Quincy left end and drove over the line for a score. Johnston's place kick was perfect for his fifth successful try of the season.

Another touchdown came in the second quarter when Johnston returned the ball ten yards to the Newton 30. A penalty forced Newton to kick, Johnston booting a high one out to the center of the field. Banuk tried to get the ball on the dead run, fumbled, and Caruso recovered near the Quincy 40. Paul Forte, who had been conserving his speed on the bench, was sent in at this point, replacing Bud Hines. On two plays, Forte carried the Quincy ends for a net gain of twenty yards. Going almost across the field for a five-yard gain was hardly worth it, but the next play, with Forte sweeping the left end on a reverse, brought the ball right into scoring position at the 20-yard line. Three line thrusts produced another first down. With the goal to make, Forte carried twice without gain. Castoldi flipped a short, chest-high pass over the line to Seth Fitchett, and the big senior had scored another touchdown. Johnston missed the placekick. Johnston kicked to the Quincy 30-yard line on the last play of the first half, after two previous kicks had been called back by the officials.

Fumble Again Brings Score

Newton scored again in the third period when Quincy backs threw a dead-letter lateral, one with a sender but no receiver. Quincy received the kickoff at the east goal, Ed Marchant returning Guido Castoldi's short kickoff ten yards to the Quincy 35-yard line. Losing ground, Banuk kicked to Johnston at the Newton 30. After making a first down through the line, Johnston punted to Banuk, who was nailed by Cowell at the 25. Then came the free lateral, which Brad Thompson, Newton centre and co-captain, recovered on the Quincy 20. Castoldi and Johnston hammered the stubborn Blue line for a first down, nine yards from the goal, then inched out a touchdown on the fourth attempt. Johnston slithered over the top of the heap from the two-yard line for the score. Colantonio missed the try for point on an attempted placekick.

Quincy held the advantage through the last quarter, when the game opened up considerably. From near midfield, Quincy attempted a pass, the receiver fumbled the ball, and Newton recovered at the Newton 45-yard line. Johnston set back the Blue shirts with a quick kick to the Quincy 15, but was forced to drop Marchant at the Quincy 45 on the next play when that fast halfback circled the Newton left end for a thirty yard advance. Johnston intercepted a pass on the next play, running back to the visitors' 45. He dropped the ball when he was downed, and again Quincy took possession. Banuk circled the end again for fifteen yards, stopped by Johnston's head-on tackle. A pass gained the Newton 28-yard line, and Quincy's following lined the north side of the field yelling for a score. Another circuit of the much-travelled Newton left end brought another first down. Here a Quincy fumble was recovered by Bill Johnston, but Newton at once fumbled in turn, giving Quincy the ball again at the Newton seven. Interference was called on Bud Hines on a Quincy pass, putting the ball on the Newton 3-yard line, but even then the battered Blue eleven could not push across their second touchdown of the season. With Don Forte at centre, Bimbo Balkus and Gino Castoldi, sophomore tackles, in the line, Quincy was losing ground as the game ended, taking three penalties for illegal substitution in the closing plays.

One disappointment in the Quincy game was the failure of the Newton board of strategy to experiment with the aerial game. The only way to make the running attack effective against a strong club like Waltham is to shake up the defense with good passes. Probably Coach Sanborn was keeping his choicest weapons in abeyance, with Waltham in mind. Most Newtonians would rather see Newton win that game than any or all the others on the list. And then too the entire Rindge Tech squad viewed it as game.

Newton's three remaining home games ought to be straight two and three-touchdown victories. Rindge Tech, Worcester South and Brookline are all in the cellar league this season. The suburban league title will be decided tomorrow at Newtonville.

Sixteenth Annual Youth's Conference at Watertown

"Youth Answers Today's Challenge" is the subject chosen for the sixteenth annual Young People's Conference to be held this year in Watertown at St. John's Methodist Episcopal Church on Friday and Saturday, November 20 and November 21. This conference is sponsored by the Young People's Council of the Norumbega District Council of Religious Education, which is composed of youth from Newton, Belmont, Needham, Watertown, Waverley, and Waltham. Continuing the policy adopted last year, approximately fifteen other young people's organizations are being asked to co-operate in this huge conference.

Professor Edwin P. Booth of Boston University has been secured as the principal speaker. Professor Booth is an excellent speaker and is well known to the people of Newton through numerous series of lectures he has given in the past few years, particularly at Second Congregational Church in West Newton. The program committee, consisting of Richard Buckley and Una MacLellan of Waltham, and Virginia Brown, Advisor of Newton, is doing an excellent piece of work in shaping up the program. They have already secured a fine group of prominent men to lead the various discussion groups. Other committees working toward the success of this conference are as follows: Registration Committee, Robert Campbell of Watertown, Wendell Thornton, Advisor of West Newton; supper committee, Madeline Dunne of Newton, Jane Mayer of West Newton, Grace Briggs of Newton, Advisor; badges, Viola Cifaldo of Newton Highlands; promotion, Martin A. Campbell of Watertown; publicity, Alice M. MacLennan of Newton.

Jamieson Files Re-election Papers

Alderman Joseph B. Jamieson of Ward 6 filed nomination papers on Monday of this week as a candidate for re-election as Ward Alderman at the city election in December. Mr. Jamieson was elected to the Board of Aldermen last spring by the members of the Board to succeed Alderman Harold Keller, who resigned to accept a governmental position with the U. S. Navy Department. Mr. Jamieson has been active in civic affairs for some years and this week was elected chairman of the Newton Chapter of the American Red Cross after serving for some years as treasurer of that organization.

A. Osterlund, Inc. Leases Gulf Sta.

Latest developments in Newton's automobile trade is the leasing by August Osterlund, Inc., Nash dealers at Newton Centre, of the large, modern Gulf super-service station prominently located right next to the Nash Agency at 724 Beacon st.

The acquiring of these extra super-service facilities supplements and rounds out the comprehensive service which this well known organization has extended the motoring public, and especially its Newton clientele, for the past seventeen years.

It is our desire to offer the most complete maintenance possible, and all by the one management, Mr. Osterlund says. We have observed that this station right next to our own has constantly attracted a very fine clientele. These car owners must have found special satisfaction in Gulf products to prompt their steady patronage.

Through the proximity of our own service station, their entire car needs can now be most conveniently met. Furthermore this move now places the excellent facilities offered by Gulf before our own customers who hitherto have been obliged to divide their trade with resulting inconvenience. Now all is here, at the one place, and under the same management.

The station is ideally located at the "centre" with wide, sweeping drive ways making it easily accessible. It is clean, modern, one-stop service accommodations, including lubrication and wash rack, and is considered one of the largest and best equipped in the Metropolitan area. The additional feature of its now becoming a part of a well equipped shop where a large expert service organization has so long carried on, is sure to make it meet with ready favor among the motoring public.

The other four to finish were Walter MacLennan, Walker Carroll, Wilfred Pouliot, and Warren K. Lewis, Jr.

WOMEN'S CLUB ACTIVITIES

Open Meeting
Will Feature
Musical Gypsies
 The Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club will hold an Open Meeting on Monday, November 2nd, at 8 p. m., in the Club Room at the Ralph Waldo Emerson School.

 The "Musical Gypsies" will present a program of fascinating travel talks with descriptive music. Guest tickets may be obtained for 35 cents.
 Mrs. Carl Cedergren will preside as chairman of the evening.
Discussion of Current News
And Noted People
 "Close-ups of Famous People" will be given by C. William Duncan, at the Newtonville Woman's Club on Tuesday afternoon, November 3rd.
 Mr. Duncan, feature-writer and columnist, brings the nation's headlines to the audience that they may see them through his eyes. He features in his talk anecdotes of people famous in political, social, scientific, and sports life.

 Miss Harriet Parsons will speak in the interest of the Welfare Bureau, a subject which she presents with a clear understanding of people and of their needs, and explaining the art of helping. There will be a dessert coffee.

 On Thursday, November 5th, at 10:30 a. m., Mrs. Frank Mansfield Taylor will give a Current Events lecture open to all Club members. Her subscription course of "Six Thursday Morning Lectures" begins November 12th, and course tickets at $2.00 may be obtained at Club meetings or by applying to Mrs. Charles J. Trowbridge, or to other members of the International Relations committee.

 The Cook-out recently held at Blue Hill, where a group of seventeen liked and talked together, will be followed by another at Prospect Hill, Waltham, on November 18th. Mrs. Frank Wightman will arrange for transportation and will give further details.

 The American Home committee also announce that the Class in Period
 Furniture, to be conducted by Mrs.
 Margaret Cummings Mason, will have the first of its twelve lessons on Tuesday, November 17th, at 10 a. m., in the Club House. Those interested are asked to notify Mrs. Warren K.
 Brimblecom.
Bazaar Colorful and Entertaining
 The Bazaar of the Newtonville
 Woman's Club on Tuesday was well attended and offered articles attractive to all ages and tastes. The bridge table contained some imported novelties. Aprons were fitted to the buyer by accommodating salesladies who studied patiently tastes and figures.
 As usual the "white elephants" were viewed with interest and amusement, and even the small sums of money asked for them brought considerable revenue.

 Mrs. Charles H. Abrams, Jr. reassured those who regarded the future with uncertainty that skies would be fair, and that Jack would have Jill, and all would be well. Children thronged the grab-bags and found untold treasures for juvenile needs.
 Luncheon tables were well filled and some twice, the waitresses with their pretty Dutch aprons, neckerchiefs, and caps made a pleasing picture.

 The entertainment in the evening pleased a large audience. The Husbands' Quartette rendered "Autumn Sea" and "Awake, My Pretty Dreamer," by Gerrieke, and negro songs as encores. Mr. Franklin G. Field, New-tonville's favorite baritone, was warmly received. The Clarinet solos by Mr. John McCarty, accompanied by Miss Lillian West were much enjoyed. Newton's magician, C. Elliott Smith was most entertaining, and Mr. Raymond Tucker gave an amusing sfire.

 The Club expresses its gratitude to these friends who gave so generously of their services, also to the merchants and to those attending the Bazaar for their share in making the affair a success.
Local Talent Provides Entertainment
 The Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club was unable to present the Play scheduled for last Monday evening's meeting and the committee in charge substituted the following pleasurable program of local talent: Tenor solos, by Mr. John McMaisters, accompanied by Mrs. Albert Proctor, president of the Club, "Because," and "I Hear You Calling Me"; Instrumental music by the "Range Raskels," John Hagen, guitar and accordion; Edward Kermayer, guitar, and Clifton Danforth, guitar, in the selections, "Dreams" and "When It's Springtime in the Rockies"; Miss Anita Elkins, tap dance, in costume, accompanied by the "Range Raskels"; Tenor solos, by Mr. Mc-Maisters, "Waneta," and "I'll Take You Home Again, Kathleen"; Miss Elkins in a Spanish dance, in costume, accompanied by Mrs. Harold Sprague, and Selection on guitars, by Miss Ber-oler, Franzon and John Hazen, "The Little Old Church in the Valley."
 This unusual combination of musical instruments, dancing, and voice gave a delightful program, even the more enjoyed because local artists presented it with great ability.

Concert Sponsored
For Philanthropies
 On Thursday, November 5th, at 10 o'clock, the Community Service Club of West Newton will hold the first Sewing Day of the season in the Parish House of the Second Church.
 Luncheon will be served at a moderate price.

 This year Mrs. Claude U. Gilson's lectures on Current Events are included in the Club dues. Her first talk will be given in the Parish House of the Second Church at 10:30 a. m. on Friday, November 6th.

 On Monday, November 9th, at 8:30 p. m., the Club will sponsor a Concert at the Newton High School, the proceeds of which are to be applied to the Club's philanthropies. Miss Ruth Russell, Violinist, will be the soloist, and will be accompanied by Mary Humphrey Tower. The Pro Arte Symphonic Ensemble of the Boston Symphony Orchestra also will play.

 The first meeting of the Community Service Club took place on Wednesday, October 21st, at the Second Church, with a reception at 1 o'clock for the officers of the Club, headed by Mrs. George S. Fuller, president.
 At 1:30 dessert-coffee was served by Miss Elizabeth Kilburn and her committee. Beginning the business meeting, Dr. Boynton Merrill, Minister of the Second Church, welcomed the Club and asked a blessing on its activities throughout the year.

 Following the business session, Miss Dorothy Brackett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. Earle Brackett, of West Newton, entertained the audience with three dance interpretations in costume. The first was "Pasquinade," the story of a little French coquette;
 the second, "Frojeanne," a study in pure technique; and the third, Miss Brackett's own creation, portrayed a woman turning back in her thoughts to her childhood and then returning serenely to the present. Miss Brackett, who has studied with Miriam Winslow, Ted Shawn and others, delighted the audience with her grace and exquisite technique. She was accompanied by Mary Humphrey Tower.

 Mr. George W. B. Harwell then gave an informal talk, "A Layman Looks at Modern Art," illustrated by reflectoscope projections. He mentioned Whistler's "Portrait of My Mother" as one of the earliest examples of modern art, and pointed out its relation to Japanese art. He also showed the resemblance between "primitive" paintings and those made today by children. His talk was illuminating and was enthusiastically received by the audience.

State Federation
Interests
 PEACE CAMPAIGN. At the Fall Meeting of the State Federation, held recently at Amherst, Mrs. John H.
 Kimball, of Boston, the president, described the Emergency Peace Campaign, with Boston Headquarters, which has won the support of the Federation's Executive Board. This is a program for World Peace, and Mrs. Kimball told the clubwomen that the clubs of the State have supported many worthy projects through contributions and by arousing public interest, and they should be ready to back sound peace movements. She urged the affiliated women's clubs to oppose participation by the United States in any foreign war, as one of the steps in this extensive Peace Program.

 As a result of Mrs. Kimball's interest in this vast program, and aroused by the magnitude of the thought of accomplishing peace among nations, clubwomen have shown their enthusiasm by creating a Peace Fund, to be known as the Maria Kimball Peace Fund, in honor of their president, who has taken the initial steps in the clubs to forward it, and they are contributing to it as women and as clubwomen, that it may be turned over eventually to the Emergency Peace Campaign, as their share in a spiritual project for the welfare of the world and of womanhood.

 Elsewhere in its items among individual clubs on this Page will be found reports of its discussion at club meetings, and of vote taken authorizing its consideration by officials.

 CLUB INSTITUTES. An innovation this year for the State Federation is the meeting of Club Institutes in the western part of the State, for the benefit of the many loyal club-women from that section, who in the past have journeyed to Boston each month to participate in this activity.
 The value of this new venture will be determined by the number in attendance, and will be repeated if this value is proven.

 On Thursday, November 5th, Club
 Institutes will be held at the Hotel
 Kimball, Springfield, at 10:29 a. m.
 At the same time the Executive Board of the State Federation will meet.
 Chairmen of divisions and of departments will conduct their committee meetings as Round-Tables at 1:45
 p. m. All women interested are invited to participate, and guest speakers will be at many of the Round-Tables. Many who are planning to attend will motor up the previous evening. If attendance warrants, Springfield will be hostess again to another Institute later in the Club Year.
Advice on Perfect Garden
Telling Topic
 On Monday, October 19th, the Auburndale Garden Club held its first meeting of the new season at the home of its chairman, Mrs. John F.
 Brown, Jr., 360 Central street. Members, old and new, and guests, gathered to greet their new officers and to listen to Bradford Williams, Landscape Architect, discuss the subject
 "Six Tests of Garden Design."

 Mr. Williams stressed the importance of considering the views from one's windows, and also the view from garden to house when first planning the location of the garden spot. "Plan before planting," he cautioned, and he reminded his audience to consider carefully the open spaces, the enclosing features, and the objects to be used in the garden, and above all, to make it convenient. With the aid of stereoscopic views, Mr. Williams pointed out the differences between haphazardly-planned and well-planned gardens.

 Summing up, he suggested that the following six tests or questions be applied to gardens, large and small.
 First, is your garden well planned?
 Second, is it usable? Third, is your garden organized, is it built on a definite plan with major and minor axes? Fourth, does it express a definite plan? Fifth, has it interest or charm or simplicity? And finally, has your garden story? Mr. Williams remarked in his conclusion that "if these six questions could all be answered in the affirmative, then you would have the perfect garden."

Amusing Play and Lecture on Newton In Week's Events

"You and I," a comedy-drama by Philip Barry, will be presented at the Newton Centre Woman's Club House on Thursday and Friday evenings, November 5th and 6th, at 8:15 o'clock. Tickets may be secured from the Dramatic committee or at the door. The members of the Dramatic committee are Mrs. Harold R. Keller, chairman; Mrs. Edward A. Andrews, Mrs. William C. Noetzel, Mrs. W. Lloyd Allen, Mrs. George Brewer, Mrs. Harold F. Brown, Mrs. Thomas W. Cummer, Mrs. John L. Doherty, Mrs. William L. Doten, Mrs. Annie L. Eastman, Mrs. Robert F. Elder, Mrs. Douglas B. Francis, Mrs. Edmond L. Grimes, Mrs. Henry W. Hardy, Mrs. H. Nelson Hartstone, Mrs. Raymond F. McFee, Mrs. Amy S. Richards, Mrs. Harry M. Sutton, Mrs. Everett W. Varney, Mrs. Donald E. Walsh, and Mrs. George H. Waterman.

This play amuses an audience in its story of a charming young Ronney who breaks her engagement to Ricky White that he may go abroad to study architecture. Ricky's father has just given up the worries of business to carry out his lifelong ambition to paint portraits. Investments fail, so Mr. White cannot send Ricky abroad. But by improvising an attic studio, and having a most amusing household maid as a model, Mr. White produces a beautiful portrait. The happiness on the sale of the picture for four thousand dollars changes to chagrin when Mr. White discovers the purchaser is his old boss who wants the picture to advertise his soaps and creams. The boss rejoices when he learns his old partner painted the picture and he believes Mr. White did it to promote the advertising campaign of the business. The future career of Mr. White is assured, and Ricky and Ronney find their way cleared for matrimony.

The Newton Centre Woman's Club members and friends are cordially invited to hear His Honor, Mayor Edwin O. Childs lecture on Thursday morning, November 5th, at 10:15 o'clock. The subject of this lecture will be "Duties of Mayor and Aldermen." The second of these monthly lectures will be given on December 10th, with the subject "School Administration." The series will include talks on Police and Fire Departments, Public Works, Library and Recreation, and Courts and Probation. This group of community talks is open to the public without charge or tickets. The Civic and Legislative committee, Mrs. Walter Hartstone, chairman, is sponsoring this Course of "Know Your City of Newton."

The Music Study Group sponsored by the Newton Centre Woman's Club Music committee, of which Mrs. John W. Merrill is chairman, will hold its first meeting on Friday, November 6th, at 2:30 p. m. Mrs. Walter Hartstone, 959 Centre st., Newton Centre, is the hostess. The afternoon will be devoted to the study of "Edward MacDowell." May Fisk Hoffman will be the guest speaker. The musical program will be given by Mrs. Kirtley F. Mather, Pianist, and Mrs. Harold B. Whittemore, Soprano soloist. Tea will be served at the close of the afternoon.

There will be a memorial exhibit of Paintings of the late Charles E. Denison at the Newton Centre Woman's Club House from 2 to 5 o'clock November 2nd to the 13th, in the Art Room. This exhibit is open to the public, without charge.

Delightful Program Fashions and Art

On Tuesday, October 27th, the members of the Auburndale Woman's Club, with their guests, assembled to enjoy the first program of the new Club Year. Mrs. Frederick D. Goode and Mrs. Ralph E. Keyes, who were in charge of the stage decorations, used the seasonal harvest offerings to excellent advantage and Mrs. Thomas W. Ferguson had made every table resplendent with a nosegay of fall flowers. The tables which lined the Auditorium were quickly filled, and Mrs. Silvanus Smith, Hospitality chairman, with her committee, quickly and efficiently served ice cream, cake and coffee.

Following the social hour, a Fashion Show of knitted street and sport garments were displayed. Mrs. Austin C. Eaton directed the Fashion Show, which included several of her own original designs. The costumes were modeled by Mrs. E. Graham Bates, Mrs. Frederick Y. Briscoe, Mrs. George W. Armstrong, Mrs. Rose Badger, Mrs. Eleanor Clapp, Mrs. Theodore L. Fowler, Mrs. Andrew S. Laurie, Mrs. George E. Felton, Mrs. Elizabeth Coulson, Mrs. Charles J. Ward, Mrs. Fitzhugh Traylor, Mrs. Herman Goldberger, Mrs. Minard, Mrs. Ralph E. Keyes, Mrs. William P. Whalen, and Mrs. Winsor Sampson.

At 2:30 p. m., Mrs. Edward B. Gray, president, opened the business meeting. The names of many new members were announced, and the president extended a cordial greeting of welcome to them all. Mrs. Edwin H. Dryer, the Club contact member of the division of Physically Handicapped, asked all members to fill paper shopping-bags with scraps of wool, old Christmas cards, leather belts, old felt hats, corks, small jars with caps, cigar boxes, old silk stockings, etc., and to bring them to the November 10th meeting for distribution to the handicapped.

After the business meeting Mrs. Edgar C. Butz, Art chairman, introduced the feature speaker of the afternoon, Madame Suzanne Silvercruys, eminent Sculptor. Attired in a gray smock, Madame Silvercruys deftly fashioned a head of plastaline, while delivering her inspirational lecture. She made the interesting announcement that she was modelling a series of heads, in the hope to find the "typical American look," i.e., one that would show the eagerness and determination that she had noted in so many American faces. To Madame Silvercruys, America is the land of opportunity, and the land where youth has the greatest chance to climb the ladder of success to the top. Amusing incidents that occurred while she made heads of Herbert Hoover, Jack Dempsey, and Katharine Hepburn, were related while her audience was intensely absorbed in her clever manipulation of the plastaline. A keen sense of humor, together with her charming personality, made her lecture seem much too short.

Program Topic Illustrated In Song

The members and guests of the Auburndale Review Club enjoyed an unusual program at their meeting on Tuesday, October 20th. Mrs. Elbridge A. Minard's paper on "France in Ferment" showed careful preparation and was very interesting.

Mrs. Thomas E. Young's subject, "France a la Mode," she presented by inviting Mrs. Marcella Grant, of Boston, and Miss Mary Williams, of LaSelle, to sing in illustration of her topic. French songs by Massenet, Feudrain, and Manning, also a group of Folk Songs, gave much pleasure. Mrs. Albert Palmateer's paper on "Aristocrats, Burgeois, Peasants," was delightful, especially her description of the peasants on their way for the pardon of St. Ann, the patron saint of the soldiers.

Various Interesting Programs

Newton Highlands Woman's Club

At the regular meeting of the Newton Highlands Woman's Club held on Tuesday, October 20th, at 2:30 p. m., in the Congregational Parish House, it was voted to authorize the Executive Board to decide how the Club shall contribute to the Maria Kimball Peace Fund—so named for the president of the State Federation—to be donated to the Emergency Peace Campaign, Massachusetts Division. Much enthusiasm was shown in regard to this Peace Fund after a very interesting report of the description of the Peace Conference given at Amherst, October 17th, at the State Federation Fall meeting, was read by Mrs. Doris C. Wright, the local club's secretary.

"Guest Afternoon" will be observed at the regular meeting of the Club on Tuesday, November 3rd, at 2:30 p. m., in the Congregational Parish House. Each member will be entitled to bring one guest without payment of fee.

Music will be furnished by the Club Chorus, and tea will be served.

A lecture on "Habit-Training for the Pre-School Child," by Dr. Olive A. Cooper, will open the Course in Child Psychology at the Newton Highlands Workshop on Wednesday, November 4th, at 4 p. m.

Bailey's on "A Day in Florence," and Mrs. Frank F. Davidson's on "The Eternal City."

Social Science Club

The first meeting of the season for the Social Science Club will be held in the Parlors of the Channing Church on Wednesday, November 4th, at 10 a. m.

This will be a business meeting, followed by a paper on "American Cooperation in Some Social Problems Abroad; Experiences Seen in My Recent Trip Abroad," by Mrs. Alden Clark.

The hostesses will be Mrs. William R. Dewey and Mrs. Alonzo Weed.

Newton Community Club

An unusually large attendance marked the October 22nd meeting of the Newton Community Club. A short business meeting included a vote for the resuming of "Cheerio" broadcasting, and a report of the successful Card Party held at the Hollis on the 21st, the proceeds of which are to be spent to purchase knitting-yarn for articles for the disabled veterans.

This was followed by a report of the Peace Conference discussed at Amherst, by Mrs. W. O. B. Little, State chairman of the International Relations committee.

November 13th and 14th were announced as the dates on which the Rummage Sale would be held under the supervision of Mrs. Daniel M. Goodridge.

The feature of the afternoon was Dorothy Spear's vivid account of her Hollywood experiences which finally resulted in the production of her grand-opera-movie "One Night of Love."

Newton C. of C. Favors License

The two following letters explain the attitude of the Newton Chamber of Commerce on the question of license to sell alcoholic beverages in Newton.

October 26, 1936.

Rupert C. Thompson, Sec.
Newton Chamber of Commerce,
277 Washington St.,
Newton, Mass.

Dear Mr. Thompson:

The Newton Beverage Dealers' Association is anxious to obtain an expression of opinion from the Chamber of Commerce in regard to its views upon the License questions to be voted on at the next State election on November 3rd.

Will you be so kind as to write and give us your views about this vitally important business?

Yours truly,
FRED S. MOORE, President,
Newton Beverage Dealers' Assoc.

THE NEWTON CHAMBER OF COMMERCE
NEWTON, MASS.

October 28, 1936.

Mr. Fred S. Moore, President,
Newton Beverage Dealers' Association,
Newton, Mass.

Dear Mr. Moore:

Your letter of recent date asked for our attitude on the sale of Alcoholic Beverages in this city. From a business standpoint, we believe they should be sold.

Our reasons are as follows:

First: Those who desire to purchase liquor will do so whether they buy it in Newton or elsewhere.
Second: If bought elsewhere there is a considerable loss to the city through lost employment, the empty stores, and income to the city through license fees, and increased taxes.
Third: If people go outside the city to buy liquor they naturally will buy other commodities. The city is completely surrounded by good shopping centers where liquor is and will be sold.

This letter is not to be construed as a stand by this organization for or against the liquor question. It is simply a statement of what we believe to be for the best interests of our business situation.

Yours sincerely,
NEWTON CHAMBER OF COMMERCE,
Rupert C. Thompson, Secretary.

Judge Duane Continues Case For 7 Months

Hon. Patrick J. Duane, associate justice of the Waltham District Court, who occasionally sits at the Newton District Court, on last Friday, for the second time this year in the Newton court, continued a case over a long period. Judge Duane sat on the case of Richard H. Adams, 17, of 180 Norwood ave., Newtonville, who was charged with driving a car so that the lives and safety of the public were endangered. On Sept. 17, a car driven by young Adams collided at the intersection of Newtonville ave. and Eastside Parkway, Newton, with a car driven by Robert Skilton of Malden. Skilton was injured. The judge, accompanied by the defendant's counsel, Theodore Morrison; Clerk of Court Gallagher, Inspector King and Motorcycle Officer Dowling, and the complainant, went to the scene of the accident to view the site. Judge Duane announced that because of the fact that a civil suit will probably result because of the accident, he would continue the case for seven months before he would make a decision on it. On last Saturday Judge Duane found Joseph Melody of Newell rd., Auburndale, not guilty of driving an automobile while under the influence of liquor. Melody was arrested on April 1st of this year by Patrolmen Lawrence Murphy and Dwyer after the car he was driving had hit a parked car on Lexington st., Auburndale. He was tried in the Newton court on April 10th before Judge Duane and the testimony of the arresting officers was corroborated by Lt. Moan. Judge Duane then announced that he would continue the case six months for disposition. On Oct. 10th the case was again continued until Oct. 24th.

High School Faculty In Annual Play

"Queen's Husband" Is Modern Comedy

"The Queen's Husband," which the Newton High School Faculty will present as its annual play on Friday and Saturday evening, November 6 and 7, at 8:15 in the auditorium of the High School, Walnut street,

MISS LUCILLE BURNHAM

The King henceforth asserts himself as helmsman of the Ship of State. The return of the Queen cannot upset the equilibrium with which he provides for the happiness of his daughter, reconciles the discordant factions within his realm, and points out that peace and well-being are not to be achieved through strife. The play is lively, timely, and has many telling lines.

Since its first annual play, the Faculty has always welcomed the presence of a large number of citizens of Newton and neighboring towns at its dramatic performances and hopes that the play this year will especially attract their interest.
